MANHOOD RESTORED.—A victim of youthful imprudence causing premature decay, nervous debility, &c., having tried in vain every known remedy, has found a simple selfcure, which he will send FREE to his fellow sufferers. Address,
J. H. REEVES,
43 Nassau-st., New York.
July 22, 1872. 3565

Mr. Vail, Minister of Militia, and Lieut.-Col. Macpherson, left town on Saturday night for Niagara on a visit to the Brigade Camp at that place.

The Provisional battalion on service in Manitoba will, we are given to understand, be reduced shortly to one hundred strong. The services of three or four officers will consequently have to be dispensed with. It is generally believed that this reduction has been determined upon because of the efficient services rendered by the Northwest Mounted Police. The period of service of most of the men engaged just now will be out in August next, when a draft of fresh men will have to be sent up.

NEW YORK.

Seizure of a Vessel.
NEW YORK, June 5th.—The Herald's Havana special dated June 2nd, says the Uruguay, a war transport having on board seventy-two political prisoners from Montecido has been seized by Spanish officers in the harbor of Havana. The main cause of this action is that some of the exiles has been recognized as persons previously sent away from Havana for sympathizing with the Cuban insurgents. They had been exiled from Montecido for conspiring for the overthrow of the Government by a revolution, and of having plotted the assassination of the President and Consul Pedro Vassela, and members of the Cabinet. Among the politicians were leading Montecido journalists. The following are the names of some of the most prominent exiles in the vessel: Don Jos. Pedro Hamind, a prominent lawyer and journalist, and ex-representative of the Legislative body; Don Auvelians B. Larret, a prominent lawyer and journalist and ex-representative; Don Juan Joiede Herrera, a prominent lawyer and journalist and ex-representative; Col. Fortune Flores, of the Uruguayan army; Don Edward O. Flores and Don Seguando Flores editors of the Idia, and Don Ricardo.

A telegram from Kingston says fires are still raging on the Shawawugurk, having burnt the entire length from Hollowack to Lake Mobunk, a distance of 200 miles. Thousands of dollars worth of timber and bark has been destroyed, and residents were forced to turn out day and night to fight it away from their houses.

Mining Difficulty.
A special from Pottsville says everything is quiet, and no further changes. The resolutions adopted at the miners meeting at Shenandoah, Friday evening, will have the effect of ending the strike. In Wyoming, Luzerne and in Pottsville, there is suffering among the strikers, some of their wives and children are almost starving, and it is believed if Wyoming and Luzerne men go to work the striking miners will follow. At Mahoney city and Shenandoah the streets are filled with idle men, but the militia still remain, and the strikers make no violent demonstrations. Advices from Wilkesbarre says the miners have rejected the overtures of Charles Parish, for an amicable settlement of the troubles in Wyoming coal fields, and Parish says he will now work his mines without union men.
