AUTO MARKERS TO BE LARGER. No delay in connection with the issuing of the new motor licenses is anticipated. Chief Clerk J. P. Bickell, of the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Ontario Department of Public Highways, has stated that they expected to be ready to start the work of issuing in full swing promptly on January first. The new license markers will carry black numerals on a white background. The plates and general design will be practically the same as this year, but the visibility of the numbers is expected to be increased by the fact that the figures will be four inches in height instead of about three inches, as on this year's markers.

FIRE.—Campbellville had a bad fire scare on Tuesday afternoon when a fire broke out about three o'clock in a combined barn, garage, woodshed and poultry house in rear of and close to C. A. Elsley's general store. One of Mr. Elsley's daughters discovered the fire and gave the alarm. The building and its contents were a total loss and for a time other buildings were in great danger, but splendid work by a bucket brigade kept the fire under control. When the alarm was given the funeral services for the late Murray Crawford were being held in St. David's Church. They were stopped for a time and there was a great rush of the men to the fire. An hour later the services were resumed and the funeral left for Evergreen Cemetery, Milton. Mr. Elsley's loss was about $1,000, insurance $100.

HIS MAJORITY AS CHIEF.—The fire brigade, including the running team and the band, had had a social time in the I.O.O.F. hall yesterday evening. Solos were sung by R. E. Gollins and Louis Chambers and the band played a very good programme. Refreshments were served. The notable event of the evening was the presentation of an exceptionally fine electric reading lamp to Mayor Earl, to mark the completion of twenty-one years of service as chief of the brigade. The presentation was made by J. F. Little, who was chairman, and who complimented and congratulated the chief. Mr. Earl made a short speech of thanks. Several other firemen spoke and the enjoyable evening ended with card playing.

FATHER AND SON DIE.—Wm. J. Bigger, aged 60, was crushed to death in a stall in a barn on the Bigger farm, Saturday, by a three-year-old Holstein bull. Mr. Bigger was affixing the chain to the bull in the stall, when it suddenly lurched forward, crushing him against the manger with fatal results. Previously the animal had been quite amenable. Several men who were in the barn rushed to the scene on hearing the commotion, but Mr. Bigger died almost immediately after the arrival of a physician, who found that deceased's ribs and collar bone had been badly smashed. His father, Michael L. Bigger, aged 96, died a few hours later, ignorant of his son's fatality. Michael Bigger was the son of a United Empire Loyalist and was born near Stoney Creek in 1825, moving to Oakville in 1844, purchasing the farm on the sixth line in Trafalgar township, where he died. Mr. Bigger was a member of Oakville town council for a time, was Deputy Reeve in 1890-91, and was for a number of years an official in the Methodist Church. He was a veteran of '66. One son, Albert, survives him. William Bigger was a bachelor, who lived and farmed with his brother, Albert. He was an active member of the Ontario Milk Producers' Association. Both father and son were well known throughout the district. A double funeral took place on Tuesday to St. Jude's Cemetery, Oakville.
