TO THE

INDEPENDENT ELECTORS

OF THE

MIDLAND DIVISION !

GENTLEMEN:

You will soon be called upon to exercise the elective franchise in selecting a person to represent you in the Legislative Council.

Nominated unanimously by the Conservative Convention, assembled at Bradford on the 21st April last, further assured by the then absent delegates, with a solitary exception, of their concurrence in that nomination, and with a promise of a very much larger support from North York, than has hitherto been accorded to a Conservative, I felt it my duty, after consulting with a number of the delegates, assembled at Bradford for that purpose, to accept of your nomination and declare myself a candidate for your suffrages

I beg to assure the Conservatives of the Division, that this expression of their confidence is esteemed by me a high honor, the more valued because alike unexpected and unsought for, and that no exertion on my part, shall be wanting, in prosecuting with their aid and hearty good will, this contest for the Midland Division to a successful issue.

At the onset I may just as well declare the fact, that I have no confidence whatever in the present Administration. I speak not of individuals; there are those among them whom I sincerely respect, and whose attainments, parliamentary knowledge and political rectitude, entitle them to that respect, but as a Government, they neither possess the ability, the knowledge, the experience nor the power necessary to the successful conducting of the affairs of this Province.

Their advent to power was based upon their vote on the second reading of the Militia Bill, virtually denying that the defence of the Province required a reorganization of the Militia—a vote little calculated to foster Earnest Consideration, and which they themselves were forced to ignore, before they had been a week in office.

Look, for one moment, on the majority of the Upper Canada section of the Government. How deeply demoralized! No sooner did those hypocritical clamourers for Numerical Representation perceive a chance of office, by abandoning that just and salutary measure (without which, according to their own showing, Upper Canada never can obtain its rights) than, turning their backs upon their reiterated pledges, they hasten to accept the programme of a Premier diametrically opposed to their own views upon that very question, and whose otherwise notoriously Lower Canadian leanings left no doubt as to the character of the policy of his Administration

A dispassionate judge pronouncing upon their political proceedings, might doubt whether the moral turpitude of their acts, or their audacity in presenting themselves for re-election, called most loudly for public denunciation; but there can be no question for the future, as to the reliance to be placed upon their solemn declarations, or the confidence to which their acts as public men have entitled them.

As a Government, their majority of seven may enable them to make a show of economy by dismissing a few supernumerary clerks from the public departments, to be hereafter replaced by others from their own friends; but to expect at their hands a thorough measure of RETRENCHMENT, commensurate with the exigencies of the Revenue, would be an idle dream indeed.

My opinions upon the prominent political questions of the day, REPRESENTATION AND SEPARATE SCHOOLS, are so generally known, that in alluding to them, it is hardly necessary to say more, than that they have undergone little or no change.

From the institution of our present Common School System in 1842, in the very first enactment, Separate Schools formed a part, I then thought and I still think an objectionable part, of that system. My conviction is, that the parties now most anxious to obtain greater facilities for such schools, would themselves, should they eventually succeed, be found the greatest sufferers from the change they desire, to say nothing of the additional expense to which that change would necessarily subject them.

The claim of Western Canada to be represented in the Legislature in proportion to her Population, and regardless of a dividing line between the Provinces, must in the end prevail, notwithstanding the desertion of its late noisy advocates. The time may be delayed, through the recreancy of those to whom her interests are entrusted, but come it must: numbers alone will eventually settle the question and a refusal be no longer possible.

I have already visited almost every locality in the Division, and received hearty assurances of support from large numbers of Electors, but it was impossible to see all. My intention is now to commence holding meetings in the different Townships, of which due notice will be given, when I hope to have an opportunity of explaining my views upon political matters more fully, and replying, where reply may be necessary, to the outrageously false charges that have been so plentifully heaped upon me.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

J. W. GAMBLE.

FINKLE & LYON

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

538 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

TWO parties little acquainted with the Finkle & Lyon Sewing Machines the careful perusal of the Company's Circular is specially commended. This Circular can be had on application. It is very specific, and will be found highly instructive, having been prepared with much care, and we will abide by all statements therein made.

The following brief quotation is characteristic of the entire Circular:

"The Machine is better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in market to the frequent changes and almost endless variety of sewing required in a family; for it will sew from one, to twenty thicknesses of leather without stopping, and making every stitch perfect. Will sew from the finest gauze muslin to heavy cloth, and even to the stiffest leather, without changing the feed, needle, or tension, or making any adjustment of any kind whatever."

This have we successfully overcome the most difficult point in the Sewing Machine Art. It was no ordinary triumph. Defiantly can we say, "No other Machine compares with it in this respect." Hence have we uniformly—almost without exception—taken the highest premium, when the Machine has been properly exhibited in competition with other first-class Sewing Machines. Hence is it that we are able to offer the following guarantee, viz:—"We Warrant every Machine we sell to give better satisfaction than any other Sewing Machine now in market, or money refunded."—We never sell a Machine on any other terms. The guarantee is as reliable as the note of any business man in the land. For more than five years have we relied upon such facts for the reputation of our Machine; and without a single travelling agent in the field, there is scarcely a neighborhood on the continent where the Machine is not favorably known. We prefer such a reputation to one based on mere "talking points," as they are technically called in the trade. Hence we make but one kind of stitch, viz: the lock-stitch, alike on both sides, requiring only one third the thread of other kinds of stitches.

N. B. Local agents wanted in every county throughout the West. Special inducements offered.
