

Georgetown Children's Chorus to perform Christmas concert twice on Sunday

Come join the 112 kids in the Georgetown Children's Chorus as they present their Christmas concert on Sunday, Dec. 13, (1 p.m. and 4 p.m. performances).

The show, held at the John Elliott Theatre, starts off with a bang as 60 kids (ages 7 to 11), present the Christmas musical, The Loaned Manger, complete with costumes, sets and choreography set to lively, rock music.

Filled with ultra-hip songs and an incredible "Wild West" Christmas story, audiences will surely join the kids when they shout "Yee-Haw!". Throw in some line dancing, a small town Sheriff and the Star of the Show (Baby Jesus, of course!) and everyone will have a great time.

Conducting the choir for this 24th Christmas concert is Music Director, Dale Wood. Joanna Fraser, director of Globe's summer camps and a professional actress/singer, is the Artistic Director of show.

The Performance and Senior Choirs are singing difficult four-part harmonies, featuring songs frequently performed by the Georgetown Choral Society, including songs like Nowell, Nowell composed by Dale Wood.

Tickets are $20 for adults and $15 for 18 and under. Tickets are available in person at the JET Box Office (at the Georgetown Library) or online at www.haltonhills.ca/theatre.

Call Lois Fraser (905-877-4411 ext. 253) for tickets or if your child is considering joining choir in January.

Silver Creek Folk to release first EP on Friday in T.O.

Silver Creek Folk, a local five-piece rock band from Georgetown, is set to release its first debut EP titled, EP 1, on Friday, Dec. 11.

Band members include local musicians Ben Hannah (guitarist), Kyle Hannah (guitarist), Collette Andrea (bassist), Jordan MacKinnon (keyboardist) and Steve Baker (drummer). Rooted by the great music of the 1960s and '70s, Silver Creek Folk is often known for their powerful four-part harmonies and classic rock rhythms.

The album features five original tracks, including the latest single, Don't Go Alone, which was released last week.

"We have a good time, and our music reflects that," stated the band. "It's rock 'n' roll, you live it, and the music writes itself." Over the past couple of years, the band has played all across Ontario including
