

COMMUNITY: FIVE DAYS GIVING AT LOCAL SCHOOLS

Stewarttown School launched its first Five Days of Giving

The students and staff at Stewarttown Senior Public School held their first-ever Five Days of Giving collection for the community support organization, Links2Care, and made a sizeable donation last week.

On each day of the week, students were asked to bring in items such as non-perishable food, toys, toiletries, winter clothing and school supplies for donation to those less fortunate and they filled two large hampers that were picked up by Links2Care.

The school's Student Parliament consisting of Grade 8 students borrowed the idea from Georgetown's Joseph Gibbons Public School and plan to do it again next year.

Joseph Gibbons: A little school with a big heart

The smallest elementary school in the Halton public board has come through in a big way for the Georgetown Bread Basket the past four years.

With only 136 students from junior kindergarten to Grade 5, Joseph Gibbons Public School collected close to 700 non-perishable items for its annual 5 Days of Giving Food Drive, surpassing its goal of 600 and last year's total of about 500.
