The following lines enscribed on a fine Monument erected in the town of Newcastelton (on the borders of Scotland) to the Memory of the border poet Dr Armstrong.

Proud of the muse
Which gave to classic fame
Our Vale and Streams to Song before unknown

We raise this stone to bear thy deathless name
And tell the world that Armstrong was our own