Part of lot twenty-five (25) in the first concession of the Township of Lake Hawkesbury containing two acres of land more or less and described as follows: commencing at the point where the side line between lots twenty-five and twenty-six runs into the Ottawa River, thence due east to the point o Ferry Road, leading to the river, thence North along the West side of the Ferry Road to the Ottawa river, thence West and South along the bank of said river to the place of beginning.
There is a large building formerly used as a saw mill on said premises in which are three large circular saws, one shaft and wheel and saw frame. The State Fishery Commissioners of Ohio are busily engaged in building a State fish hatching house, the Legislature having voted $10,000 to start the work. We have five already in operation in Canada, and three others now in course of construction. The whole Parliamentary vote for building and maintaining these useful establishments about equals that amount.

The Field speaks of the salmon fishing season just closing as one of the worst ever known. The cause is found in the ineffective laws against indiscriminate fishing. It might be supposed that the laws of England were sufficiently strict, but it seems that the nets at the mouths of the rivers prevent the fish going up to spawn, and the consequence is a falling off in the number of young fish. This, of course, is killing the goose for the sake of the egg. Another cause is found in the pollution of the upper waters by drainage and manufacturing refuse.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Jean Baptiste Carpeaux, the famous French sculptor, is dead.

Cardinal McCloskey left Rome for New York yesterday, Monsignore Roncetti accompanying him as far as Civita Vecchia.

The Dutch Government has ordered a naval armament to the Carribean, for the purpose of watching the movements of the Venezuelan squadron.

President Grant and party have arrived at Chicago on their return from the West.

Yesterday, in the Supreme Court of Chambers, New York, Judge Lawrence granted an order to show why a stay of proceedings should not be granted, pending the appeal of "Boss" Tweed against the decision of the Supreme Court.

Snow fell in Syracuse, N.Y., on Saturday.

Advices from San Domingo state that peace prevails throughout the country, but that the foreign loan has proved a failure. President Gonzales has prohibited the circulation of papers which defame the Spanish Government in Cuba.

Admiral Sir W. Tarleton and Captain Hockley have been exonerated from all blame on account of the loss of the Vanguard.

Five hundred and sixty Carlist soldiers crossed the frontier at Venasque, and were disarmed by the French authorities. Gen. Saballo is to be tried before a Carlist court-martial for his recent failures in the field.

The Alabama Claims Commission settled several important claims yesterday.

A State election took place in Ohio yesterday.

The Government authorities at Kingston, Jamaica, seized the Cuban steamer Uraguay, laden with arms and munition of war for the insurgents, for violation of the laws of nations.

The Grand Commandery the Knights Templars of the State of New York are holding a convention at Rochester.

So far as received, the returns from the Ohio election seem to indicate the general success of the Republican ticket The Germans are reported to have voted largely with the Republicans, which undoubtedly accounts for the large Republican gains. Last year they voted in a body with the Democrats, on account of the positions taken by the Republicans on the liquor question at that time, thus giving the State to the Democrats by a majority of between 20,000 to 30,000. The result in Ohio will undoubtedly have a great influence on other State elections, soon to follow. Both Democratic and Republican platforms recommended a return to hard money.

The latest advices from Hong Kong state that a hostile feeling is manifested in the North of China against foreigners. All the British men of war at Osaki, Japan, have been ordered to Chinese waters, and the squadron at Yokohama has received orders to sail for the same destination.

The Montenegrin Peasant.

There is no peasant in Montenegro who has not some portion of land of his own—however small, and if this his little crop should fail, or misfortunes overtake him, he at once comes to the Prince, who gives him all he can spare. When all is well, he pays the Prince a part of his produce. In fact, very much of their laws continually remind me of the customs of the Bedouins—the truth being that they are entirely patriarchal and primitive.

They have another virtue besides this simplicity of life—this is their perfect honesty. I happened to mention that I had dropped a gold bracelet in Albania "Had you dropped it here, even in the remotest corner of the Black Mountain, it would have been brought to me in three days," said the Prince. I am sure this is not mere talk, for I heard it confirmed by enemies as well as friends of the Montenegrins. I was frequently told of a traveller who left his tent with the door open, on a Montenegrin hillside, and returned after three years absence to find every single thing as he had left it. It is the old story of the devotion of a simple-minded people, and the just administration of a Homeric chieftain—all the more easily carried out in such a country as the Cierna Gora, because the Prince can be acquainted with his people as individuals, and can set them a personal example, eagerly caught up by each of his loving subjects. People tell, however, a different tale of the honesty of the Montenegrins in Turkey, where they used to migrate annually for field work, like Irishmen to England, or Ionians to Greece.

The Prince informed me that he had lately reckoned up his people, and that he believed there were now 200,000 souls in Montenegro and the Berda. He was more certain that he had 20,000 fighting men under his command. I enquired about the revenue of the country, and the Prince told me his income amounted to £10,000, (dedending much, of course, upon the state of the harvest.) besides an annual gift of £4,700, bestowed by Russia in gratitude for assistance rendered by Peter I. in 1808 to the Russians during their joint campaign against the French invaders of Dalmatia, and as an indemnity for their losses.—Viscountess Strangford, Eastern Shores of the Adriatic.

Holland Sends a Naval Armament to the Carribean.

Allen Young and one of the officers of the Pandora, dated Disco, Aug. 6th, by way of Girt Straits, dated Aug. 9th. The voyage was pleasant. They had some collisions with icebergs, but the vessel was not injured; the crew was working well. In Inigitute Bay they saw the steamer Fox.

Nothing is known here of the financial panic at Rio Janeiro. Any rumor to that effect is doubtless set on foot by stock jobbers, to affect foreign stocks to-morrow, which is settling to-day.

The Charge against Colonel Burton.

The sentence on Brevet Colonel Burton, R.M.L.I., who was recently tried by court-martial at Davenport, was promulgated yesterday at the Royal Marine Barracks, Stonehouse. It will be remembered that Colonel Burton was charged first with scandalous conduct, unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, in having at Malta, in 1873, made false statements reflecting on the character of Lieutenant-Colonel and Brevet-Colonel Richards, then commanding the battalion of Royal Marines in Japan, under whose orders he had recently been serving, to Lieutenant F. R. Beachy, R. M., in saying to him that Colonel Richards was a drunkard. The second charge was of scandalous conduct, in having at Plymouth, between the 27th and 30th of May, 1873, made false statements reflecting on the character of Colonel Richards to Colonel Wright, Colonel Forbes, Captain Cobb, and Captain McMeekan, all of the Royal Marines, to the effect that Col. Richards was given to intemperate habits, being commonly known at Yokohama as "the Drunken Colonel of Marines," and suffered from and had been treated for delirium tremens, although the medical officer who attended him returned him as ill from other causes. The third and fourth charge were to the effect that in having made these statements other than officially the prisoner had been guilty of conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline. The Court found that Colonel Burton was not guilty of the first and second charges (those for scandalous conduct); that the statements made by the prisoner were false, but the prisoner believed them, on reasonable grounds, to be true at the time of their utterance; and that the prisoner was guilty of the third and fouth charges. The sentence is that he is to lose four years' seniority as a captain.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK.

Duel between Americans in Paris.

NEW YORK, A special from Paris states that a duel was fought with swords at Acyinch, near Paris, yesterday, between two young Americans, named Riggs and Paine. The cause was an old family vendette, which was renewed last Thursday night in the Renaissance Theatre. Blows were exchanged before the audience and police could interfere.

Heavy Failures.

Cornelius V. S. Schuyler, Edmund P. Schuyler, and John A. Duntard failed today, and made assignments in the Common Pleas Court. Liabilities, $163,654 01; assets, $35,000.

OHIO.

The State Election—Hayes, Republican Elected.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 12.—Flattering returns only have been received from nearly every county in the State, but none are more than fragmentory. One hundred and twenty-five townships, precincts, and wards show, total majority for Hayes, this far, of over 3,000. There is every indication of Hayes' election.

TOLEDO, Oct. 12.—A quiet election to day, and a full vote, with considerable scratching on both sides. The returns from this city will be slow. Nothing expected before midnight, and some wards will not be counted before noon to-morrow.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 12—The election passed off quietly. The Republicans claim the county for Hayes, and the entire county ticket. It is certain that the Republicans have made large gains. The result in this city will not be known until late.

The Ohio Election.

Further private despatches from Cincinnati say that an immense German Republican vote has been polled. Later despatches from the reserves are not so favourable to the Republicans.

TORONTO

Theatricals New—More Outrages—Robberies and Assaults—University Convocation—Ontario Advisory Board—A Good Jump—Railway Accident—Rioters Arrested—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals—The Premier at Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—It is announced that the Holmans intend leasing the Royal Opera House for the coming season. Mr. French has completed a very handsome front, and the approach to the theatre is now equal to any on the Continent.

This city has already gained an unenviable notoriety for brutal assaults, and now it is actually becoming unsafe for any one to walk the streets, at so early an hour as 10 o'clock p.m. Last night about that time, no less than four robberies and assaults were committed. In the first instance, as Mr. Henry O. Brier, barrister, was walking on Windsor Street, two men came up behind him, seized hold of him, and secured his wrists. On his calling out, they each drew a revolver and threatened to shoot him if he did not "hold his row." They then calmly rifled his pockets and made off.

The second was on Yonge Street. A man named R Stevens was returning home, when a man calling himself James Hutchinson, stepped from the doorway of a building, and presenting a pistol demanded his money. A policeman was near, and seeing the performance, stepped up and arrested the man.

The third was at the corner of Richmond and Simcoe streets. A young man named John Walters was returning home from the Theatre, when two ruffians attacked him from behind, and brutally kicked and maltreated him, just for the fun of the thing. He does not know his assailants. He never spoke to them or they to him, and they made no attempt to rob him.

In the last case a lady was walking on Carleton street, when a nicely dressed man caught hold of her, and, talking in the most indecent manner, proceeded to assault her. She, however, swung herself loose, and hit him a blow on the face with a basket she had, and ran with all her might, the rowdy making off in the other direction.

The annual convocation of University College will be held on the 15th instant. The Lieutenant Governor will be present.

The various committees in connection with the Advisory Board will meet at the Rossin House on Wednesday afternoon, the 20th instant. A full meeting of the Board will be held at the Treasury Department on the 21st.

This afternoon Mr. Shelton Fuller's mare, Gold Dust, jumped clear over a buggy that came upon suddenly, as she was rounding a corner.

A Toronto and Nepissing train, going east to-day, got off the track near Scarboro' Junction, and delayed the Grand Trunk morning express from the East, due at 10.45, till six o'clock this evening. Passengers were brought on by a special, and reached here by 2 p.m. William McBretaner and Robert Simpson, two more of the rioters of Sunday week, have been committed for trial, bail being refused in the case of the former, and accepted in two sureties of $1,000 each for the latter.

The Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have passed a resolution in reference to pigeon shooting, asking for subscriptions from the public to test the legality of what they term a cruel sport, and if possible to suppress it.

Three more of the rioters of Sunday week were arrested this evening, named John Corcoran, George Sherwood, and William Grassy. The first named was fined $40 and costs this morning, for carrying unlawful weapons on the previous Sunday. Warrants are out for over 30 more.

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie is at the Queen's Hotel.

Murderer Committed—Mennonites—Lawlessness—Better Terms for Manitoba—New Paper—The Freight Lines—The Indian Treaties.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—McIver, the Fort Ellice murderer, has been committed for trial.

The last stage from Winnipeg by the Dawson route this season, started on Saturday.

Advices from Emerson report that a train of thirty-four waggons, two from each Mennonite village near the Pembina Mountains, have arrived for flour for winter consumption.

The lawlessness of the men unemployed the Canada Pacific Railway near the boundary owing to saloons on the American side demands a police force on the Canadian territory.

The question of better terms for Manitoba is agitated in the local press.

A new French paper, L'Avenir National, edited by F. A. Marten, M. P. P., will shortly appear.

The Moorhead Star reiterates that the Merchants' International Line of steamers was sold out to the Kittson line, which took possession of the steamer Minnesota on September 17. The stockholders being unwilling to advance the required amount to liquidate the outstanding debts, the directors felt compelled to look to another source for relief, and have therefore turned the property over to Kittson, who pays the liabilities of the directors.

The United States Government have made demands upon the Manitoba authorities for the steamer Manitoba, which now lies at Winnipeg. The steamer Minnesota, now here, will leave for Grand Forks next week with her former officers in charge.

Messrs. Christy, Dickerson and Forsyth returned after a seven weeks' treaty trip among the Indians west of the Province. The four points at which the Indians concentrated to meet the Commissioners were Fort Ellice, Qu'Appelle, Fort Pelly, and Shoal River. The number paid altogether was 3,976, and the money expended amounted to $51,000. It was found that the number of Indians included in the treaty had been very much underestimated, and that the total could not have been far from five thousand. All the chiefs who were not present at the treaty of last year put in an appearance this season and signed adhesion to the treaty. The entire body of Indians professed themselves well satisfied. About one half the number signified their willingness to settle on reserves, and reserves were set apart and are now being surveyed by the Wagner Commissioners. The party returned by Lake Winnipegois and Manitoba, making the distance from Shoal Lake to Manitoba House in five days.
