Richmond Hill Fair.

A BREEZE FOR THE LADIES.

To the Editor of the Herald.

SIR —I had the pleasure of attending "Richmond Hill Agricultural Spring Fair" on the 24th of May, and I certainly think great praise is due to the officers for their cordiality, zeal and attention, in every department. I am not going to make any complaints about the ladies department but I certainly did think the articles shown were very few, but the quality very creditable. The good people (and even the churches.) in Richmond Hill are very highly favored, in fact well paid for any trouble they might take in sending goods for exhibition. I think that the ladies in the village alone could fill that building with all the nice things imaginable, thus making it very pleasant to visitors. Then the butter and bread department should be better patronized. If every body would look to the fact of the honor of taking a prize, more than the actual money itself it certainly would be better. But if the Richmond Hill people will take upon themselves to raise ninety five dollars ($95) extra, so that the prize list could be enlarged, I will add five more to make it one hundred dollars ($100.)

Yours Respectfully,

JOSEPH DILWORTH.

Toronto, June 1st, 1882.

Death of Dr. A. H. Hughes.

Mail advices announce the death of Dr. A. H. Hughes, late of Toronto, at Bombay, on the 24th of April. The following additional particulars are taken from the Bombay GAZETTE of April 28th.—

"Bombay on Monday, lost one of its most skillful surgeons and most popular citizens, Surgeon Major Arthur Henry Hughes died at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of pyæmia or blood poisoning, which arose from a slight puncture on the hand while making an incision for the relief of a patient a fortnight ago. On Friday last, Dr Hughes was about visiting his patients as usual, and apparently in good health. A slight feeling of malaise he attributed to fever, and he treated himself accordingly. On Saturday he was obliged to remain at home, but in the evening he thought he was much better. The next day the symptoms became so alarming that Drs. Cook, Blanc, Dymock and Gray were called in. The patient stated that he was suffering from fever, now complicated by Asthma; but the four gentlemen just named all agree that the case was one of blood-poisoning, and that recovery was out of the question, and so it proved. Yesterday morning Dr Hughes made his will, and at four in the afternoon, he breathed his last. The deceased surgeon was born at Toronto, in Canada, and was quite a young man. He received his commission in the Indian Medical Department in October, 1869, and came to India in 1870. He was at first stationed up the country, in Kathiawar and other places, and made a reputation as a clever surgeon by some difficult operations successfully performed. In 1874 he came to Bombay and was posted to the Jeafeeboy Hospital, and was made Professor of Midwifery in the Grant Medical College in succession to the late Dr Ward. He has held that Professorship ever since, and had acquired a very extensive practice in Bombay, his reputation making him much in request. He was Honorary Surgeon-Major to the Bombay Volunteers. The remains of Dr A H Hughes were interred in the Lenore Cemetery on Tuesday morning, in the presence of a number of friends, by whom his death is sincerely mourned. The funeral procession left the bungalow at about 6 o'clock, and arrived at the cemetery shortly after seven. Outside the gates an escort of the 10th Native Infantry, with arms reversed, were drawn up. The carrying part was composed of the 4th (Royal Lancashire) Regiment. Among those assembled round the grave Surgeon-Majors Lyon, Arnot, Pinkerton, Cody and Weir. General Hewitt, Mr Jacomb, Mr Manson, Mr Geary, Mr Matthew, Mr Tyrell, Mr Leith, Mr Cornforth, Col. Lockhart Mr Spencer, Dr Blanev, Mr Kemp Capt. Broadfoot Major Fraser-Hore, Captain Tennent, and many others. The ceremony was performed by the Rev Father Cook, and at the close three volleys were fired over the grave by the men of the 10th Native Infantry.

The deceased was married in 1878, to Louisa, daughter of the late H G Bernard, Esq., who survives him.

Keep the Feet Dry.

This is the season of sloppy weather so productive of colds, and lung troubles, neglected cold or damp feet is a great source of these difficulties. Cure your cough with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Pleasant to take and always reliable.

Guiteau has issued another letter full of blasphemy, saying that the Lord will revenge his death if he is hanged.

Always at a Premium.

To this "fifth quarter of the globe," as an Irish writer has called it, the mother country sends many things it people do not want, and the consequences to frequently are an over-stocked market and a depressed trade. From this category we beg leave, however, to exclude two articles—the two celebrated remedies of Professor Holloway. Throughout Australasia they are now at a premium. The Pills and Ointment are considered the most profitable commodities that can be taken to the diggins, as their efficacy in the diseases common in the gold region is well known to every nugget-hunter, and they are therefore eagerly bought up at any price by those toilers after the "mammon of unrighteousness." For bilious fever and all disorders of the liver and bowels which prevail on the auriferous soils of the interior, the Pills appear to be a positive, immediate and invariable cure. We have seen returned gold hunters from the "digging," and their reports on this head are uniform. Nor is the testimony less conclusive in relation to the Ointment as a means of relieving rheumatism and neuralgia, and healing the wounds, abrasions, contusions, &c, incident to a hard life in the wilderness. In short, every one in "the bush" looks upon Holloway's two preparations as a sufficient medicine chest for all the disorders of his outer and inner man. He knows, for he has wintered with them and summered with them beyond the settlements, that they are his surest reliance in sickness at all seasons and under all circumstances. Almost every digger has some anecdote to relate of the cures they have performed. Limbs saved from mortification, ulcers preserved from gangrene, contracted joints relaxed, liver disease arrested, dysentry and diarrhœa cured—these are their trophies. In fact they are among the good things of which we cannot have too much, and although the imports at present are so large as almost to be incredible, still the demand keeps in advance of the supply. Furnished with these remedies the digger and the settler have little need of medical advice, for it seems beyond question that their curative effects cover the whole circle of diseases and a large portion of the chapter of accidents. Of what use is success to the digger, if, when fortune is achieved, he dies beside his hoard? and how many lives that were sacrificed in the early days of the gold discoveries, might have been saved by these inestimable preparations. —THE DIGGER.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere at 25 cents a bottle.
