Schledewitz's Error in the Third Inning Spells Defeat for the McIntyre on Friday

Throws Ball Over Zachary's Head at First Base to Give Hollinger Two Runs. Churchill and Cherevaty Each Allow Four Hits. "Dick-a-doo" Strikes Out Eight.

On Friday afternoon the Hollinger baseball team, capitalizing on a bad McIntyre error in the third inning, jumped into a one-game lead in the northern section of the Temiskaming Baseball League. One game remains to be played next Friday and if the Hollinger can win that game they will take the first half. In the event of McIntyre taking next Friday's game there will be a tie at the end of the half.

McIntyre took the lead Friday in the first inning but held it for only two innings. In the third inning "Red" Schledewitz threw wild to first base in an attempt to catch Chase off the bag and, as the ball rolled into right field, runners from second and third bases scored. It was a tough break for the Macs and cost them the game.

Pitchers on both clubs bore down and with the wind helping them kept all the base hits down to singles. The wind was strong and it was blowing against the batters. Hits that would ordinarily land in the outfield got no farther than second base. Each pitcher, Cherevaty and Churchill, yielded four hits and strangely enough only one of the hits figured in a run. In the third inning Cookson went from second to third and Karahan perched on first base on a hit to right field. Shortly afterwards both runners scored to send the Hollinger into a lead that they never lost.

Vince Barton, fiery playing-coach of the Hollinger, was put out of the game shortly after it started when he became involved in an argument with Umpire Hackett. Only two men had been up for the Macs when this little incident happened. Barton at first refused to leave the bench, but Pete Hackett walked over to the bench and gave Barton one minute to get out of the park. For the remainder of the game Barton coached the team from the outside of the wire fence.

Churchill whiffed eight Hollinger men while he walked three. Mike Cherevaty kept the Macs hitless till the fifth when they started to get at him and even when the Macs got two hits and a walk in that inning they failed to shove a run across the plate. Cherevaty struck out only one and walked two.

Karahan's error in the first inning allowed Ouimet to get to first to start the Macs. Richardson was thrown out at first and on the play Ouimet went to second and then tried to make third. Karahan was watching the play at first and only had a glimpse of the play at third while Hackett didn't see the play at third at all. Karahan called Ouimet out at third and then after a conference with Hackett the decision was changed and Ouimet was called safe. At this point Barton went up in the air and threatened to tear Hackett into small pieces and scatter them in the strong wind. Players from both teams crowded around the irate player and then Hackett ordered him out of the game. Dunn poled out a long sacrifice fly to right field to score Ouimet. Wilson was tossed out at first base to end a rather hectic inning.

Hollinger made a bid to score in the first inning but were left with men on first and third when the inning was over. Cookson was an easy out to start and then Karahan grabbed the first of his three hits only to be forced at second on Chase's knock. Lawton smacked out a hard one that Kossick was ready to take but the ball hit base umpire Karahan and the runners were safe on second and third. Chase stole third and then Romualdi, with a run sitting on third base, fanned.

Both teams went down one-two-three in the second inning and then the action broke out again in the third. After two McIntyre men were out, Ouimet was safe at first on Romualdi's sloppy handling of the ball at short stop. Richardson was walked and then was forced at second base when Dunn knocked an easy one out that way.

Cherevaty was an easy out at first base to start the big third inning for Hollinger. Cookson walked and then went to second on a passed ball. Karahan singled safely but Cookson was held at second base. Chase was walked to advance both runnners and fill the bases. While pitching to Lawton "Red" Schledewitz tried to trap Chase off the bag and threw the ball high over Zachary's head. The ball rolled out into right field and Cookson and Karahan both scored. Chase pulled up at third on the error but stayed there when Lawton flied out and Romualdi was thrown out at first.

Next threat came in the fifth when the Macs got two men on but couldn't push them around. Kossick singled safely but was caught off the bag at first base for the first out. Schledewitz was walked and then Churchill singled to centre field to send Schledewitz to second base. Both men stayed there when the next two men were easy outs, one on a fly to second base and the other thrown out at first base.

Hollinger started a blitz in the sixth inning but were cut off with men on first and second. Chase started by striking out and then Lawton was given a safety when Churchill dropped the ball as he covered first base. Romualdi fanned and Scarlett was given a pass to put men on second and first. Dorey popped out weakly to second to finish the inning.

The Macs started another rally in the seventh that was choked off before it could do any damage. Kossick singled safely after Thayer had been thrown out at first base. Schledewitz was safe at first when the play was made on Kossick at second. On Karahan's bad throw to first base the red-headed McIntyre back-stop went to second. He stayed there when Churchill was thrown out at first base.

McIntyre got one man on first base again in the last inning but were unable to push him around any farther. In Hollinger's last inning they also had one man left on base, Karahan getting as far as second on a hit and a sacrifice.

The score by innings:

McIntyre	100 000 000—1	4	2
Hollinger	002 000 00x—2	4	3

Batteries: Churchill and Schledewitz; Cheveraty and Oltean.

Graduating Class of Ukrainians Will Hold Place

South Porcupine, June 21—(Special to The Advance)—In South Porcupine annals for the first time a "graduating class" at the Public School gave a concert to parents and interested friends on the eve of their departure from public school to enter the rosy portals of a new world in High School.

This happened on Friday in the Auditorium of the Public School with the teachers of Grade 8—Miss Montgomery and Mr. R. Ship in charge.

A nice little programme was presented and a fair audience was present to enjoy it.

All the items were excellent. Costumes deserve special comment, and the Ukrainian orchestra in costume deserves more than passing mention. The little play was wonderfully well given, the actors and actresses giving color and individuality to their separate roles. Singing was very good, and Joyce Allen who gave the address of welcome, stressed the fact that they were sorry to leave their old school. She did this very nicely.

A three-part chorus (unaccompanied) opened the programme after the singing of "O Canada."

Orchestra selection followed: Ella Antilla, Lila Antilla, with Hilda Harvey at the piano.

Irish lilt dance—in costume—Grade Eight.

Solo — "Annie Laurie" — Margaret MacGregor—Sung by a real little Scotch girl.

Boy's Athletics—Nicely performed with Paul Pearce in command.

Piano solo—"Little Froggies"—By Peggy McLellan.

Girls' Athletics—Grade 8—with music supplied by gramophone records, well done.

Solo—"At the Balaika" by Helen Vidlin, with Miss Corkery accompanying—well sung.

Orchestra selection and Sword Dance—The little Ukrainians dancing being Annie Rechetnyk and Nellie Wastuk—guitars being played by Zonie Rechetnyk, Jennie Karpuik and Frances Karpuik, Helen Vidlin and Annie Barilko.

Solo—Nicely given by Barbara Hepburn—"The King is Still in London."

Dance—Minuet in Costume—Joyce Allen; Annie Gecan, Mary Skrabyk, Helkka Salonen.

Play—By pupils of Mr. Ship's room—This was a little comic two-act skit entitled "There's Not a Man in the House"—Players were Joan Somerville, Norbetine Ferrigan, Minnie Zabiak, Nadyne Smith and Mary Harper.

An orchestra selection played before "God Save the King" was sung.

Blairmore Enterprise: Fish have been notified that hostilities against them will commence on Sunday. Oh to be a poor fish!

North Is Vulnerable to Air Attack, Says Reeve of Teck

Should Not Deceive Ourselves About Safety of North, States Reeve R. J. Carter.

(From Northern News)

"We must no longer fool ourselves into the belief that we are secure from air attack here," declared Reeve R. J. Carter, at the Tuesday meeting of Teck Township council at Kirkland Lake, when he strongly urged government action in declaring certain areas of Northern Ontario vulnerable to attack.

"This is a subject that will be gone into very thoroughly by the Northern Ontario Mining Municipalities Meeting to be held, Friday, at Timmins," he stated. "Every Northern Ontario centre is keenly interested in this matter. I feel very strongly about it myself and I know this council does also, for early in the summer we forwarded a resolution to the government asking that this centre be named a vulnerable area in order that A.R.P. work could be instituted here.

"Now, by letter, we are advised that this application should have been sent to the Dominion government and it now appears that we are getting the old governmental run-around.

"Recently an official connected with A.R.P. work visited Kirkland Lake, and other Northern Ontario centres, and had some very pointed remarks to make relative to the situation. I am sorry that the gentleman did not see fit, if only as a matter of courtesy to contact the head of the municipality, or the chief of police who is conducting a very efficient class in A.R.P. work. We would have been very glad to tell him of what we have endeavored to do here.

"I feel very keenly in this matter of instituting A.R.P. classes throughout the north. Here in the north we are fooling ourselves if we think we are secure from enemy attack by air. We are definitely in a very vulnerable position. The situation has become very tense in Finland and in Russia. That area would appear to be the next that may be subject to attack. Through Russia it would be comparatively easy job to strike at Canada for the distance is not great for the aircraft of today."

"Reeve Carter outlined the work already inaugurated here in Air Raid Precaution training. The Teck Township Special Constabulary was an effective nucleus for such work and there was also a very large and enthusiastic group of ladies of the St. John Ambulance Corp ready and anxious to take A.R.P. work.

"This is a matter that Mr. Little, our Dominion member, should take up," said Councillor Shipley. "That is what we have a Dominion member for."

"And what we should have a Provincial member for too," said Reeve Carter.

Council decided to take up the matter very earnestly at the Timmins meeting of the Northern Mining Municipalities in order that the facts be presented to the government in August when delegates from the association go to Toronto.

Schumacher, June 23—(Special to The Advance)—St. Alphonsus Church, Schumacher, was the scene of a lovely wedding Sunday afternoon, June 22nd, at 3 o'clock when Lillian Luchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Luchen, became the bride of Pat Smith, of Manitoulin Island.

Miss Robyn Kellar, and Miss Mary Terebyko, cousins of the bride, and Miss Joan Davis, were bridesmaids. Victor Luchen, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Jack Davis and Steve Popich escorted the bridesmaids. The Rev. Father Martindale officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white chiffon made in princess style. Her head-dress was formed as a halo, with veil caught up with sprigs of Myrtle. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies, baby's breath and ferns.

Miss Kellar and Miss Terebyko wore grownes of turquoise blue georgette, and carried bouquets of talisman roses.

Miss Joan Davis was lovely in a gown of shell pink chiffon, made in princess style. She carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Timmins Youth Convicted of Receiving at Sudbury

At Sudbury last week Roland Boileau of Timmins, was convicted of receiving $620 stolen from the Parkview Inn on the Long Lake road Sudbury on June 2nd. Earlier in the week Winnifred Mackey pleaded guilty to stealing the money and was sentenced to six months. She said that she gave the money to Boileau. Sudbury police at first charged Boileau with the theft of the $620, but when evidence was heard on this charge, the count was changed to one of receiving. The lawyer defending Boileau withdrew from the case, and another lawyer had to be secured. Magistrate McKessock in registering a conviction against Boileau on the receiving charge, pointed out that there seemed to be no doubt about him receiving the money. The fact that he tried to leave Sudbury in a hurry suggested that he knew well enough that the money had been improperly obtained. Boileau was not sentenced after conviction, as two more charges are to be heard against him, one of living on the avails of prostitution and the other of employing girls for that purpose. Sudbury officials enquired of Timmins for Boileau's record here, and there is nothing in that record to help him, as he was apparenly in trouble here more than once.

H. E. Blackwall Loses Post Court Crier at Haileybury

H. E. Blackwell, well-known in Timmins and district from the days when he was liquor license inspector for this part of the North, has for some years past been court crier at Haileybury, but is losing that post, the position being abolished. The New Liskeard Speaker tells all about it in the following paragraph:—

"When next sittings of the Supreme Court and District Court are held in Haileybury, another voice than that of H. E. Blackwell will sound the time-honoured "Oyez" and other familiar phrases. The ancient office of court crier has been abolished in this province as from July 1, and Mr. Blackwall made his final appearances in that capacity at the non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Chevrier this week. He has filled the post since the time of the last war, previous to which the office had been held by J. D. MacKay, now sheriff of Cochrane and formerly on the provincial police force at Cobalt. Other court functionaries now will discharge the duties."

Jail Terms for Carelessness With Forest Fires

Cochrane, June 21—Seven men of this district were convicted here Tuesday on charges under the Forest Fire Act as a result of investigations into recent forest fires in this Northern Ontario area. Five received jail terms and two paid fines.

The charges related to failure to keep fires under control and to failure to have fire permits.

Rosair Provost and Robert Watson were sentenced to two months in jail plus a $100 fine each with the alternative of another two months in jail. They elected to spend four months in jail.

Gordon Saul and Maurice Belisle drew one month in jail and a fine of $25 each with the alternative of another month in jail. George Cricard was sentenced to two months in jail plus a $25 fine or another month in jail. All three chose the full jail terms.

Magistrate E. R. Tucker, when passing sentence, said the practice of setting fires indiscriminately without any thought of the danger had become so prevalent in the area it was necessary to take some action.

"In the present cases," the magistrate said, "as a result of the accused, several people have lost their homes and contents and there has been considerable loss of standing timber.

"Those who indiscriminately set out fires in this manner, especially in this particular time when there is a most urgent need to protect the natural resources of the Dominion, are acting like saboteurs.

"It is hoped that when people realize that imprisonment will follow criticism which has been heard hazardous season, they will curb this dangerous practice."

Three men, Harvey Johnson, James Coates and Albert Cote, were acquitted of charges similar to those laid against the others. Omer Nash was fined $25 and costs and Max Berndt was fined $50 and costs on other charges.

Girl Makes Gallant Effort to Save Man from Drowning

From Val d'Or comes the story of the brave efforts of Miss Geraldine Lahaie to save a companion, Alec Lefebvre, from drowning in Lake Blouin, near al d'Or. The couple were among those swimming off the dock and Lefebvre got into difficulties. The young lady bravely went to his rescue, but he dragged her below the surface of the water. She succeeded in getting away from the man's frantic grip and catching him by the hair strove to drag him to safety. Eyewitnesses made special mention of this gallant action of the young lady, but say that she was unable to hold onto the drowning man and eventually had serious difficulty in making her way to shore. When she did reach safety she was determined to enter the water again, despite her exhaustion, and had to be forcibly restrained. In the meantime Ambrose Coulins of Lamaque Mine, dived for the body of Lefebvre, and brought it to shore. Artificial respiration was applied for fully four hours, but all efforts to revive him failed. Lefebvre was the owner of one of the hotels in Val d'Or.
