Receive a Warm Hug to support Sick Kids

An idea of helping those in need has been introduced to the community in the form of a four-year-old girl.

Rylee Baird decided on Oct. 5 she wanted to help the kids staying in SickKids but needed some help figuring out what to do.

"Needless to say, she inspired me to get the ball rolling (as soon as possible) and execute her idea, which is where we came up with Warm Hugs for Sick Kids," Rylee's mother, Vanessa, wrote in an email. "My entire family and I have made it our mission to get her set up and we are going to work as a team and have it all planned out."

Through hard work on the Baird family's part, SickKids approved the event and will take place this weekend. Warm Hugs for Sick Kids has already raised over $1,200 and even more of that in prizes.

Starbucks Orangeville will be attending the event to hand out coffee, hot apple cider and treats with every donation that is made, big or small.

Warm Hugs for Sick Kids will take place Nov. 7 and 8 from 12:30 to 3 p.m. at 8 Morris St., Georgetown. Anyone and everyone is invited to give little Rylee a big hug to help a greater cause.

"It will be a heart warming event with the hug patrol team who volunteered to help Rylee out on her mission in honour of today's SickKids and our future SickKids," Vanessa said.

When history was made: My daughter Rylee is 4 years old and on Monday October 6th she told me that she wanted to do something nice for Sick Kids. But how could we raise money? I suggested she sell lemonade or draw pictures...she said "no mommy"...she wanted to give them hugs! Needless to say, she inspired me to get the ball rolling and execute her idea. I contacted Sick Kids for approval and they whole-heartedly supported our initiative. That is how Warm Hugs for Sick Kids was born!
