Yesterday's Despatches.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Empress Eugenie gave a reception on New Year's day to the French exiles. Among the guests were the Duke de Persigny, the Marquis de La Valette, M. Rouher and many other distinguished men of the Empire.

The steamer Virginia, sometime overdue from New York, has been signalled off the Irish coast.

DARMSTADT, Jan. 2.—Prince Louis of Hesse telegraphs to the Government here that two regiments of Prussians with a battery fought on Saturday with a superior force of the enemy south east of Orleans. The Germans lost 50 men.

The World's special, dated January 2nd says that the constituents of Gladstone have signed a petition asking him to resign, because his policy has reduced them to pauperism.

The Government at Bordeaux has designated Jules Favre to represent France at the Conference.

Right Hon. Mr. Cardwell, Minister of War, in a speech at Oxford to-day eulogised Mr. Bright for his services to his country. He refuted the reports of the inefficiency of the army, and contrasted the armaments of England, Prussia and the United States. The British Government, he declared, was going to transmit to its successors an inheritance, and to uphold the honor of England and the Queen.

London, January 2.—The address to Gladstone gives as reasons why he should resign, the destruction of trade through a parsimonious economy; the silence in the dockyards, a fact of which Russia seems to be cognizant; the suicidal apathy amidst the terrible complications of European questions, and the aggression of Prussia.

The Herald's special from Berlin says, it has been determined at Versailles to continue the bombardment until peace has been declared or Paris capitulated.

Rome has been visited by the severest flood known here since 1530, causing an immense loss of property. The rain lasted 48 hours, and the lower city is entirely submerged, and the Florence Railway is interrupted.

Gen. Sheridan had a grand reception last night.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The "Heralds" Versailles special of the 29th inst. says every thing is ready for the bombardment in the most terrific style simultaneously in circle around Paris from the following points: Garches, opposite Valerien; Colombus, opposite Genevilliers; the heights above St. Denis and Argenteuil. The shorter range is from Meudon and Clamant, opposite Mont Rouge. No officers except attaches of headquarters are visible. They are all gone to the front.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—The steamer Cambria from Liverpool has arrived.

MADRID, Jan. 2.—The death of Gen. Prim has intensified the excitement in this city. Inflammation was caused from his wounds, and amputation of the arm was found necessary, though it did not save his life. He retained consciousness to the last, and when made aware of the rapid approach of death bade adieu to his friends, and it is said expressed much anxiety for the safety of the King. The greatest apprehension of an outbreak of the conspirators exists, but the Government is making efforts to allay the excitement.

MADRID, Dec. 31.—The Cortes has adopted a resolution in honor of the memory of Gen. Prim. It declares that the deceased deserved well of his country, and family under the protection of the nation. The Cortes also passed a vote of confidence in the Government.

BORDEAUX, Jan. 2.—Minister Gambetta, in his address yesterday at the prefecture, said the Government was bound to come to the defence of the country, but was mortal. We must not confound the Republic with persons who had been forced by events to assume power. These men when invasion had been repelled would resign and submit their actions to the judgment of the nation. The greatest liberty would be accorded to expression of opinion. All speech must be as free as thought, but language and actions hostile to the Government would be repressed with energy.

The Herald's Versailles special of the 28th ult. says: Prussian troops are daily becoming more dissatisfied that nothing is being done to hasten the seige. The Germans have got projectiles heavy enough to send clear into Paris, but too few have been employed with effect. Within the last few days all the heavy guns have been brought to a particular point to destroy one or two forts, and a tremendous effort will be made to capture them. I have told you before of the difficult nature of the country around Meudon, Clamant, Betioern Forts, Vanvas and Mont Rouge. The batteries are now really insurmountable to a force trying to get out. Valerien has been strengthened with advanced works, as well as forts Dissy, Divry and Bioutre. These forts are doing a great deal of damage, and afford full employment to the besiegers. Batteries of small guns will be brought to bear upon them. The Duke of Mecklenburg has been here, and Prince Albrecht is coming for consultation. The result of his deliberations so far appears to be that the army of Prince Frederick Charles will content itself in simply protecting the besiegers. All the troops outside the camp will remain on the defensive until reinforcements arrive. Guns and ammunition are arriving slowly notwithstanding that almost superhuman energy has been exerted.

The World's Berlin special says the Court of Berlin believes Paris will soon capitulate. There is significant interchange of courtesies continually going on between Berlin and Wilhelmsherpe. Extraordinary Result of Advertising

A gentleman residing in Portland inserted an advertisement in this paper for a few days, stating that he wanted a man to take charge of his horse. The result was instantaneous. The very first day he had applications from men enough to constitute a full regiment of cavalry. The number went on increasing in geometric ratio, till our unfortunate patron found himself receiving as large a number of letters as if he was manager of a "mammoth lottery," or the proprietor of a new kind of sarsaparilly or "hair restorer." Letters encumbered all his tables and desks, and pervaded every nook and corner of his house. The postman staggered under his unaccustomed load, and the Post-office Department was at last in a fair way to become self-sustaining. Postmaster General was in ecstasies, but our friend was in despair, and rushing into the office he implored that the notice might be discontinued. His request was promptly complied with, but the stream of applications flows steadily on. He has already had specimens of the chirography of the people of all the counties in Maine and New Hampshire, with scattering letters from the Dominion of Canada. New York and the West have some representatives, and an insinuating Cuban put in his claim. Our patron is now awaiting with the keenest apprehension the arrival of the next European steamer. He has no doubt that after the lapse of a sufficient interval he will hear from "Greenland's icy mountains" and "India's coral strand"—from Kamschatka, Ispahan, Yokohama, Quito, Abyssinia, Bankok, Timbuctoo, Skowhegan and Madawaska.—Portland Press.
