Summary of News.

The cross-examination of Moulton in the great scandal trial yesterday elicited nothing but what is already known to all who can manage to read the nasty evidence published in some of the papers.

The House Committee of the United States Senate on appropriations yesterday agreed to insert a clause in post office appropriation bill to appropriate as heretofore five hundred thousand dollars for carrying the monthly mails between San Francisco, China and Japan.

The bill for the creation of a Senate passed its first reading in the French Assembly yesterday by a vote of 27 yeas to 188 nays. The Left and the Legitimists opposed the first reading.

There is a rumour that Mr. Layard, the British Minister, will soon be withdrawn from Madrid. It is reported that he does not conceal his Republican sympathies.

By Telegraph.

MID-NIGHT DESPATCHES.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Spanish King.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—An autograph letter from King Alfonso was delivered to Queen Victoria on Saturday, formally advising her of his accession to the throne, and assuring her of his intention to rule over Spain on constitutional principles.

A similar notification has been received by France.

French Troubles.

The Times' correspondent at Paris telegraphs, that it is considered that the Duke DeBroglie, by the part he took in Friday's debate in the Assembly, has dissipated all chances of forming a new Administration, as the vote on a motion to close the debate which was made and supported by his partisans proved there was a majority of nearly one hundred against him.

Duke DeCases recently sent a second to Mr. Dutemple to demand an explanation of certain letters charging him with violating his engagements. It is now announced that the affair has been amicably settled.

Death of the Countess of Carnarvon.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The wife of Earl Carnarvon is dead.

Severe Gale.

A terrific gale, accompanied by rain, has been raging on the British coast for two days. Innumerable casualities to sailing crafts are reported.

The Cable Steamer.

The Cable Company's steamer Faraday, instead of continuing at Wolfville, has proceeded to a Scottish port for repairs. She can hardly start again to try and pick up her cable off Newfoundland coast until the settled weather of next spring or early summer.

FRANCE.

Carlist and Alfonsist Convension.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—Information has been received from Madrid that a preliminary parley was held between the Carlists and the Alfonsists on the 23rd inst., when the basis of a convention was agreed to, the ratification of which on both sides is probable.

AUSTRIA.

A Compromise Effected.

VIENNA, Jan. 25.—The Montenegrin difficulty has been compromised. The citizens of Montenegro who are implicated in the Padgoritza massacre, are to be tried at witnesses of the evidence of the Turkish frontier town of Spoesh.

Illness of a Statesman.

Francis Deak, the Hungarian statesman, is lying hopelessly ill.

UNITED STATES.

Fire.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The ship chandlery house of Tucker, Bond & Co., Brooklyn, was destroyed last night. Loss, $50,000; insurance unknown.

Cold Weather.

The weather is cold, and the streets covered with ice, and are exceedingly dangerous. The ice in the rivers is quite heavy, causing ferry navigation to be protracted.

Death of a Judge.

Judge Maunsel D. B. Field died in this city yesterday, aged 53 years.

The Currency Bill.

Without formally approving or disapproving the recommendations made by the President in his recent message announcing his signature of the Senate caucus currency bill, the Senate Committee on Finance has concluded not to take any further action on this question this session. The trouble is that while the committee might agree upon some supplementary measure which would actually turn the face of the country toward specie payment, it would be impossible to get such a measure through either House, and its introduction would only serve in reopening the debate which occupied so much of the time of Congress last session, and with no better results. While the majority of the members of the committee are fully aware of the imperfections of the caucus bill, they will not take the responsibility of bringing the caucus question before the Senate again during the Congress.

Differences in the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The statements made that members of the Cabinet threatened to resign on account of differences on the Louisiana matter is authoritively denied. No such threat was made to the President, and there was no change in the tone or character of the message.

Fire in the Navy Department.

The Navy Department is on fire in the upper story. All the department is at work.

The fire in the navy department was completely under control by two o'clock, and all danger from spreading is over. Damage to the building is as much by water as by fire, if not greater. It is thought it originated from a defective flue, as the room in which the flames were first discovered was entirely unoccupied. Nearly all the papers were destroyed, but can be again supplied. The secretary's office proper, which is in the wing of the main building was not damaged, though every preparation was made for removing the furniture and official papers.

The Beecher Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Beecher trial recommenced this morning, when Moulton's cross examination was resumed.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—In the Senate to-day a large number of petitions were presented for the repeal of the Act of 1872, relieving certain foreign products of ten per cent duty, and against the restoration of the duty on tea and coffee. Referred to Committee on Finance. Senate Committee on Railroads met to-day, but did not, as was anticipated, act on Scott's Texas Pacific Railroad Bill. The time of the meeting was wholly occupied in hearing the argument of Kibble in advocacy of a bill to aid in the construction of a double track freight railroad from New York to Omaha. In the House a large number of bills were introduced, including two in regard to telegraph companies, and establishing rates. On the motion of Mr. Smith of Ohio, it was agreed that it should be in order to move an amendment to the Post Office Appropriation Bill, repealing the additional Pacific Mail subsidy.

Pacific Mail Scandal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.

The Ways and Means Committee met this morning. Mr. Garfield, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, appeared, and said his committee had long delayed action on the Post Office appropriation bill, waiting for the report of this committee, and they were now desirous of having the benefit of the suggestions in regard to making appropriations for the Pacific Mail S. S. service.

Irwin was then re-called, and questioned as to what services his payments were made for. Witness substantially repeated his previous description of the character of the services rendered by Moran, Sherrel and Ingham, and explained the importance of being accurately informed of the number of votes that could be relied on from time to time, so as to estimate the comparative expediency of various courses of action. Cormick bored witness to death, and was paid to keep out of his way. Gov. Randall's services were of a general character. He kept them informed of what was going on, and used his influence with personal and political friends. Witness employed J. W. Forney by peremptory order of Stockwell. He was not employed to render any particular service, and witness does not know what he did. Forney was reluctant to accept employment, and told witness he did not think he (Forney) was needed. W. B. Shaw was employed by Stockwell at the instance of Henry Clews, whom witness characterized as the most innocent and ignorant member of the Board of Directors. Amos Cowine was also employed by Stockwell. Don't know of his doing anything for his money. Ward and Berritt had accurately stated the character of their services, and witness could give Committee no further information than had heretofore been developed concerning the employment and services of Abert and Chittenden. Witness testified he had made an error regarding the amount paid by him to Whiting. Although Whiting at first asked $100,000, he afterwards compromised on $65,000. Witness by mistake drew the check for $100,000, but Whiting returned him $35,000. Witness also swore that he was now satisfied that $200 sent by him to the Washington Sunday Herald never reached it. The small sum paid the Patriot was for advertising. Neither paper was paid anything except as above stated, and the rest of the fifteen hundred dollars mentioned was paid out solely for job printing. Witness himself selected and employed Schumaker. The amount agreed upon to be paid for his services was fixed by Mr. Schumaker. It was wholly contingent on success, and did not strike witness as unreasonable. He himself had several times been offered sums as large as $100,000 for similar services, and declined them. He considered that if he were worth that much, Schumaker was worth what he asked. Witness had no knowledge of what was done with the $300,000. He had no agreement or understanding whatever with Schumaker looking to its disposition. Witness said that $140,000 had passed through his hands in addition to the $150,000, but he had already given the committee the names of all persons to whom money was paid. Schumaker never gave him any intimation that he could control any votes. Witness was not aware of any Congressmen who changed their votes. In response to a remark from Mr. Wood, that it was to be hoped the witness would make clear why he had paid out such suspiciously large sums, he said he had known [illegible] to be paid [illegible] Irwin said he would charge $5,000,000 to work for another subsidy. The large sums were all contingent, and were not paid till after the passage of the bill. Witness was strictly cross-examined by several members of the committee with reference to the employment of Shaw, and answered unhesitatingly that Shaw was employed by Stockwell in pursuance of arrangements made by him, Shaw, Stockwell, and Clews, in regard to pools and stock operations, and that Shaw's employment had nothing whatever to do with newspaper influence, or with any other newspaper man.

Mr. Kasson called witness' attention to the fact that the committee has been charged on his alleged authority with failing to follow up all the clues he had placed in their hands, and not asking him sufficiently, and searching questions, and Kasson now requested him to state in the fullest possible manner whether he has any knowledge of anything whatever that could lead the Committee further on towards the ultimate resting place of this money paid by him. Irwin, in reply, swore positively that he had no such knowledge. On the suggestion of Beck, he agreed to write out a true statement, covering all the material results of his seven days' examination, and to have it ready by next Wednesday.

BOUCHERVILLE.

Sad Calamity—A Husband Sees his Wife and Children Burned to Cinders.

BOUCHERVILLE, Jan. 25.

A fire occurred at two o'clock this morning at the farm house of Pierre Dulude, about two miles from here. The man retired early, and left a fire burning in the kitchen. He was awakened by smelling smoke, and on going down stairs found the carpet on fire. He called to his wife and ran to the barn to get a ladder by which his wife and eight children who were in the second storey might escape, as the stairway was on fire, but before he could get back the whole building, which was a wooden one, was in flames, and the wife and children were burned to death. Dulude escaped with nothing on but his night dress, and was so badly burned in his efforts to save his family, that he is not expected to live. The wife and children are literally burned to ashes, and only fragments of them can be found. The eldest child was about 13, and the youngest a baby in arms. A reporter is just starting for the scene, but it is doubtful if he can get through, the roads are so very bad.

Hon. Mr. ANGERS presented the report of the Private Bills Committee extending the time for the introduction of private bills till Friday, 29th inst.

The following bills were introduced—Mr. Alexander:—To amend the act incorporating the city omnibus and transfer company. Mr. Langelier: To amend the act incorporating Catholics speaking the English language. Mr. Trudel: To exempt certain conditional substitutions from the formality of registration.

The Hon. Treasurer ROBERTSON, in reply to Mr. Bellingham, said the estimates were in the hands of the printers, and so soon as they were distributed, he would move the House into Committee of Supply.

The following bills passed through Committee:—To amend the act of incorporation of the Laurentian Railway Co.—Pelletier, L'Assomption; To amend again the act of incorporation of the Missisquoi and Black River Valley Railway Co.—Lynch, read a third time and passed; To incorporate the Sherbrooke Gas Co.—Hon. The Hon. Treasurer ROBERTSON said it was not the intention of the Government to take any steps other than to issue a commission to enquire into the subject.

Mr. BEAUBIEN suggested that the commission should be instructed to enquire into the state of the Montreal Turnpike Trust Company.

Mr. HEARN asked whether it is the intention of the Government to include in the estimates of the next fiscal year a sum for the erection of a court house in the city and district of Quebec, and for departmental buildings, or for one purpose or the other.

Hon. Mr. GARNEAU said it was the intention of Government to put in the estimates a sum for public buildings, but in interim temporary arrangements had been made for the safe depository of public documents.

Mr. BELLINGHAM asked whether the attention of the Government had been drawn to a letter signed by Dr. Leonard Tuller, dated St. Scholastica, that he had been wrongfully arrested and confined in St. Scholastique jail for eight days, owing to the fact that neither a judge nor stipendiary magistrate reside there, the chef lieu of the judicial district of Terrebonne, and whether the Government will take any steps to preclude the recurrence of such incidents.

Hon. ATTORNEY GENERAL said as soon as he obtained the necessary information, for which he had applied, the Government would reply to the question.

Hon. TREASURER asked if Mr. Belling ham was yet prepared to go on with his motion with regard to the English loan.
