The Canadian Champion
MILTON, April 20, 1911.

Milton's water supply has been insufficient for some years, in dry seasons, at least. With a fast increasing population and new industries which will need water, the immediate securing of an adequate supply is necessary. Citizens generally will be glad to know that the town council is about to take action. There is talk of drilling on the mountain. If enough water can be got that way so much the better. The expense will not be heavy. If drilling does not succeed, the water, and plenty of it, must be got anyway. It can be got in the Campbellville direction and conveyed beside the line of the C. P. R. to Milton without any great engineering difficulties. A second reservoir on the same level as that we have will be necessary. The Campbellville scheme would be the more expensive, but its advantages would be great—no more water famines and no more of the trouble there must be and has been here in cleaning a single reservoir.

Western Canada.

Winnipeg, April 17th, 1911.—A splendid rain, general throughout the West, wound up in a snowstorm which, driven by a strong wind, made a bad break in the spring weather that had prevailed up to the twelfth. As a matter of fact, the storm was an excellent thing for the country, but it put things under a wintry coating for the time being.

Business generally was never better. The early spring and the big rush of settlers into the West, have produced a rush of business that is a record, even for the West. Winnipeg bank clearings increased four million dollars for the week ending April 12th, over the corresponding week of last year.

3,200 settlers from the United States entered Canada at Emerson in March. They brought personal effects to the amount of $600,000 and live stock valued at $250,000, besides a large sum in cash.

The rush from Great Britain is even greater. 1,100 entered Winnipeg and the West on the 12th and 2,000 in one day on the 11th. This is a record for a single day in the history of the great rush into Western Canada, which has been going on for the past five years.

Winnipeg is making splendid industrial growth. Twelve factories are to be erected in one section of the city, nine of them being already under way. The cost of the nine is $500,000 and the other three will make up at least $250,000 more. In the section of Winnipeg there are 22 industries located.

ALBERTA.

Scooting around Edmonton as I did, but prospects are excellent. Winter wheat is in fine condition and the land is as splendid to the ploughing operations.

There were 6,725 home-land actual pre-emption entries made at the Medicine Hat land office during the fiscal year of 1910, which took up close upon 1,075,000 acres.

Calgary's clearings figure shows an increase for the week ending March 31 of nearly three million over the same week last year. Retail receipts, Calgary's great city, for the year 1910 were large.

Hornby.

The open meeting of the Sons of Temperance on the Opera House, Friday evening, the 7th, was a very decided success. The opposition did not disgust the people.

The people of the neighborhood gathered in goodly numbers to listen to what was understood to have been a debate on the proposed reciprocity treaty. Imagine their surprise and astonishment to see the meeting degenerate into a political whitewash. It was very soon evident to the audience that there was a nigger in the woodpile. A filibustering tariff politician may be able to fool all the people all the time but it does record sometimes travels in advance of him, especially if he has ever added his bluffdummy.

The editor of the Courier, Sun may be a dyed in the wool tariff bigot but his political views do not affect him and much of them is not the ex-leader mounts the platform in such a cheap trick trade up. When one wont he view one is quite content to parrot the hackneyed editorial of the Sun page.

Mr. Mackenzie may be a whirlwind among the sloughs and bluffs of his native province, he may only be a politician advance agent. He may know something about No. 1 hard wheat and the price at elevators in Minneapolis, but he didn't know how to get off at Liverpool. He may be able to spellbind a western audience but his goff here was not even flat in the pan.

The youth who adopted the chair was evidently overwhelmed with the humptious oratory of the Sun editor and the cheap argument of the western wheat growers. He sat in open mouthed astonishment and spellbound rapture, seemingly quite oblivious to the turn events had taken. Perhaps he thought it was a debate.

The open meetings of the Sons of Temperance Division have generally been highly appreciated and keenly enjoyed by the people of this community, and it is regretable that the audience on this occasion should have been doomed to disappointment. Whatever may be the political leanings of our people, we feel at least entitled to intelligently discussing a motion of approbation without the interference of a political class rant. Nor do we relish the cheap dodge of a newspaper editor to make two or three columns of pen sour copy for his paper. What ever may have been gained in a political sense by the smart Alex. who engineered the affair, one thing is certain, the people of Hornby are not in a receptive mood for a second serving.

For Aged People

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

We have a vegetable, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorders. We are so certain that it will relieve the complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer it with our personal guarantee that it shall cost the user nothing if it fails to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the bowels. They remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They are eaten like candy, may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Price 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Higginbotham Drug Co.

Peter Napolitan was killed by his wife at Sault Ste Marie with an axe while asleep. The motive was revenge.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order; that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Don't dose yourself with purgatives as so many people do in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that can do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to make new blood, which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite, and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mr. B. Martin, Deux Rivieres, Que., says: "About a year ago I was all run down. I was pale, weak, and had but little appetite. I also suffered from a severe pain in the back, and though I tried several medicines nothing helped me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these soon fully restored my health. I can strongly recommend these pills to every weak person."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Town Council.

The council met on Tuesday evening. Present, the Mayor in the chair, the Reeve and Councillors Blain, Irving, Hemstreet, Little and Griffith.

An agreement signed by the Edwards Electrical Co., Ltd., re proposed submission of a by-law in Milton to guarantee the bonds of the said company to the amount of $10,000 was submitted, approved and the Mayor and Clerk instructed to sign it.

A communication from R. E. Harrison, Treas. Public School Board, asking for $800, was read.

The Clerk reported the result of the vote on the Williams by-law.

Accounts were passed as follows:

R. White, printing	$49.00
Bell Telephone Co	.20
Northern E. Light & Mfg. Co	27.12
Canadian Oil Co.	21.38
Andrew Robinson	8.75
Chas. Ellis	8.75
S. Dice, Treasurer's bond	12.00
R. L. Harrison, public school	800.00
	$953.20

On the recommendation of the committee on water and fire the C.P.R. was granted water at 50c. per engine when there is an overflow at the reservoir.

By-law No. 141 to guarantee the bonds of the Williams Co. to the amount of $12,000 was read third time and passed.

By-law No. 142 to guarantee the bonds of the Edwards Electrical Co., Ltd., to the amount of $10,000, was read first and second times.

The council adjourned.

Grace Church.

The Easter services in Grace Church were well attended, the decorations, Easter lilies and carnations, very beautiful and the singing particularly good. The music was well chosen, and too difficult the members of the choir had prepared faithfully and been well trained by Choirmaster Wheeler. The musical service will be repeated next Sunday. The collections were large.

The annual vestry meeting took place on Monday evening. The Wardens and other reports were very satisfactory. That of the Sunday School Superintendent gave the number of children on the roll at 120. Officers were elected as follows: Rector's Warden, Dr. R. K. Anderson; People's Warden, A. Chisholm; Lay Representative to the Synod, S. Dice; Sidesmen, J. T. Hammond, L. Maude, W. J. Stoppard and C. W. Martin; Advisory Committee, S. Dice, W. Panton, Jas. Macked, Thos. Wilson and C. B. Lewis, with the Wardens; Vestry Clerk, Wm. Panton; Auditors, J. T. Hammond and Jas. Macked. The officers of last year received a vote of thanks for their good service.

Ashgrove.

April 18th, 1911.

Miss Ada and Dell Nixon entertained the choir at their new home on Thursday evening. A very pleasant and enjoyable time was spent.

Miss Estella Ruddell, of Toronto, spent the holiday under the parental roof; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Alexander and baby, of Toronto, at Mrs. Alexander's; Mr. Reed at Wm. Thompson's.

Mrs. Drake and Master Josie are visiting at her brother's in Bolton.

Miss Bessie House spent the holiday with her sister in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wrigglesworth and Miss Myrtle spent Sunday with friends in Omagh.

"Blind Pigs" at Brampton.

Brampton, April 17. License Inspector Orr thinks there are at least nine blind pigs in Brampton selling booze. He finds it impossible to get evidence to convict the keepers. During the week one house in town was searched on two occasions, but the quantity of liquor found was insufficient in itself to warrant prosecution, as there was no evidence of sale. A barrel of whiskey and six cases of whiskey were seized over a week ago. Claimants have appeared for two of the cases, and they will have to show the liquor is for their own use, but nobody has claimed the rest, which are addressed to "W. T. Jones."

MUD AND STONES

For Tax Pay—What He Said at End of Last Election

T. P. O'Connor, in his column, "The Autocrat at His Newspaper," in his own M.A.P., commented as follows at the close of the last election of 1910 in Great Britain:

As a cynic, I may congratulate all parties alike upon the result of the General Election. The men who won have, on the men who lost have gained a moral victory.

What I particularly admire is the clear expression of the will of the people at a place like Gloucester. The will of the people is represented by 2,962 and the won't of the people is represented by 2,899 votes. Thus the difference between the will and the won't was exactly 4 votes, out of 5,862. At Exeter, the will was turned into a won't on a recount!

The less said about my own contest in the Borough of Tub Thump—the better. My Election Address was a disastrous failure. Instead of saying what I thought about the House of Lords, I said what I thought about the electors, and they took their revenge. Tub Thump is a Cathedral City and all my clothes are covered with mud and small stones.

RIDING RECORDS

A Breathless Ride of Twenty Miles or More Under a Red Hot Boer Fire

A lawsuit has lately centred round a breathless ride of twenty miles or more under a hot Boer fire; but, judged merely as a record of hard riding, this has been easily outdone on many occasions. Field-Marshal Sir George White, V.C., when a major on the staff in India, covered 210 miles in two days through a wild and difficult stretch of the enemy's country, in order to join the "Gay Gordons" at Kabul, whence they were starting on that immortal march to Kandahar.

In the very early days of Natal a Mr. Richard King covered the distance from Durban to Grahamstown, 600 miles, in ten days, through a hostile and comparatively unknown country, with not a single bridge over rivers and streams. However, in traveling to precisely the same destination from Cape Town, a distance of 700 miles, Sir Harry Smith beat the above record, for he performed the journey in six days.

But to Archibald Forbes, the famous war correspondent, doubtless belongs the best riding record. To begin with, he covered a hundred miles on the day following the Russian assault on Plevna, in order to reach Bucharest and telegraph home his account of the engagement. This, however, he completely put in the shade during the Zulu War of 1879, when, after the Battle of Ulundi, he rode alone over 115 miles of trackless country swarming with Zulus, in the short space of fifteen hours, to reach a telegraph office with news of the victory for English newspaper readers. He then continued his ride to Pietermaritzburg, 170 miles farther south, which he achieved in a little over twenty-nine hours! And all this by a man suffering from a wound in his leg received during the battle!

As for records in marching on foot, there seems to be no end to them. Only a year or two ago an English regiment, the Shropshire Light Infantry, on conclusion of some arduous manoeuvres, covered a distance of fifty-five miles in two days without a single man falling out, and carrying the burden of full equipment.

Then there was the Kabul to Kandahar march of 318 miles in thirty days; and only a short time ago the 13th Battalion of the Chasseurs a pied in France marched sixty-eight kilometres—over forty English miles—in one day, though even this astonishing feat is put completely in the shade by the forced march of the famous Light Division in the Peninsula, when the troops, carrying from 50 to 60 pounds each on their shoulders, covered sixty-two miles in twenty-six hours!

NEED OF GOOD SEED

As Direct Method of Ensuring Larger Returns

The absolute necessity of good seed as the most direct method of insuring larger returns, not only in larger yields, but also in crops free from weed impurities, is being fully realized by thousands of young farmers throughout the entire West, says a Winnipeg paper. The use of impure seed, low in vitality, means nothing but ruin and disappointment to the sower. Pure seed of a pedigreed strain, on the other hand, is too expensive to buy in large quantities from the various seed firms, and the only course left open to the farmer of average means is that of growing the seed himself, or securing it from some neighbor who has grown it, and for which he will ask a good figure. A few bushels should be bought and planted on a carefully prepared piece of land free from weeds, and the crop carefully harvested and stored for next season's seed.

After obtaining successful results for a few years, many farmers even go further, and by a system of selection and elimination gradually build up a strain of the variety he is growing, which may be either a heavier yielder, more resistant to smut or frost, or stronger in the straw, and so forth. Such work, however, requires more time, and at present is mostly left to specialists or experimental farms in this Western country. There are, however, some private growers throughout the West who are interested in the work and are obtaining very satisfactory results.

A BETTER WORLD

No Poverty, He Says, a Hundred Years From Now

Mr. Edison is in favor of books made of nickel. He is also in favor of steel furniture, so the "Cosmopolitan Magazine" tells us. The reason for this change is the expensiveness of wood. Steel furniture is light, and can afterwards be stained to resemble any kind of wood. Edison also believes in building with reinforced concrete in which steel is embedded. "Reinforced concrete is not only cheaper than brick and steel, but it is fireproof," and will practically last for ever. Edison continues: "The day of the seamstress wearily sewing her seam is also ended. There is no reason why women should do what machinery can do better. There will be no poverty in the world a hundred years from now." There is no limit to the cheapness with which things can be made. The world will soon be flooded with the cheap, not the poor, product of machinery. Why should poverty continue? Poverty was for a world which only used its hands. Now that men have begun to use their brains, it is decreasing."

To revolutionize war Edison has invented a new storage battery of great power, but light enough to carry. If submarines can use them the submarine may become so formidable that it will not be worth while to build battleships."

EARLY BERRIES

A Carse of Gowrie gooseberry bush has distinguished itself by rearing a fine crop of fully-formed berries. The bush is in a sheltered situation between two brick walls.

A BUSY MORNING

It was at St. Andrews, the home of golf, where the links stretch away over the moors by the sea, and dear, quiet Aunt Mary had gone up from London to visit a golfing family of nephews and nieces. At tea the first afternoon someone managed to stop talking golf long enough to ask:—

"Well, Aunt Mary, and how did you spend the morning?"

"Oh, I enjoyed myself immensely, my dear. I went for a walk on the moor. A good many people seemed to be about, and some of them called out to me in a most eccentric manner. But I didn't take any notice of them. And oh, my dear, I found such a number of curious little round things. I brought them home to ask you what they are."

Hereupon Aunt Mary opened her work-bag and produced twenty-four golf-balls!

Local News

Dr. Jas. H. Carrique, of Toronto, was in town on Saturday.

The dates for the annual militia camps have been announced at Ottawa. The dates of the various camps in Eastern Canada are: London, June 19; Niagara, June 12 and 26; Petewawa, so far as Western Ontario is concerned, June 5, 8, 12, and August 7; Kingston, June 12; Petewawa (Eastern Ontario command,) June 5 and 12; Farnham, Que., June 12; Petewawa (Quebec command,) June 5, 8 and 12; Three Rivers, June 26; Levis, June 26; Sussex, N.B., June 27; Aldershot, N.S., June 13, August 29, and September 12.

BRAMPTON DRY.—The License Commissioners for Peel met at Brampton yesterday and renewed all hotel licenses of last year except that of the Port Credit hotel, the keeper of which was given two months to sell out. Four applications were made for licenses in Brampton. Local option was carried in that town in 1910, the by-law was quashed by the courts, but the provincial secrecary's department instructed the commissioners that under section 143A of the Liquor License Act licenses could not be issued until the expiration of the time for which the by-law was carried. No licenses will, therefore, be issued in Brampton until May 1 two years hence.

INQUEST.—Last Thursday morning Charles Jacob Pilgar, aged 14, was found dead in his bed. His father, Charles Jacob Pilger, Sen., a farmer, who lives near Palermo, applied to Dr. Mowbray for a certificate of death, for burial. As the doctor knew nothing of the circumstances, he refused the certificate and, on account of rumors in the neighborhood, an inquest was held by Dr. Mowbray, who is a coroner. After the jury had viewed the body an adjournment was made until last Tuesday evening, so that a postmortem examination might be made. On Tuesday evening the boy's mother said that he was born in Parry Sound District, where the family lived until they removed to Palermo, a few years ago, that when he was about two years of age he took infantile paralysis, which left him helpless, unable to walk or to raise his hands above his head. He was subject to fits. He had seemed as well as usual on Tuesday and Wednesday, but witness found early on Thursday morning that he was dead. A younger brother, two years of age, was crippled in the same way. Drs. Orr, of Hamilton, and Fisher, of Oakville, who made the postmortem, said the boy had died from suffocation, probably in a fit. They found an accumulation in the bowels, which caused obstruction and fluid from the stomach had been forced upwards. The jury brought in a verdict that death was caused by stoppage of the bowels, not by wilful neglect on the part of the parents. They recommended that the Crown Attorney "take such steps necessary to place the present youngest child, now invalided, under proper care and attention" and that the Health Department "investigate the unsanitary condition of the home of these children."

OBITUARY.

MRS. HANNAH HEMSTREET.

Hannah Hall, widow of the late Benjamin Hemstreet, died at her home in Milton on Tuesday evening, in her 93rd year. She was born in Trafalgar and married there many years ago. She and her husband lived for some years at Caledonia, returned to Trafalgar and removed to Milton about thirty years ago. Mr. Hemstreet died twenty-three years ago. The couple had no children, but Mr. Hemstreet left one son, Moses, the child of his first wife. Mrs. Hemstreet's brother, who lived with her after her husband's death, died some years ago. Mrs. Hemstreet's disposition was amiable, she was a good neighbor and she was greatly esteemed by all who knew her. She was a member of the Church of England. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 2 p. m. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

DEARER TEA

Is Likely—Rubber Monopolizing Production in Ceylon

There are distinct signs which point to a rise in the price of the beverage that cheers but does not inebriate. In the first place, the use of tea in the foreign countries is rapidly increasing, the result being a bigger demand on the resources of the tea plantations of India, Japan, China, and Java. Last year, for instance, there was altogether an increase in the shipments of tea to foreign countries of 14,000,000 pounds as compared with 1909.

On the other hand, there was a decrease in the shipments from India to the United Kingdom of over 9,000,000 pounds last year, which is partly explained by the greater demand for tea abroad, and, although Indian production has shown a good increase during the last two years, apparently it is not sufficient to meet the steadily growing demand, and one really short crop in India might make tea dear for years, so closely are supply and demand now adjusted.

Some of the Indian companies hold much spare land, and some of it is suitable for tea, but they have been and still are, deterred from extending by difficulty in getting labor. Then again, for increased production growers have mainly to rely upon good weather. There is always the risk of hailstorms and floods, blight and drought, which have to be faced. Meanwhile working expenses are likely to increase by degrees, owing to the difficulty of finding all the labor for various branches of tropical agriculture now being developed in India.

There is another reason why the supply of tea is only just enough to equal the demand. In Ceylon, for instance, only 10,000 acres have been added during the last four years, rubber having monopolized the rest. And rubber estates are competing with tea for the coolies of India, of which there is need. Moreover, the yield from existing plantations is beginning to fall, the reason of the rubber trees being planted amongst. 75,000 acres are now proved, says an expert, to be infested with the heavy shade trees amongst tea is seriously reducing the output of the land, and as time goes on a still further fall in the output of tea so shade trees will be looked for. This would mean an increase in price to the consumer.

Two Brothers Celebrate Eighty-Fifth Birthday Anniversary

The other day two brothers, Thomas and William Austwick, of Fairlie, Selby, celebrated their eighty-fifth birthday.

The brothers were born in the village three miles to the north of Selby. They are the sons of a farm laborer, and were christened at Burton, near Selby. They are the only surviving children of a family of eight children. They are still survive, the oldest being aged eighty-six and the youngest another sister of seventy.

William Austwick has been a stone dresser and has worked at Selby and the quarries. John was apprenticed to a tailor at Thorpe. He later went to Selby, where for many years he has followed his trade. He resided in one house for a century.

Both brothers have never married, have grown-up families and grown-up grandchildren, and both now enjoying the old scenes.

DICKENS AND THE GHOST

The eldest surviving son of the famous novelist, Mr. Alfred Tennyson Dickens, tells an amusing story in a lecture, "My Father's Life and Work," about life at Gad's Hill. It was a ghost which haunted a neighboring piece of waste land, on which stood a monument to a Cavalier named Sir Jeffrey Larking. As the maidservant threatened to leave, Dickens armed himself with a double-barrelled gun and two sons with bludgeons, to find it. Suddenly they saw an object and heard an alarm. Dickens cried, "Stand fast!" It proved to be an asthmatic goat.

FOR PIPE SMOKERS

M. de Watteville, of Paris, a collector of pipes, and his study of the question has enabled him to judge people by their pipes. The pipe tells us, is characteristic of the man, while the cigar and cigarette are cosmopolitan. The activity of people is proportional to the length of their pipes.

The shorter the pipe the more laborious the people, and the longer the pipe the more idle the people. The more energetic people the shorter the pipe, and inversely the more prodigal the more glutinous it is—that is the bowl of the pipe. His deduction regarding the smoking of pipes is perhaps the most assailable.

"The main point in regard to pipes is not to break them."

No one who enjoys the odor of Irish clay will dispute this.

KEEP RECORDS

Farmers Should Not Work in the Dark—Know Profits

Do you keep a record of all you do on the farm in order to get a certain crops? Do you keep a record of the value received from each? If not you are working in the dark.

The successful business man has an accurate account of all his actions, consequently he knows what are paying lines and what are not. He can then form his plans to drop the non-paying lines and improve the paying ones.

In the same way the progressive farmer knows, by keeping accurate accounts which operations to follow to make a profit, and which to avoid.

If you have not already such a system of bookkeeping on the farm, begin now!

Keep an account of each and every operation around the farm, and keep a record of results. It matters not how simple the system may be at first. You can improve it from time to time.
