LOCAL NEWS

There is no better Spring and Summer medicine than the Caledonia Water. No family should be without it, for where it is liberally used, no Doctor need apply.

GIBSON & Co., Agents.

Persons afflicted with Rheumatism, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Skin, Kidneys or Bladder, should send for a supply of the Caledonia Water.

GIBSON & Co.,
Corner Sparks and Elgin.

The principal Hotels and Saloons in the city are now supplied with Caledonia Spring Water. Ask for it. GIBSON & Co., Sole Agent for Ottawa.

MONEY TO LEND.—Apply to R. A. Bradley, Solicitor, &c., corner of Sparks and Elgin Streets, Ottawa.

MASONIC.—The late Rev. Mr. Bliss, will be buried with Masonic honors to-morrow. The Band of the Governor General's Foot Guards will play at the funeral. We hope there will be a large attendance.

CONTRADICTION.—It is not true that any member of the staff of a local contemporary, which tries to make itself distinguished for the discovery of "typographicals" in the TIMES, has made application for the situation of proof reader.

A NEW STEAM MILL.—We learn that Mr. Perrie Charette has determined upon building a new steam saw mill in Templeton, a short distance from Gatineau Point or Waterloo Village. This will make the fourth steam mill within the area of ten miles.

THE WEATHER.—There was an evident manifestation of hesitancy in the weather yesterday. It opened with a dull heavy fog, and after debating with itself for a long time whether it would rain or snow, it sneakingly prepared the latter. The public generally were in opposition.

THE Rev. Mr. Stephenson, it is said, will deliver his popular lecture on "Curiosity, and Curious People," to an Ottawa audience, on or about the 17th prox. The Reverend gentleman left last night for Montreal, where he will deliver a lecture.

RAPID CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP.—A brick house, one of a Terrace on Lot No. 55, north side of Gloucester street, Centre Town purchased on Thursday from Capt. W. H. Lee by Mr. Gibson, corner of Sparks and Elgin streets, was sold by that gentleman in the course of the afternoon, at a considerable advance, to Mr. F. McGillivray, of the House of Commons, the sale in each case being for cash.

CONCERT TON DE NOTRE DAME.—The pupils of the Congregation De Notre Dame performed their annual retreat during the early part of the week, terminating on Thursday morning last when they received the sacrament from the hands of His Lordship Bishop Guigues, who also administered the sacrament of confirmation to several of the pupils. His Lordship delivered a very impressive and touching address. In the afternoon the pupils assisted at the Benediction of the Sacrament. The Convent Chapel was very neatly decorated for the occasion.

POLICE COURT—FRIDAY.—F. X. Lapierre was charged with neglecting to comply with the provisions of the liquor law, regulating the sale of liquors, having sold from two bars in the same house. Mr. Gibb appeared for the defendant, and the case was dismissed.

A young man named Gallocher was summoned for assaulting a man named Cloutier, but the defendant not being present, the case was laid over until today.

Joseph Taillefer was charged with allowing his horse to remain on St. Patrick street for some time after it was dead. The horse having been removed since the issuing of the summons, the case was dismissed.

A liquor case was remanded until to-morrow.

MUSIC HALL.—The famous Agnes Wallace Comedy Company gave another very entertaining performance in the Music Hall last night. Though the Hall was comfortably filled nevertheless the audience was not as large as it would have been had the weather been more favorable. The farce "Mischief Making" was performed in a lively manner, affording ample fuel for laughter and mirth to the audience. The very interesting play of "Robin Hood" was put on the boards, and the several performers supported their respective rolls in a creditable manner. Agnes Wallace was as usual pathetic, and took the part of "Robin Hood" in a manner that could hardly be excelled. Mr. Villa by his superlative burlesque acting and ludicrous posturing frequently convulsed the audience with laughter. A grand matinee will be given at 2 p.m. to-day, and a final entertainment to-night. Go and see them.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY ANNIVERSARY.—The day is fast approaching when our "sonny freeps" will honor the festal day of the Patron Saint of Scotland. On Saturday next the usual procession will take place to church, but the Musical Festival and Fruit Soiree will not take place till Monday evening, December, 2d, the night of the anniversary being considered an unsuitable night. Every preparation is being made to make the celebration pass off well, and it only needs the enthusiasm of our Scottish citizens to crown the endeavors of the Managers with success. A Ball is a novel feature, and nothing is being left undone to give a good bill of fare in both fruit and music to the citizens of Ottawa. The Scottish entertainments are always of the highest order, and the increasing of the charitable fund of one of our oldest benevolent institutions being the object, we commend it as a laudable one, and well worthy the patronage of our citizens.

THE NEW LICENSING BILL AND THE ALLEGED INCREASE OF DRUNKENNESS.

The New Licensing Bill, with its earlier hours for closing public houses, is, remarks the Birmingham Morning News (Oct. 29), in some quarters getting the credit of increasing the number of drunkards visible in the streets, and therefore is put down as another failure of the attempts to make men sober by Act of Parliament. A friend has just elucidated the matter. The Bill is not one, nor ever was intended to be one to make men sober, but simply to send them home in good time when drunk!—Hence worthy respectable folk are meeting topers returning earlier than their wont to their homes, and hence more of them are caught making fools and beasts of themselves, to public annoyance, than used to be the case when later at night, or in early morning, they had all the streets to themselves and could corkscrew their ways without let or hindrance, or letting or hindering other people, under the calm supervision of the police, who know how and when to let "well" or "wet" alone. Some just now, doubtless, are taking it out by drinking the faster. The laws of liquids are always difficult to trace out or predict by. Ever since Galileo told the monks with comic seriousness that nature abhorred a vacuum in a pump up to thirty feet high, down to the last break in the Worcester Canal, or the next elections under publican wrath, there has been and will be trouble about hydraulics and status, whether of water pipes or human stomachs. But any party that shall reckon on gaining a temporary political success by advocating a false law touching liquids, moral or physical, is destined to speedy and sure reaction and failure.

The Manchester Guardian (Oct. 29) says a Liverpool Magistrate last week admitted that since the Licensing Act come into operation and the hours during which drink could be bought had been diminished, drunkenness had increased. The result is scarcely encouraging; but it seems to have been thought so by the Liverpool Magistrates. They are determined to kill or cure, and as early closing so far has not succeeded, they have begun to close earlier. They are not just yet prepared to send all Liverpool to bed at ten o'clock on week days, but have atoned for this unaccountable hesitation by turning off the tap-room gas on nine o'clock on Sundays. Last Sunday was the first of this novel magesterial discipline. It is true there was a riot, which, but for the accidental presence of a double relay of police, would probably have proved serious. It is true also that a very large number of those who were turned out of the public houses were already pretty drunk, and that one person in every ten took away a bottle of comfort in his coat-tail pocket. But the Liverpool Magistrates are clearly not the men to be discouraged by such things as these; and if only there is a thoroughly good riot next Sunday, as is promised, and a few more people even than usual are brought up drunkenness at the police court next day, they will doubt feel that the time has for closing on Sundays altogether.

A cautious elephant in Arkansas insisted on swimming a river instead of crossing by the bridge.

A Quincy, Ill., coroner's jury found that Mrs. Sarah Dodge, aged 80, died of "superannuation."

In all policies of life assurance, these, among a host of other questions, occur:—"Age of father, if living?" "Age of mother, if living?" A man in the country who filled up an application, made his father's age, if living, 120 years, and his mother's 102. The agent was amazed at this showing, and fancied he had got an excellent subject; but feeling somewhat dubious, remarked that the man came of a very long lived family. "Oh, you see, sir," remarked the applicant, "my parents died many years ago, but if living, would be aged as there put down." "Oh, I see," said the agent.

The Berlin correspondent of the Manchester Guardian calls attention to a fact worth bearing in mind in connection with the San Juan arbitration. According to the Deutsche Reich Correspondenz, the Emperor's award was mainly determined by the opinion of Professor Kiepert, the geographer; and Professor Kiepert, the correspondent says, had prejudged the question. "Years ago he had published numerous maps, which are now circulating by the thousands throughout Germany, in all of which he has given the entire archipelago to the United States; and to have retracted this opinion now would have been to stultify his own work." In his Atlas, published in 1863, Vancouver Island alone is represented as British territory.

The Union Pacific Railroad is having constructed at its shops in Omaha a monster snow plough, which, when completed, will be the largest in the world. The trucks were cast especially for it, and are very heavy and strong. The platform on the truck is 22 feet long and 10 feet 6 inches wide, composed of solid oak timbers 8x16 inches, held together by large iron bolts running crosswise. This solid bed is fastened to the transom beams by forty bolts, twenty over each truck. The monster will weigh fifty tons, and will be operated by three of the heaviest engines on the road. The cost will be $5,000.

ENOCH ARDEN.—Talk of your Enoch Ardens! We heard a story of a St. Roch's one, the other day, which takes the wind out of Tennyson altogether. A St. Roch's shoemaker left his home to seek his fortune in the United States, some eight years ago. His wife heard nothing of him for three years, and, believing him to be dead, yielded to the solicitations of an old sweetheart and married him. Time rolled on, and progeny rolled in. A few weeks ago Enoch Arden returned home, and went after his wife. He saw his successor, and the infants. He did not rush away to the wilderness of St. John street, to waste in the green and yellow melancholy business; not any. He went for that new husband and kicked him out, and sorted out the children and packed them after him. He then gave his wife a whaling, and has now settled down into a model head of a family.—Quebec Chronicle.

In a letter to the Boston Advertiser, the Hon. E. H. Derby estimates the area of the burnt district in Boston at less than sixty acres and deducting the open spaces at less than 2,000,000 feet occupied. He estimates the value of structures at $7.00 per foot, or $14,000,000, as a high figure; the stock on hand at the time of the fire he puts at $75,000, from which he deducts 20 per cent. for property removed, giving a loss of $60,000,000 on goods and an aggregate loss of stock and real estate of $75,000,000. In estimating the direct loss to Boston, he deducts 20 per cent. for property of non residentowners, reducing the amount to about $6,000,000. This he regards a full estimate, as the whole amount of personal property taxed in Boston this year is but $232,000,000, of which less than $45,000,000 was assessed in the burnt district. From the $60,000,000 above he deducts the insurance, of which he estimates that at least $88,000,000 will be paid, reducing the direct loss to less than $22,000,000, and allowing a large margin for indirect losses he infers that the direct and indirect losses of Boston by the fire will range from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000, or from a fifth to a fourth of that of Chicago. He says: "Boston is well able to bear such a loss. By the report of General Walker on the census of the United States, the valuation of Boston was $840,000,000; let us add to this the growth since, and the present value must reach $1,000,000,000. A loss on this of $40,000,000 would not exceed four per cent. on the capital, and

OUTRAGE.

A Whole Family Tortured by a Party of Burglars—The House Set on Fire and One of the Inmates Dreadfully Burned.

(Correspondence of the New York Herald.)

PITTSBURGH, PA., Nov. 17, 1872.

Titusville—in the oil regions—is in a state of great excitement to-day over a most daring robbery which was perpetrated there last night. While the family of John Watson, residing on the hill opposite the old Hinkly refinery, were at supper, a party of men, numbering five, entered the house, and approaching Mr. Watson, with pistols in hand and masks on their faces, demanded his money. They cautioned the family not to telling them that it was their money they wanted, and that all must submit to be bound and gagged, and that if they made the least resistance they would call in the balance of the gang, who were guarding the entrance outside. They proceeded to handcuff the family, applying leg irons to the men—John Watson and Archibald Stewart—the latter the son-in law of the former, at the same time gagging them, tying the entire family together. They ordered Watson to open his safe. The latter replied, "My money is all in Warren, deposited with my brother." They replied, "We know whom you refer to, but your money is in the house, and we must have it." Watson thereupon, with the muzzle of a huge revolver placed against his ear, opened the safe and something like two thousand dollars were abstracted. After the safe had been robbed the family and compelled to follow the thieves down in the cellar, then up through every room in the house, and at the peril of their lives information as to where valuables were kept was demanded and given. After a thorough search the family were conducted back to the dining room. Mrs. Watson, Susan Stewart and Archibald Stewart were placed on a lounge, blindfolded, ironed and gagged, and tied to the stove in such a manner that if they moved the stove would tip over upon them. The fiends then left the house, having remained about an hour and a half, while the balance—nine in all—were standing watch on the outside. In the hurry to depart the lighted lamp was upset and the house set on fire.

WERE TIED IN A LONG ROW,

The robbers then returned, and taking clothes from the wardrobes, threw them on the burning portion of the dwelling, and with the utmost difficulty succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Mr. Watson was severely burned, but the robbers made no endeavors

TO PULL HIM FROM THE FLAMES

James Stewart, a member of the family, arrived home after midnight and found the family in a very sorry plight. The irons on Watson cut him to the bone, and he was bleeding profusely. Those on the other members of the family were also very painful, and were taken off only by sawing them with a file. The thieves had handcuffs for every member of the house and their pockets filled with handkerchiefs. They also had a plentiful supply of leg irons. The police were notified, and at three o'clock this morning all the hotels in the place were searched and the town scoured, but no arrests have so far been made. The villains have so effectively done their work as to give no clue to their whereabouts. The greatest excitement exists [illegible] oil regions over this devilish [illegible] it is evident that the party [illegible] that Watson had money, [illegible] as he had neglected to deposit [illegible] the exact amount of which he [illegible] not know. None of the family were severely injured but Mr. Stewart, whose feet and hands are dreadfully burned by the upsetting of a lamp.

BELONGING TO

HON. A. MORRIS AND OTHERS.

The undersigned has received instructions to offer for sale by Public Auction at the OTTAWA HOTEL, in the Town of PEMBROKE, on FRIDAY, the 20th day of December next, at the hour of Twelve O'Clock noon, the following lands in one Block, viz:—

Lot 3 in 3 Con. Pembroke	172	acres
" 4 in 3 "	147	"
" 4 in 4 "	129	"
" 5 in 4 "	172	"
" 6 in 4 "	50	"
Lot B. (Peninsula)	157	"
Beckwith Island adjacent to Lot No. 6 in 4th Con. Pembroke	81	"
Morris Island immediately adjacent to Lot 6 in 4th	8	"
Containing about	916	acres

These lands form a peninsula lying between the Upper and Lower Allumette Lakes and afford excellent mill sites.

There is a good mill site formed by the stream between Lot 6 in 4th and the Island adjacent thereto, where a saw mill once stood.

The deepening of the natural channel on Lot 4 in the 3rd Con. between the Lakes would give extensive additional mill sites and a supply of water practically unlimited. The Bay above this called Hazely's Bay affords the best means of keeping saw logs on the Ottawa River.

Also there will be offered for sale at the same time and place,

Lot No. 4 in the 2nd Con. 200 acres.

A good hardwood Lot, (reserving a right of way) 40 feet in width from the present travelled road, passing through the Lot to Lot 4 in 3rd, and situate where there is a present winter road.

The properties will be offered for sale subject to a reserved bid.

Terms.—A deposit of $250 at time of sale, a further sum so as to amount with the depost to ¼, to be paid in one month when the deed will be given, the balance in two yearly instalments with interest secured by mortgage.

For further particulars apply to C. Gamble, Esq., Toronto; J. H. Morris, Esq., Toronto; Mr. W. H. Ravenhurst, Solicitor; or to

AMOS ROWE,
Auctioneer.
