COUNTY FAIR IS MARRED BY RAIN

Dread of infantile paralysis, coupled with an 8-hour downpour of rain which began to fall shortly after one o'clock in the afternoon, was responsible for marring the final day of Halton County's Annual Fall Fair held in Milton on Saturday last. Considering these unfortunate facts the attendance was better than expected. There was keen competition in the live stock divisions, and the exhibits in the main hall were exceptionally good, especially those of the Women's Institutes, which were worthy of the highest praise given them by all who saw these splendid exhibits. The exhibits of flowers were very fine, as were also those of fruit.

DECORATED GRAVES.—On Sunday, September 26, a combined Decorarion Day and Service was held in Evergreen Cemetery conducted by Rev. Irwin. The organizations taking part were, Canadian Legion, Sons of England, Odd Fellows and Orangemen, Milton Band headed the procession. We all feel that this should be an annual event and shows that a splendid spirit of co-operation exists between the various organizations of the town. When we look back to the record of service that our departed brothers and comrades rendered while living, it is only right and just that their memory should be honored. We are duty bound to uphold the torch that our brothers left to us, to be faithful to God, King and the Country and strive to improve conditions for the less fortunate, and of the departed we can truly say : They served to death, why not we ?

"The Crown has no evidence to offer. At the time he was arrested the authorities believed themselves quite warranted in their actions, but later evidence came to light which proved Smith's innocence beyond a doubt."
