"ROUGH NOTES OF A VOYAGE FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO."

TUESDAY, May 6.—Up at the usual hour; Cook at work in the galley; sailors at work washing the decks; passengers at the pump.—There is only one pump and a short trough two feet long to wash in, and this has to accommodate about 600. Breakfast is now on the table—rice and molasses, coffee, biscuit and that everlasting salt junk; fortunately I managed to get to the second table and made the best meal I have had since leaving New York. It occupies about three hours to get through with a meal, so that those who have to wait till the last feel in excellent humor for eating. The sea breeze is good for giving an appetite. So far, there is a very cordial, friendly feeling among the passengers, and a cheerful readiness to accommodate each other as much as circumstances will permit. Although there has been so much crowding, &c., to get to the tables, I have not seen a single case of quarrelling as yet—this forbearance is highly commendable.—There are more than one hundred women and children in the steerage, and quite a number of ladies in the state rooms,—first and second cabin; quite sufficient to form the nucleus of a new colony. We are now passing the island of Mara Guana, one of the Bahamas, and the first land seen since leaving Sandy Hook.—The Captain told me it belonged to John Bull; I told him I was aware of that, and also the whole of the Bahamas, some five hundred in number, belonged to the same power.—He also informed me that we were 145 miles from Cuba, which we would pass to-night. We sail between Cuba and Hayti, instead of passing through the Florida Keys; this, I suppose, is to avoid any risk of collision with Southern privateers. Mara Guana seems a barren rocky island, covered with shrubs or small trees. I cannot observe anything like a habitation on it, but then we are some miles (perhaps 5 or 6) from the coast. Heat very great to-day. Went on the hurricane deck to find a shade from the sun, and fortunately found my trunk, which must have been fished from the bottom of the pile by some other person probably hunting their own.—Had a wash in salt water fresh pumped from the sea. Temperature, I think, about 110° fahrenheit; I believe that is blood heat, and the surface sea water I am sure is nothing below that. Water is in great demand to-day, but there is plenty to drink and very good water so far. The saloon tender is doing a good business to-day in the liquor line—ten cents a glass for anything he has to sell. Apples five cents each; of course it is an extortion, but I notice some who patronize him very freely. Two sailors who had imbibed rather freely to-day, got into a dispute with the first and second mates of the vessel; they got a pretty sound threshing, and were put in irons for an hour, which seemed to sober them considerably. One of these was in the concert last night, which disturbed my slumbers so much. We are now (6 o'clock P.M.) passing the island of Inaguana; a number of other small islands are to be seen to the north-east: they seem small. Some very large fishes have been seen to-day rolling their unwieldy bodies sometimes above water. I could not make out their true names; some called them Harpies, and others Brodies, and a host of other names. Of course some of these was correct. Judging from appearances, I should think they would be about twelve feet long. Supper has been on the table some two hours, but I will be in time enough for something. I will now go and see what it is—tea and biscuit, salt junk and a very few potatoes. Having got through with the meal, played some airs on the flute to a very large audience.—Other flute players were anxious to try the instrument, whom I willingly gratified. A general bustle is now going on preparatory to sleeping; some are going on the hurricane deck to spend the night on bales, boxes, &c.: every available place is occupied. At length the majority are still, yet some small groups prefer to sit chatting, laughing and singing, to the great annoyance of their neighbors who wish to sleep.

WEDNESDAY, May 7th.—Between 4 and 5 o'clock, A.M. all are in motion—some going to the pump, others returning after their morning ablutions. Many who have not marine soap return dirtier than they went. Salt water and common soap form a kind of glutinous or gummy substance that is not easily rubbed off the skin. I had to try a second dip this morning, having been fortunate enough to get a rub of marine soap, by which means I got a clean wash. Coming on deck again and looking northward, I got a glimpse of the mountains of Cuba. On the opposite side, at a considerable distance the mountains in Hayti were observable like blue clouds on the horizon. We are now sweeping down the Carribbean Sea with good speed. The agencies of wind and steam combined to waft us on our way.—Sails set and well filled; a beautiful breeze is blowing, and were it not for the very hot sun, it would be delightfully pleasant. The passengers aft are pretty well shaded from the sun by awnings of canvess; but steerage passengers are not so highly favored. While I write the sun's rays are beaming upon me, and the back of my hands and neck, (to use a Scotch phrase) are as red as a 'collop.' Well it will serve to toughten the hide for mining operations in Cariboo.—Breakfast is now over—coffee, biscuit, salt junk and potatoes. Great scrambling for the potatoes, and much difficulty in getting one or two. I saw one man who had three fine large ones on his plate this morning. Of course he was looked upon as semi-savage, for some of the others got none at all. When potatoes are the go all seem to be Irish, whether French, Italian, German, English, Scotch, American or Canadian; and I believe all these countries are represented here. Canada in particular is well represented. I have conversed with passengers from Bruce, Huron, Lambton, Waterloo, Wellington, Oxford, Brant, Halton, Wentworth, Welland, Durham, Prince Edward; also, Toronto and Hamilton cities have their representatives. I alone am the humble representative of York; and I am proud to be able to state, which I did without prejudice or partiality, that the conduct of Canadians on this vessel at least, reflects no discredit on their country. They are quiet, orderly, agreeable and obliging, and always show a disposition to make each other as comfortable as circumstances permit. Intimate acquaintance are formed by Canadians here from different and very distant counties, with a facility that is almost surpassing. Urbanity and kindness, so far, have characterized the conduct of captain and officers towards the passengers; have heard no complaint as yet from any passenger in regard to any officer on this boat, with the exception of the waiters at table, and these have really too much to do. I think the passengers are sometimes too exacting—poor Sambo has enough to do to attend to the wants of so many. Some beautiful birds—a small species of the gull, of a brown color, with white neck, approach within a few feet of us as we stand on deck. They have a beseeching look; their natural language evidently is, 'give us something to eat.' One was so tame that had I a biscuit to offer it I believe it would have taken it from my hand. Every inch of canvas is now spread—the vessel is darting through the water with accelerated speed, leaving behind a deep and broad furrow of white foam; she is really a fine boat, the best I believe of the 'Vanderbilt line.' Dinner is announced; passengers crowding, pushing and blockading every passage to secure a place at the first table; waiters running to and fro and streaming with perspiration; cooks becoming almost fluid in the galley. Oh! it is hot, and the next three days I suppose will be hot, hotter, hottest.—Our complexions are now pretty well bronzed. Well I have got jammed in at the third table—a Yankee at my right and a German on my left hand—both very dissatisfied at what they consider the laziness of waiters; very talkative and clamorous for bean soup, which we are to have to-day; also biscuit and the never-failing 'salt junk,' or, more popularly, 'dead horse;' also salt and pepper, the usual seasoning.—Dinner is just now got through with (4 P.M.)—smoking, reading, and talking among the men; women engaged, the older ones at sewing and knitting some of the younger ones trying a little in the flirtation line with beaux they have picked up on the boat. Well I suppose there must be a season for sparking, and for those who are so inclined this seems a fitting opportunity, as there is plenty of time and not much else to do. For my own part, I rather approve of it. Connexions may here be formed that may ultimately tend to aid in the colonization and settlement of British Columbia. Getting weary of sitting and lying around, I try to walk round, which can be accomplished with about as much comfort as was experienced by pedestrians on the streets of Toronto while the Prince of Wales was being drawn along in his carriage. You knot not the moment when a lurch of the boat may cause an inadvertent foot to be placed on the coras of some unwary victim crouched down behind the bulwarks or in the shade of a mast or other projection to screen himself from the horrid wrays of a treped sun, and woe be yours should the unhappy victim be a Dutchman—what a volley of jargon and menacing gesture salutes you, enough to cause you to beat a speedy retreat. Barkeeper doing a large business; his trade increases with the increase of temperature,—

NOTICE.

If asked what was the best medicine for cleansing the blood, and for bilious complaints, Sick Headache, Costiveness, &c., we should say BRIGGS' INDIAN VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE!

And every word is true.

For upwards of three years past, I have been engaged in a business, which has yielded me at the rate of $3,000 per annum, but being desirous of going to Europe in the course of a few months for the purpose of there introducing the business, I am willing to teach it to any one who will send me $1. The business is no humbug, but of a highly useful and general character, adapted both to cities and villages, and one that any person of ordinary capacity, young or old, male or female, can acquire with a few hours' practice, and by which they can secure a very handsome income. Several young ladies who have received instructions from me, both in New York State and Pennsylvania, are earning upwards of $20 per week by it, and there is no reason why any one else cannot do the same. Invalids, even, can do well by it, as it is no peddling affair, but a business that is perfectly respectable. Gentlemen and ladies of leisure who would like to learn the business for their their own amusement or pleasure, will find the practice of it a pleasant pastime, and one that they will take great interest in. On receipt of $1, I will send printed instructions by which any person can readily acquire the art, and these instructions will also contain every particular relative to the carrying it on so that it will be highly profitable. The purchaser of the "printed instructions" will also be authorized to teach it to others; and I have sometimes received as high as $200, for teaching it personally to a single individual. I would state further that $2.50 or $3.00 will buy every thing that is necessary to commence the business with, and the articles can be got almost anywhere, in city or country, or, if preferred, I can furnish them

On the infirmities of youth and maturity, disclosing the secret follies of both sexes of all ages, causing debility, nervousness, depression of spirits, palpitation of the heart, suicidal imaginings, involuntary emissions, blushings, defective memory, indigestion and lassitude, with confessions of thrilling interest of a Boarding School Miss, a College Student, and a Young Married Lady, &c., &c. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and privileges to which every human being is entitled.

Young Men who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, may be cured by the author's New Paris and London Treatment.

We have recently devoted much of our time in visiting the European Hospitals, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and the Continent. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many new and efficacious remedies which we are enabled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, secrecy and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore, as a Physician in our peculiar department of professional Practice, for the past twenty five years.

FRENCH FEMALE PILLS.—Ladies who wish for Medicines, the efficacy of which has been tested in thousands of cases, and never failed to effect speedy cures without any bad results, will use none but Dr. Delacroix's Female Periodical Pills. The only precaution necessary to be observed is, ladies should not take them if they believe they are in certain situations (the particulars of which will be found on the wrapper accompanying each box,) though always safe and healthy, so gentle, yet so active are they.

Price $1 per box. They can be mailed to any part of the United States or Canada.

BRITISH REVIEWS!

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz.:—

1. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative)
2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig.)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, (Free Church.)
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal.)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE, (Tory.)

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications universally interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily writen news-items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

'Chapters from the Life of Jas. Tacket.'

This tale will prove to be one of the most interesting ever published, and cannot fail to be appreciated by all classes of readers.

The SCOTTISH AMERICAN JOURNAL is a paper peculiarly adapted to meet the requirements of the British people and their families from all parts of the old country resident on the American continent. It is, in fact, a family paper in the highest and best sense of the term. Its Home and Foreign News is amply given and carefully prepared from a wide range of British and foreign sources, and omits no fact or feature cal culated to interest its readers, whether ladies or gentlemen: so that the SCOTTISH AMERICAN JOURNAL contains (presented in a concise and readable form,) all the local, personal, and political intelligence which could be only found scattered over a vast number of Scotch, English, Irish, and Continental newspapers. Another most important feature of this journal is, that it gives the leading articles of the prominent British newspapers and other periodicals upon the principal topics of the day. In reference to the 'editorials' of the SCOTTISH AMERICAN JOURNAL, it is a significant fact that the British press frequently acknowledges their intrinsic truth and force by copiously extracting from its columns, and declaring that the SCOTTISH AMERICAN JOURNAL is the most able and interesting paper published in America.—A well-digested weekly summary is also given of the principal items of American news.

Dr. Amos & Son, in order to satisfy the most skeptical as to the merits of their instrument, pledge themselves that in any instance where it may prove unsatisfactory, after a fair trial, the money will be refunded by returning the instrument in good order. Price Ten Dollars, by mail or express.

YOUNG MEN TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Those who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately. Self-abuse is one of the most formidable enemies to health, for nothing else in the dire catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the human system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system rapidly, wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself.
