BURLINGTON FAIR.—This fair will come off next Thursday, Oct. 3rd, and promises to be a splendid one if favored by good weather.

BOARD OF TRADE.—It is hoped that there will be a good turnout at tomorrow evening's meeting of the Board of Trade. Among the subjects to be discussed will be an enquiry received by Secretary Ramshaw as to what encouragement, if any, the town will give to a certain industry which proposes to locate here.

MASONIC—The furniture and equipments of St. Clair Lodge and St. Clair R. A. Chapter have been moved from the old hall this week to the new one in the Dewar Block, in which the brethren of the lodge will meet this evening for the first time. The fittings of the lodge room and ante rooms are neat and tasteful and there are new carpets, etc.

REMOVED TO TORONTO.—Dr. D. D. Wickson and his family removed on Saturday to Toronto, where the doctor will practice. He had been in Milton for about ten years and had worked up a good practice. He has been a useful member of the Methodist Church and its choir, has been prominent in musical organizations and a director of the public library. He and Mrs. Wickson will be greatly missed.

The Forty-seventh Annual Provincial Convention of the Ontario Sunday School Association will meet in Centenary Methodist Church, Hamilton, on October 21-24, 1912. This is the largest assemblage of representative religious workers that meets in the Province. The Ontario Sunday School Association includes all Protestant Sunday Schools that can be included under the term Evangelical in faith and teaching.

The farm owned by Robt. Prentice has been sold by T. G. Ramshaw & Co., Real Estate Agents. They can sell your property if you will give them a chance.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC FOR NELSON.—There will be a meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 30th, at the township hall, to discuss the proposition to secure Hydro-Electric power for the township. A representative of the Hydro-Electric Commission will be present and will speak.

Yesterday the Toronto Star warned its readers against investing in the stock of the "Noiseless Typewriter Co." Circulars from the company have been received in Milton. The best investment for Milton money is in Milton real estate and in putting up buildings to further relieve the house famine.

There will be a unique service next Sabbath morning in the Methodist Church. Mrs. (Rev.) Terry, formerly Evangelist Miss Manceville, will speak in behalf of the W. M. S. The choir will be composed of ladies. Mrs. Terry will speak again at the evening service, when the regular choir will render the music. Sabbath School at 2.30 p. m. Everybody welcome. Strangers specially invited.

MOVING PICTURES.—T. D. Hume opened his moving picture theatre yesterday evening and showed a fine lot of scenes to very large audiences. The building is neatly finished inside and out, with the regulation front, ticket office in the centre. It is seated with chairs and, as it will not be used quite continuously for moving pictures it will be available and no doubt in demand for meetings and entertainments which will not require as large an auditorium as that in the town hall.

A MUDDY STREET.—The rains have made the roadway of Main Street so muddy that its appearance is anything but creditable to the town and those who drive over it report that holes make it hard on vehicles. But though strangers may not suspect it, it is a stone road, on which an exceptional amount of broken stone has been put. Winter after winter there were many hard labor prisoners in the jail for whom there was trouble in finding work. Therefore an arrangement was made that if the town supplied stone it would be broken without charge by the prisoners. Roadmaking was not understood then as it is now, and the broken stone was dumped on the street without proper preparation and spread. It was not rolled. It sank deep into the clay mud, which worked up through it. Many loads of mud have been hauled off and taken away, but enough from heavy teams [illegible] Horse traffic is [illegible] and [illegible]

FAIR WEATHER FAIR.—During the very fine weather the whole fair week, the Milton exhibition, Wednesday, Oct. 9th, when all the advertised attractions will be carried out. This fair is always one of the best and if favored by good weather, will be better than ever this time.

The entertainment given in schoolroom of the Methodist Church Thursday evening last, by the male members of the choir, drew a good-sized audience, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. The programme was given entirely by the men, and consisted of choruses, quartettes, solos and readings. Each number on the programme was well rendered. The men also served refreshments during intermission. Geo. Andrew made a good chairman.

KNOX CHURCH—Dr. M. P. Talling, Toronto, will preach at both services. Morning subject, "The Deity in Man." Anthem, "To Thee Great Lord," (Rossini). Evening subject, "The Devil in Man." Anthem, "I am Alpha and Omega." (Stainer).—Children's Day Service will be observed in Knox Church Sunday School Room at 2.30 on Sunday afternoon. In addition to the order of service issued by the General Assembly there will be special music, vocal and instrumental. The orchestra will be present.

GOOD ROADS BONDS.—The solicitors of brokers buying municipal debentures always require a good deal of information before they give opinions on the legality of the by-laws on which the issues are made. The by-laws and their registration, too, have to be advertised. All this, for unavoidable reasons, took up more time than usual in the case of By-law No. 363 of the county of Halton, providing for the issue of debentures to the amount of $180,000 for good roads, but all is complete and no doubt the debentures will be signed and the money paid over within a few days.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Saturday morning Miss Kate Kelly left her home on Oak Street to walk to that of Mr. Norris, on Mill Street. She seemed to be quite well and had not complained of illness of any kind. When on Mill Street she staggered from the sidewalk and fell on G. A. Hemstreet's lawn. When she was lifted up within a few minutes, she was dead. The cause of death was heart disease. Miss Kelly was about 70 years of age and had lived in or near Milton all her life. Latterly she had lived on Oak Street with her sister, Miss Ann. The funeral took place on Monday to the Roman Catholic Cemetery on the 9th Concession, Trafalgar.

THE FAIR POSTPONED.—The Halton Agricultural Society had to postpone the second day of its fair last year. This year, on account of the continuous rain on Tuesday, with no immediate prospect of clear weather, the whole show is put off, with all connected with it. The new dates are Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 7th and 8th. To ensure a large attendance a splendid extra attraction has been engaged, the celebrated Kiltie Band, of Galt. This band is one of the finest musical organizations and its members, clothed in "the garb of Old Gael," look as well as they play. The program of speeding contests, etc., will be carried out in its entirety. So will the concert advertised for the evening of the second day. Reduced rates on C.P.R. and G.T.R. Remember the dates, Oct. 7th and 8th.

AGAIN REMANDED—The man McCray, who pleaded guilty to the charge of entering and robbing Wm. Stoutt's house in Trafalgar, as reported last week, appeared before Judge Gorham on Friday, after a remand for a week, while the Crown Attorney made enquiries as to whether the man had any criminal record at Montreal, which he said was his home. He gave a street address, but the Montreal police said there was no such number on the street named as that he gave. McCray then said that the Crown Attorney had made a mistake about the number and gave a new one, but the answer from Montreal was the same as before. As this looked suspicious, and as though McCray had a reason for concealing his former place of residence, he was again remanded, till next Saturday, for further inquiries.

COMING TO MILTON.

The Methodist Church choir has completed arrangements with the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, of Chicago, to bring to this town the world famous trumpet quartette called the Aida Quartette, of New York City. This company has appeared with such artists as Schumann-Heinck and other grand opera stars. They also have a quartette of trumpet, violin, cello and piano, and they solo on these instruments. Miss Edna White is the greatest trumpet soloist in the world.

C. Pol Plancon, the famous Boston baritone, will also appear on the programme, and his great dramatic voice will be a rare treat.

Miss Marietta Ladell, the Toronto entertainer, will look after the humorous end of the programme as everyone knows she can.

The Redpath Bureau guarantees this to be the greatest musical entertainment ever brought to Milton and asks the citizens to patronize at home what they would pay three times as much for in large cities.

The seats will be only 35c. Come early as there is no doubt by the way everyone is talking of this event that the church will be crowded to the doors.

Don't forget the date, MONDAY, OCT. 7th, 8 p.m., in Methodist Church.
