Patrons

In memory of The Rev. Robert Addison
Wilfrid and Patricia Agnes "In memory of our parents"
The Rev. T. M. Appleton "Fond summer memories"
Mary and Goring Ball for Brenda Ball Petrunick
Mary and Goring Ball for Cathy Ball Popadinac
Florence and Candace Bennett remembering the faithful service of John and Hester Stevens
Jeanne and Bill Bradford
Gary and Sarah Burroughs
In memory of Harry and Edna Burroughs
Nancy and Ian Butler
Norma Dalley "In memory of Edythe and Harold Dalley"
Keith and Jeannine Dancy
Cort and Bonnie Day
Fred and Marti Dixon
Tony Doyle "Remembering loved ones"
Joan Draper Bookseller
Mary Drope "In memory of Kathleen Isobel Gooderham Drope"
Dorothy M. B.Fenton "In memory of loved ones"
Joanne and Bill Forsyth
In memory of John Richard Gardner
Lawrence Gauld and family
For Bayanne Leacock Herrick (Mrs.J.N.Hauhart)
Neil and Jennifer Hockley
Robert W. Howarth
Dorothy Eugenia (Sawicki) Korchok
Beverly Lees and Dorothy Lees
William and Ann Lindsay
Barbara and Don MacDonald and Family, parishioners of St. Mark's
Judith MacLachlan
Allan and Betty Magnacca
Howard and Elsie Martin "A wonderful way to remember our heritage"
Dr. Richard Merritt
Joy Nelles
In memory of Dr. Bruce and Betty Rigg
Joy M. Rogers
For The Right Reverend D. Ralph Spence, Bishop of Niagara
Peter and Marian Salter
Campbell Scott
Jean and Les Taylor
Ted and Patricia Turner "Remembering loved ones"
Peggy Walker
In loving memory of Rita and Bob Welch
Charles and Jill Williams "In memory of family and friends"
Harvey and Vicky Wright "In memory of Margaret Fry"

Acknowledgements

The headstones in the cemetery of St.Mark's Anglican Church reflect the history of the Parish, as well as the early development of the Province of Ontario. The present work is an outgrowth of research for a previous volume, Stones, Saints and Sinners, by the same authors, about the cemeteries of Niagara on the Lake. That research coupled with the sorting through of documents found in St.Mark's Archives inspired further investigation

This book has involved the work of many people. Fred Habermehl did the initial writing. In collaboration with Donald Combe many additions and deletions were made as information was gathered. Betty Magnacca and Ann Lindsay encouraged the concept, supported the project over several years, read the first drafts and made many recommendations. The manuscript was edited by Nancy Butler, historian, author and past president of the Niagara Historical Society. Her involvement has been invaluable. She paid close attention to details, and proposed changes that have made the text more readable.

We are indebted to Joy Ormsby, official historian of Niagara on the Lake, the Right Reverend D. Ralph Spence, Bishop of Niagara, the Honourable Robert Welch, Chancellor Emeritus of the Diocese of Niagara, and the Rev. Dr. Robert Wright, Rector of the Parish for their reading of the manuscript and the suggestions that they offered.

Frank Wieler undertook the time consuming task of formatting the text. His computer skills and his willingness to give the time required to enhance the quality of the pictures and to design the layout and cover made this publication possible.

The generosity of many librarians made our work easier, but Dorothy Kealey, archivist for the Anglican Church of Canada, went out of her way to direct us to relevant materials that we might never have discovered. James Sweeny, Quebec Diocesan Archivist at Bishop's University provided information from early records of the Bishops of Quebec. The transcriptions of the headstones in St. Mark's cemetery published by the Niagara branch of the Ontario Genealgical Society were invaluable. We also thank Bill Severin of the Niagara Historical Museum for assistance in locating information concerning the early years of St. Mark's Church. Sandra Woodruff, Blanche Quinn and Helen Steele were among those who made their collections available to us.

Keith Dancy, Alan Magnacca, Bill Lindsay and Gary Burroughs were responsible for planning the financing and marketing of the publication.

It is through the encouragement and support of the Rector, members of the Corporation and residents of Niagara on the Lake that this book is now presented to the reader.