CANADIAN GOSSIP.

Hamilton complains of dust.

Chatham has had a freshet.

Stratford says the hotel business in that town is most remunerative.

Toronto has recovered from its civic holiday.

The city schools of London, Ont., have re-opened.

Laborers' strikes afflict St. John, N. B.

The latest from St. Kitt's—a moonlight promenade.

The St. John's Church, Peterboro, is at last free from debt.

The London Free Press and Advertiser are exchanging irony.

The Canada Temperance Union meets in Montreal on the 6th September.

The Beaverton Expositor has a correspondent named Mooselhiemaguntlcook.

St. Catherine's papers manufacture bogus war news.

Garafaxa has more wolves than any township in Canada.

St. Catherines calls other places of the same size "country places." Nothing like impudence, is there?

A Montreal merchant has had his pocket picked by a disreputable character.

London the little is to have a civic holiday on the 20th inst.

A postmaster is wanted for Sarnia.

Montreal exclaims against its bad sidewalks. We can sympathise.

The United States Harvard boat crew have been in Montreal.

London the little has a woman who smashes windows as a consolation for overwhelming grief.

Now has Kingston two marine accidents to boast of.

Kingston is annoyed at the Wilmore Burlesque troupe passing without giving a performance.

Several of our contemporaries are agitating the question, "Where will the cataract of Niagara be in five thousand years?"

Hamilton boasts that the root crop in its neighborhood will be very heavy.

An angler lately caught forty eight bass and eight pike, in Hamilton Bay.

All is peace and quietness in Quebec.

Montreal has an advertising medium in the shape of an Indian in full dress.

Brockville is going to try concrete pavements.

A new photographic establishment is an excitement in Watertown, Ont.

Peterboro lately sent to Montreal for a brass founder to consult about waterworks.

The Dundas Banner says certain Hamilton papers have been doing lofty tumbling.

A councillor of Dundas is under arrest for stealing a by-law which had been adopted against his wishes.

It is expected that next week there will be over one thousand visitors and excursionists in Orilila.

Belleville rejoices in delightfully cool evenings and nights. Happy Belleville.

Western papers say wild plums are more than usually plentiful this year.

The deaf and dumb asylum at Belleville is rapidly approaching completion.

THE CROPS.

The following is condensed from a lengthy report in the London Evening Herald of the crops along the line of the Great Western Railway:—

SYDNEY POINT.—Crops of all kinds in this district never looked better.

GRIMSBY.—Fall wheat thin and short, and not much sown. Spring wheat is a good crop.

BEACHVILLE.—Fall wheat rather poor—average yield will be about fifteen bushels per acre. Spring wheat is generally good.

JORDAN.—Fall wheat will hardly be more than half a crop. Spring wheat looks well and will be up to the average.

DORCHESTER.—Fall wheat very light, and will not likely yield more than eight or ten bushels per acre. Spring wheat is very good.

WINDSOR.—In this neighborhood a fair quantity of wheat has been sown, and the yield is estimated at twenty-one bushels to the acre.

PARIS—Fall wheat will hardly be an average crop, and is somewhat rusted. Spring wheat will give a good average crop.

BOTHWELL.—There is much less fall wheat sown than in former years, but the yield will be fair—say from twenty-five to thirty bushels an acre. A large quantity of spring was sown, and the crop promises well.

CHATHAM.—Wheat, oats and barley about Chatham promise more than an average crop, but the recent rains will cause great loss in harvesting, the grain being levelled with the ground.

WOODSTOCK.—Fall wheat was not much sown and is very poor. Spring wheat gives promise of a fair crop. Barley good in high land, but poor in low land—average crop twenty-five bushels per acre.

ST. CATHARINES.—Fall wheat is pretty good, but the yield will not be above twelve to fifteen bushels to the acre. Spring wheat was largely sown, and will average from eighteen to twenty bushels per acre. Oats are a very good crop. Barley was somewhat injured, and will only yield about twenty bushels to the acre. Hay is very light.

LONDON.—The fall wheat was extensively injured during the winter, and was ploughed up considerably, and the crop will be light. A much larger quantity than usual of spring wheat was sown, and there will be a good crop. Oats were planted extensively, and promise to be above the general yield.

INGERSOLL.—The crops in this neighborhood never looked better excepting fall wheat, which was largely ploughed up, as it was injured during the winter. The estimated average yield will be—Spring wheat, twenty bushels, peas, twenty-three bushels, barley, twenty-seven bushels, and oats, thirty-eight bushels per acre.

M. Littre, the French academician, well-known as one of the leading followers of Comte, in spite of his very advanced years, takes great interest in current events in France. In a private letter to a friend in New York he writes of being sorely vexed about this "abominable war."

Marriage in the Mammoth Cave.

The great hymenial celebration which converted Miss Butler into Mrs. Geo. Ames, has been quite thrown into the shade by a wedding which was celebrated in the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, a few days since. The happy couple were Miss Lena Orenduff of Breckenridge, and Mr. Charles E. Calvert, of Louisville. All the ladies of the party were in Cave costume, viz.: short skirt and Turkish trowsers. The altar was magnificent, being composed of a number of stalactites and stalagmites, placed in a room 80 feet square and 15 feet high. One hundred uninvited loafers attended. The twain were made one after being reminded by the parson that "though in the caverns of the earth, they were still in the sight of Almighty God." Pretty soon anything like a bridal novelty will be out of the question. Couples have been married in balloons, upon the tops of mountains, in carriages, and in caverns—but no knot, to the best of our knowledge, has ever been tied upon a tight rope stretched across Niagara. Here is a change for any brace intending holy matrimony to distinguish themselves. Bride and groom, bridesmaids and groomsmen, as well as the clergyman officiating, would be forced to practice for a year or so before the auspicious day, and so would the waiters entrusted with the delicate task of serving a banquet on a string—but what fame, honor, and glory, would be won by all concerned in such a novelty! And if the blushing bride should fall off and be drowned, what an escape for the groom, and what a thrilling item for the newspapers.—N. Y. Tribune.
