FLOGGING A SLANDERER.

A Connecticut Youth Whipped by a Coloured Woman and his Landlady.

From the "New York Herald."

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 25, 1875.

The people of the village of Long Hill distant about six miles from this city, had a sensation during the past few days, in which the coloured female cook of a boarding-house and a young white man were the prominent figures. The young man was a cigar-maker by occupation, and occupied appartments in the house referred to. A number of young women, employed in the shirt factories of Long Hill, were also boarders there. The young man, who was supposed to be a very good young man, for some unknown reason circulated reports reflecting on the good name of not only the female boarders but also of the landlady, a worthy woman. These endured in silence the abuse heaped upon them, and were inclined to excuse the defamer on account of his years. The matter would have been all right had the young man not embraced the cook in his scandalous stories. She too kept quiet for a time, but it became evident to her that silence could not much longer be a virtue. The cook vowed vengeance upon the slanderer and declared that the day of retribution drew near. The landlady entreated her not to carry her threats into execution; but pleading was of no avail, and accordingly last Friday the cook secreted her 190 pounds of healthy adipose femininity under a certain horsehed which the unsuspecting relator of foul stories must pass to reach his place of daily labour, armed with a stout hickory pudding stick. The young man quietly came along, evidently revolving in his mind the success which had attended his efforts to torment the poor cook. Watching a favourable opportunity, out plunged the fiery and indignant maid of all work, armed with the fell mixer of puddings, and the conflict began. She pounded and beat him, berated him with weapon and with tongue, the splinters flying keeping time with her hurried comments on the case, and showed no signs of weakening. At last the young man fled, and the victorious defender of her own fair fame went puffing and smiling down the street, toward home. The unkindest cut of all was the cook chose to administer the flagellation in front of one of the factories, thus enabling the young ladies to witness the operation. This would seem to have been punishment enough; but it was not all. In addition to the pudding stick pounding he received another from the landlady herself, who entered the shop where he was at work, and with a piece of knotty hemlock board administered to him another reminder that he should keep his tongue in the service of truth. To complete the work thus auspiciously begun, the landlady gave him his walking papers, and he was yesterday ejected from another village boarding house. The cook is now enjoying the reputation of a true heroine.

A ROYAL GIFT.

The Khedive's Offering to an American Belle.

Yesterday in the Collector's private office at the Custom House there was displayed to favoured eyes the present of

ISMAIL PACHA, VICEROY OF EGYPT,

to Miss Minnie Sherman, or rather Mrs. Fitch, who, a short time since, married Lieutenant Fitch, of the United States Navy. The royal present consisted of a parure of diamonds, which, perhaps, in a single set, is not equalled in American. The necklace is formed of a double row of solitaire diamonds, consisting of about 200 stones of exceptional beauty and brilliancy, and pendant from the lower row are pear-shaped stones of great size and rarity. The larger brilliants will weigh from eight to fourteen carats, and all are set in the French fashion a la Goutte d'Eau, and dazzle the eyes like sunshine filtered through cut crystals. The cross and other ornaments are composed of the same precious gems, and are alike worthy of the royal munificence of the Khedive of Egypt, and the beauty of the recipient, whose womanly graces and sparkling wit have endeared her not only to a large circle of friends in America, but have caused her to shine—like the gems she receives from royal hands—in foreign society with rare brilliancy. But it is supposed that admiration for her soldier father, General Sherman, as much as homage to Mrs. Fitch's virtues and beauty, prompted the graceful tribute to one of America's favourite daughters.

Thomas' Excelsior Electric Oil—Worth Ten times its weight in Gold.

Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One bottle has cured bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures Catarrh, Asthma and Croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity a lame back of eight years' standing. The following are extracts from a few of the many letters that have been received from the different parts of Canada, which, we think, should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical. J. Collard, of Sparta, Ontario, writes: "Send me six dozen Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Have sold all I had from you and want more now. Its cures are truly wonderful." William Maguire, of Franklin, writes: "I have sold all the agent left; it acts like a charm—it was slow at first, but takes splendidly now." H. Cole, of Iona, writes: "Please forward six dozen of Thomas' Electric Oil, I am nearly run out; nothing equals it. It is highly recommended by those who have used it." J. Bedford, Thamesville, writes: "Send at once a further supply of Electric Oil, I have only one bottle left. I never saw anything sell so well, and give such general satisfaction." J. Thompson, Woodford, writes: "Send me some more Electric Oil. I have sold entirely out. Nothing takes like it." Miller & Reed, Ulverton, P. Q., write: "The Electric Oil is getting a great reputation here, and is daily called for. Send us a further supply without delay." Lemoyne, Gibb, & Co., Buckingham, P. Q., write: "Send us one gross Electric Oil. We find it takes well."

Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 50 cents.

BERKELEY, Sept. 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking "Norton's Camomile Pills." I applied to your agent, Mr. Bell, Berkeley, for the Camomile Pills, for wind in the stomach, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without any benefit at all. After taking two bottles of your valuable pills I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity for the benefit of those who may think to be afflicted.—I am, Sir, yours truly, HENRY ALLEN.—To the Proprietors of NORTON'S CAMOMILE PILLS. 3695

It is not only the best remedy ever known for Bruises, Cuts, Burns, &c., but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of Bowel complaint it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency, and rapidity of action. In the great cities of India, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, and other kindred disorders. For Coughs and Colds, Canker, Asthma, and Rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony to be an invaluable medicine.

PROSPECTUS.

In view of the magnitude the Life Assurance interests have assumed of late years in Canada, the immense increase year by year, and in consideration that the bulk of the business is done by American Companies, the projectors of this Company feel that there is a vast field open for a profitable Canadian enterprise. According to the report of the Auditor of the Financial Department, at Ottawa for 1873, there were 13,086 policies issued during the year; 6,037 by American Companies, 3,518 only by Canadian Companies, and 1,513 by English Companies; out of 36 Life Companies reporting to the Government, but four were Canadian. The total amount of Insurance effected was $21,434,504. The total income for the year was $2,586,261.84; out of this $1,511,351.94 was paid to American Companies, and only $511,295.85 to Canadian, and $563,868.05 to English Companies. The deposit with our Government amounted to $4,857,951. $650,529.49 was paid for death losses. Over two millions are sent out of the country to enrich American and English stockholders. This immense capital can be retained in the country, assisting to build up our commerce, railroads, canals, and all that materially tend to make us a nation, with as much advantage to the policyholders as they now receive. No other investments in America have been considered so safe and remunerative as Life Assurance stock. In Canada, no Canadian Company has ever failed, and in the U. S., but two companies where the stockholders lost anything. $380,126,654.49 is invested in Life Companies in the U. S., and in Canada we have not probably $600,000. As evidence of the immense profitableness of Life Assurance stock, the following figures are taken from the New York Insurance Department Report for 1873, showing dividends paid to stockholders. Only those Companies doing business in Canada are cited:—

	Capital.	Dividend.	Balance as regards Stockholders.
Ætna	$103,000	$45,000	$2,144,503.56
Atlantic	110,000	8,050	25,176.11
Equitable	100,000	8,050	2,421,758.84
Globe	100,000	13,723	164,510.70
United States	250,000	18,350	632,264.98
Phœnix	16,000	960	666,767.12

Besides the immense surplus belonging to the stockholders, the above companies have large surpluses representing many millions belonging to their policyholders. Our few Canadian Companies have all paid large dividends. No difficulty has been found in procuring the immediate subscription of the whole stock of the Royal Mutual Life Assurance Company, but it was believed to be more judicious and more to the Company's interest, that the stock be distributed among the towns where the Company would probably open Agencies, thereby creating a local interest in every place. 3748
