Our Country Friends.

The person who has been born and reared in the city, and has spent his life in enjoying the comforts and pleasures peculiar to it, very frequently displays a wonderful and very often almost culpable ignorance in his opinion of country life. The patrician citizen drives about through the most fashionable streets in a fashionable vehicle, his purse is deep, and of future adversity he has no care; he goes to every play and admires the most beautiful forms as well as hears and appreciates the sweetest voices; the gorgeous ball room with its dazzling splendour, its assembly of charming beauty bedecked in everything that can enhance personal charms, is ever open to him; he lives in his grand mansion and looks with just pride on the splendid city structures and their towering spires and domes, and as he lies on his velvet couch he wonders how the "wretched" farmer who lives in an isolated cabin in the bleak hill, or in the lonely cheerless vale with work and drudgery ever before him, his ever recurring task keeping him toiling incessantly through the broiling summer's heat and winter's bitterest colds the year round, can at all endure this life. What a miserable life, soliloquises he, and he asks himself how can any man persevere the year round at so laborious an occupation when the reward is so inadequate or so trifling, and he actually, in a spirit of sympathising compassion, gives vent to an expression of thankfulness that the age of patriarchial existence is of the past. To such a one we would say: spare your sympathy, as he for whom you mean it needs it not, but in the very centre of your own city where everything is so grand and luxurious, you will find subjects not only for your compassion and sympathy, but for more tangible expressions of your humane disposition; but by all means do not disturb your fine feelings or heave a pitying sigh for the "poor" farmer. If you only knew it he is, notwithstanding his almost perpetual toil, infinitely happier than you. Not a trace of trouble is visible on his manly brow; peace, plenty, and contentment is his lot; his riches are in the soil which he tills, and not in banks, stock, or city houses, which are ever at the mercy of fate.

The farmer, too, can enjoy a holiday whether it be a Christmas or a New Year of which fact any person who had the pleasure to see the hardy sons and fair daughters in the Almonte district spend those two days just elapsed must be convinced. Those two days the farmers up in that section of country celebrate in a particularly enthusiastic manner. Up there the introduction and use of all the different inventions in the shape of agricultural implements has done materially reduced the labor of the farmer and at present he has many a spare day to himself, which in earlier years were indeed very few and far between. The farmer's house is now frequently commodious and handsome and invariably comfortable and however small it may be there is one apartment sufficiently spacious to accomodate the "dancing party." The farmer in that neighborhood is one of those bluff but kind men, who hide a warm and honest heart under a somewhat rough exterior, and to the shelter of his roof the friend or stranger is ever welcome, and hospitable courtesy is ever extended to the visitor.

But let us relate how they spend, or if you wish how they spent the holidays. There it is the general practice for young ladies and gentlemen to congregate at some previously appointed rendezvous, to crowd as many as possible into as few sleighs as possible—the greater the number in each sleigh the pleasanter—and to drive from thence to some hotel in the town or some house at a distance, where after a merry dance or a cheerful chat they partake of a well served supper and return home by the moonlight, enjoying themselves about as much on the way as they did in the dancing room. Sleigh driving is at all times a peculiarly pleasant and exciting amusement, but on such an occasion as this it affords increased pleasure. The sleigh dashes along with silent smoothness, the young men and ladies upon whose naturally blooming cheeks the bracing breeze has fanned an extra glow of freshness and loveliness, are tumbled into the sleighs promiscuously, songs are chanted forth on the clear atmosphere and the merry ringing laugh ever the sequence of some hearty joke makes every thing sound full of life and vivacity. Every spirit in the company is light, elastic and buoyant. On they go, the bells jingling merrily on the horses which seem to partake of the general spirit, and trot along at a lively pace over the snow clad road. There course lies through the leafless woods which look majestic under the influence of the midnight luminary, the azure sky sparkling with brilliant coruscations of stars, while ever and anon they are greeted with a rousing cheer from a passing sleigh load, among whom every heart is lithe and blithe.

To those hardy sons and fair daughters of the soil neither rough roads nor the blinding hurricane of drifting snow brings the slightest fear, and the oftener the sleigh capsizes and lands its cargo in a promiscuous heap in the snow the more is the drive enjoyed. The sleigh is soon on its runners again, and homeward bound the merry company speed.

MENTION HONORABLE GENERAL EXCELLENCY

ALKABASAR

ARRIVED AT LAST!

That it is a preparation of one of the most eminent Purveyors to the Ottoman Court.

It relieves lowness of spirits.

It renders the breath sweet and agreeable.

It stimulates the appetite if taken BEFORE meals.

It promotes digestion if taken AFTER meals.

It neutralizes the propensity for strong liquors.

It renders the intellect bright and clear.

It renders habitually it imparts vitality and energy to all the bodily organs.

By its use a man of 70 will become, as it were, restored to the elasticity of 30; and to persons of delicate constitutions it is strongly recommended.

It is an especial favourite with Oriental ladies.

SHOSHONEES REMEDY.

The following remarks on testimonials of most wonderful and extraordinary cures in Canada by the GREAT INDIAN REMEDY.

They are stern undeniable facts, sufficient to convince the most sceptical that the great medicinal compound, yearned after for ages, is now accessible in the great

SHOSHONEES REMEDY.

Where was there ever such a cure as that of Wilson Storms, of Brighton, Ont., of Consumption, or that of Peter C V Miller, of Smithville, Ont., of Consumption, or that of Ambrose Wood, of Consumption, Ont., of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, or that of John Hosey, of Nepanee, of Rheumatism, who had actually been on crutches for years, but has now recovered the use of his limbs.

Pamphlets containing unquestionable certificates on the great Shoshonees Remedy and Pills can be obtained at all drug stores

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE

PULVERMACHER'S PATENT

GALVANIC CHAIN-BANDS

BELTS, AND POCKET BATTERIES

These highly improved inventions render Electricity perfectly self-applicable, and extremely efficacious in a mild continuous form no shock or unpleasant sensation being experienced, whereby it becomes a true fountain of health and vigour, speedily soothing agonizing pains, reanimating torpid limbs, reviving the sluggish functions of life, and imparting renewed energy and vitality to constitutions enfeebled by whatever cause. Medicine and their deleterious consequences are thus entirely dispensed with. The daily increasing number of cures effected by PULVERMACHER'S MEDICO-GALVANIC SYSTEM is so extensive and varied, that it forcibly points to this invention as the embryo of a universal remedy.

N.B.—The following testimony from the elite of the English medical faculty has been received:

"We, the undersigned, have much pleasure in testifying that Mr. J. L. PULVERMACHER'S recent improvements in his Voltaic Batteries and galvanic Appliances for Medical Purposes are of great importance to Scientific Medicine, and that he is entitled to the consideration and support of every one disposed to further the advancement of real and useful progress.

"Dated the 9th day of March, 1866.
