Where Braking Is An Asset.

Out in the Northern Rockies and the Coast Range, where trains are driven by the superpower of white coal, as the engine tops a divide for the long descent into the valley, the man in the cab makes a few careful adjustments of levers, and the train glides smoothly down under perfect control. The engine's motors, which drew the cars upgrade, have been transformed into generators. The force of that downward moving train is making electricity and putting it back on the power line.

On any steam railroad braking is a liability; it costs money. But on an electric road braking is an asset. So superpower makes great out of waste.

Emanuel Coulson, a life-long resident of the township of Nelson, and one of the township's best known farmers, passed away at his residence, Lowville, on Thursday morning, Feb. 7th, at the age of 72 years.

About 44 years ago he was married to Celista Sherwood, of Zimmerman, a daughter of the late Wm. Sherwood. The late Mr. Coulson was a member of Lowville Methodist Church, where for many years he held a position on the Quarterly Board, and took an active part in all its activities. Especially valuable was his work in the Sunday School. He also served as a member of Nelson township council. It was a pleasure and inspiration to those who visited Mr. Coulson during illness; never a murmur or regret, he bore his suffering with Christian fortitude. He was a good neighbor and always ready and willing to help those in trouble.

His funeral, which was largely attended, took place from his late residence Saturday afteroon. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. M. E. Conron, his pastor, and Rev. T. N. She was a woman of quiet and loving disposition, a devoted mother and sincere Christian. She was a member of St. David's Presbyterian Church, Campbellville, whose pastor, Rev. J.T. Strachan, conducted the funeral services at the home at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, 12th inst., when a large assembly of friends and neighbors gathered to pay their last respects to one who will be greatly missed in the community.

CURLING.

Twenty crack rinks played here last Monday in the annual bonspiel of the Milton Curling Club. The weather was too mild and the ice too soft for good curling after the first round. Towards the last many good players could not get their stones over the hog score. The veteran, Bill Scott, of the Toronto Lakeviews, who learned to curl in Milton, was one of the chief sufferers. He is 70 years of age. He got his stones up, but his three players, all old men, could not. The prizes were awarded on the plus system. Two Milton rinks got into the prize list. The scores:—
