SANTA IS COMING TO TOWN

Santa loved his visit to Halton Hills so much last year, he's coming back on Saturday—twice. Both the Acton and Georgetown Santa Claus Parades will be held, 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. respectively.

Acton's Santa Claus Parade is promising Movie Magic on Saturday

Enthusiastic movie-goers, this parade could be your Sunday afternoon matinee.

This Saturday, the Acton Santa Claus Parade, organized by the Acton Fire Fighters Association, will begin at its starting place at 1 p.m. on Acton Blvd.

The event, run by Diane and Bill Spielvogel for the last 30 years, has been handed to Alan Scott, chairman of the Acton Fire Fighters Association, who has been involved with the annual event for the last five years.

The parade will follow its well-known path through the town, making its way down Queen St. to Young St., Mill St. to Main St., and finally taking a trip down Knox Ave. to its conclusion at Prospect Park.

Floats will be dressed to the theme Christmas Movie Magic and will include displays from local groups and will have music from several different bands from the local high school, the Acton Citizens' Band and one band from the United States. It will then conclude with the presentation of the big man himself.

So grab some chairs, equip your kids (or yourself) with a candy-collecting bag and get in the Christmas spirit with Acton's Christmas Movie Magic.

...Georgetown parade begins at 5 p.m.

The Georgetown Lions Santa Claus Parade is taking place this Saturday, Nov. 21 at 5 p.m.

It will take its usual route from the corner of Guelph St. and Sinclair Ave. (Georgetown Market Place), down Guelph St. to Mill St., through the downtown core to Charles St. then arriving at Park Ave. and concluding at the Fairgrounds.

There are currently 65 floats confirmed for the Miracle On Guelph Street-themed parade..
