A Convert.

The Caldwell Sentinel is published at Tottenham, County of Simcoe, and at the time of the Scott Act campaign there strongly supported the cause of prohibition. Since the people of Simcoe have had a little experience of the working of the Act it has changed its tune, and in its latest issue it inveighs against the drunkenness and rowdyism that disgrace Tottenham as follows:—

"The yells of drunken debauchees that rent the air at the principal corners last Sunday evening would have done honor to a party of Comanche chiefs painted for the war-path. * * * * Unless there is a decided decrease in the scandalous drunkenness of certain localities, a majority of votes around here in a couple of years will go towards legalizing the sale of whiskey.

THE LIBERAL TEMPERANCE UNION.

As a branch of the Liberal Temperance Union has been established in Milton, and as it is not impossible that certain so-called temperance men may attempt to misrepresent it and mislead the public as to its object and aims, it may be well to give our readers a brief explanation of these.

In the first place, it is in fact as well as in name a temperance organization. It enjoins on all its members strict sobriety and moderation, and encourages the taking of pledges of total abstinence by those who, owing to peculiarities of temperament or other causes, cannot use intoxicating liquors without danger of going to excess. While doing this, however, it takes a decided stand against all coercion, recognizing the right of every man to use his own judgment as to what he shall eat or drink, and opposing all attempts to interfere with personal liberty in these matters. It discourages the use of spirituous liquors as beverages, and seeks to educate the public in the dangers of such use. It supports legislation permitting the sale of fermented and vinous liquors, and discriminating against distilled spirits by high license or otherwise. It advocates the establishment of an effective system of inspection to prevent the adulteration of all alcoholic liquors. Above all it combats the unscriptural and misleading doctrine, which is doing so much at present to undermine true religion, that the wines used by our Savior and commanded by Him to be used in the holy communion were unfermented, and seeks to establish temperance on a solid basis, that basis being the Word of God.

Such being its aims, it cannot fail to succeed and it is receiving into its ranks wherever its branches have been organized the best and most enlightened members of the community who, actuated by the desire to benefit their fellows and fight against the spirit of intolerance and fanaticism which has grown so rampant of late, are entering into its work with a will.

"THE FIGHTING OF THE FUTURE."

The above is the title, says the Manhattan Guardian, of a remarkable essay from the pen of Captain Ian Hamilton, a young officer who distinguished himself in the Afghan and the Transvaal wars, and is at present aid-de-camp to General Roberts. Captain Hamilton is at once the boldest and the most reasonable of writers on army reform. His proposals are the simplest possible. Instead of learning as much drill now as little shooting as possible, which is the present system, he would teach as little drill as possible and concentrate the soldier's training upon the one object of making him a real marksman. It is almost an accepted doctrine in Germany that in spite of the size of modern armies victory may still be attained by a very small force if it is superior in the essentials of training and discipline. The Germans have not yet suggested what particular training is required for this object. Captain Hamilton has filled the gap in the theory. He would have an army of soldiers in whose hands the rifle should be an unerring and perfectly trusted weapon. "The soldier," he says, "under the present regime, does drill in some form or another 365 days, and shoots for 10. It is proposed that this distribution of his time should be reversed." In other words, Capt. Hamilton would have an army of which every man would be a thoroughly practised marksman, accustomed to fire at moving objects, and knowing from experience the rifle to be a sure weapon in his hands. This, he seems to say, would be irresistible, even if the drill were no better than that of the volunteers.

There is a good deal of common sense in Captain Hamilton's theories, and it would be well if the Canadian Militia Department would give them careful consideration. The present allowance of ammunition for target practice for each volunteer belonging to our rural battalions is twenty rounds, to be fired when in camp, and as each regiment goes into camp only once in two years this amounts to just ten rounds a year. It is preposterous to expect men to become marksmen under such conditions, and as a natural consequence a very large proportion of our volunteers cannot hit a four-foot target once out of five shots at two hundred yards, the shortest distance at which they are allowed to practice. At this short range misses by average riflemen should be very rare, and as practice and proper instruction are all that are needed to make any physically sound and fairly intelligent man at least an average marksman, the sooner the necessary changes are made in our militia regulations the better.

There ought to be a properly equipped range at the headquarters of each volunteer company, and each man should fire, under the supervision of a competent instructor, at least two or three hundred rounds per annum. This would, of course, cost a good deal of money, but it would be money well expended, and without its expenditure, the large sums invested in clothing, arms and accoutrements for our volunteers and paid out yearly for camps of instruction are little better than thrown away.

Be Exceptions To This Rule.

(Toronto World.)

All the people in the service of the Province, from the Premier down, will have to be vaccinated, in order to that effect having been passed by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, at the request of the Provincial Board of Health. Every official must present a certificate of vaccination to the head of his department.

Down on Agents.

(Erin Advocate.)

This neighborhood is infested with tea and other agents and tramps. In the interest of the public and local dealers alike, these gentlemen should be summarily suppressed.

The Scott Act Jehu.

In an article in the Canada Presbyterian on "some of the surviving members of the John Family," Knoxonian has the following reference to the Scott Act Jehu:—

"The Scott Act Jehu mounts his chariot and shouts loud enough to be heard over a township: "Come, see my zeal." Then drives furiously, and if the Jehonadabs don't come up and ride with him at his killing pace he does his best to drive over them. One of the characteristic marks of a genuine Scott Act Jehu is that while he wants, or says he wants, to destroy the Ahabs of the liquor traffic, he is ready to bow down to any number of Jeroboam calves. In fact he often worships the calves willingly. So long as he opposes the liquor traffic he concludes he may worship anything or nothing just as he pleases. His theory of morals is that, if a man is only opposed to whiskey and shouts for the Scott Act, he may break every command in the Decalogue. Were it not for the many wise men in the Temperance ranks, the Scott Act Jehus would have wrecked the cause long ago.

MORAL LESSONS.

1. Let us be thankful that the majority in most societies and in most churches are sensible men—not Jehus. 2. Let us learn to distinguish between a Jehu tearing along in his chariot yelling and making a fuss and sensible men. 3. Learn that a shouting Jehu generally upsets his chariot and does not drive very long. 4. Let solid, sensible people unite in putting the Jehus on a back seat or in making them hold on to the hind axle."

THE ALGOMA LOST.

The Algoma, a splendid new vessel, owned by the C.P.R. Co., was wrecked in a gale on Saturday morning, by striking on a reef at Isle Royal, Lake Superior, about twenty-seven lives being lost. As there was no record kept of the names of the passengers who sailed on the vessel, the names of many of the lost are not yet known, but the following are some of them: Mrs. Dudgeon of Owen Sound, and two children; Edward L. Frost, wife and child, Owen Sound; Thomas Snelling, waiter; John Scott, L. Butos, and —— Ballantyne, deck hands; Mrs. Shannon, ladies' maid; —— Gill, of Markdale; two brothers named Buchanan; Charles Taylor, steward; —— McIntyre; Geo. Pottigrew, chief engineer; Alex. McDermott, Sarnia, 2nd engineer; Mr. Mackenzie, purser, nephew of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, of Sarnia; Mr. Jones, steerage steward, of Scotland.

The C. P. R.

The American papers are having their say about the Canadian Pacific railway. The Toledo Blade says:—"Though Canada has burdened herself with a heavy debt to secure this road, it will pay, in the long run, in this rapid development of her far western possessions." The Post of Washington Territory says:—"The completion of the Canadian Pacific railway has stirred up the railway world wonderfully. Theories, suggestions, and rumours about the new route are flying the rounds of the press at a prodigious rate. The Canadians promised to show us some new things in railroading. If they do one-half of what is expected of them in the way of lowering rates and treating the public with fairness, their new line will be an incalculable benefit to the entire North-West." The Record, published in Montgomery, Pa., remarks: "The Canadian Pacific railroad will be completed within a week or ten days. Thus another continental line will be opened to the Pacific. It lies far to the north, and will develop a large area of fertile country. It is to be hoped that it will prove a check upon the combination of the other lines." The Rochester (N. Y.) Chronicle says:—"The railway was a necessity to keep British Columbia attached to the British Empire. With no communication except with our Pacific States, it must eventually have cast its lot with them. The Canadian Pacific makes a change."

Fears of Another Outbreak in the Northwest Territories.

QUEBEC, Nov. 8th.—Since the recent return here of the detachment of "B" Battery, under Col. Montizambert, from the North-west, grave rumours are circulating in military circles. Members of the Battery are convinced that their officers have received orders from Ottawa to hold everything in readiness for a return to the North-west in anticipation of more trouble there, and especially of a raid upon some of the forts in the territory. Their conviction on the subject is strengthened by a recent despatch respecting the doubling of the forces at Regina.

Yes. We throw up the sponge. The Scott Act is a failure.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis Catarrah, Asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers, in thousands of cases has felt it his duty to make it known to his fellow sufferers. Actuated by this motive and desiring to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. Noyes, 149 Powers Block, Rochester N. Y.

Work on the Northern and Pacific Junction railway, from Gravenhurst to Callender is progressing rapidly. The line is being built from both ends, and the work will probably be completed about the end of the month.

A fearful cyclone struck the south-western portion of Alabama on Friday night, leaving death and desolation in its track. Thirteen dead bodies and fifty persons dangerously wounded have been found, and a number of people are missing. On Saturday morning the northern part of the State was devastated by a terrible cloudburst, which flooded the whole country and ruined the crops.

A Toronto hotel keeper who owns a pet bear was visited by a couple of whiskey informers on Saturday evening, who, however, failed to make connection, owing to timely warning having been received. John Barleycorn invited them into the yard and introduced them to the playful bruin, who not only demoralized their unmentionables, but inflicted one or two bites that will, it is said, take a legal salve to heal up.

Fluid Lightning is simply a marvellous Rheumatic Remedy. I was for two months a cripple, unable to get out of the house for Sciatica. One bottle gave me instant relief, and placed me on my feet again. I have driven fourteen miles to-day (something I could not possibly have done were it not for Fluid Lightning) for the express purpose of procuring another bottle. So says Wm. Bixon, Gananoque. Only 25 cents per bottle at McCollom's Drug Store, Milton.

A terrible tragedy occurred on Thursday afternoon in the village of Strausberg, Waterloo county, a young German farm hand being found murdered in his employer's barn. His supposed murderer, a young Englishman, was captured at Harrisburg and lodged in gaol at Galt. He is supposed to have murdered the German because the latter had succeeded him in employment from which he had been discharged.

They had a big time in Galt on the night of the 5th by way of celebrating the driving of the last spike on the C. P. R. There was a bonfire in Queen's square, an address by Mr. Houston, the popular local agent of the railway, and a speech on behalf of the town by Mr. Thomas Cowan. Some Galt manufacturers have already shipped products by the all Canadian route to the North-West.

I had been for years a miserable sufferer from Dyspepsia, and tried all known remedies and the best medical skill of my acquaintance, but still grew worse, until unable to eat anything without great suffering, or do any kind of work. I began to think there was no hope for me, and that I must surely die; when, like a drowning man catching at a straw, I determined to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial. I at once began to improve so rapidly that in two months I was as well as I had ever been in my life.—WM. EVANS, LEAMINGTON. Sold by J. H. McCollom, Druggist. Free trial bottles.

ALLEGED RIOTERS DISCHARGED.—At the trial of the alleged Scott act rioters, which came on at Norfolk assizes last week, the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty," after being out of the court-room exactly 4 minutes and 48 seconds by a stop watch. Judge Cameron's charge to the jury was very favorable to the prisoners, amounting, in fact, almost to a certificate of good character. The verdict gave pretty general satisfaction in town.—Standard.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—Judge Rouleau, of Battleford, arrived here last night. The judge tried fifty-six Indian prisoners. Sixteen of these were discharged, twenty-nine were sent to the Penitentiary for periods ranging between twenty and two years, and eleven were sentenced to be hanged November 27. These were said to be concerned directly in the Frog Lake massacres. Of the eleven the Judge says that eight will be certainly hanged, but he thinks the sentence of two will be commuted and possibly that of a third.

Some People are Fools.

That is powerful language but nevertheless true.

Our assertion is based upon the fact that the tendency of some people to throw away their money in the purchase of Ready-made Clothing, which is inferior in every way to the custom trade garments, has led them to learn by bitter experience that the cheapest goods are not the best.

The stuff that is sold for Clothing in numerous stores in Hamilton is calculated to wear out in a very short space of time and then there is some weeping.

The style and fit of ready-made garments gives a shabby genteel appearance to the wearer, and in a very short space of time in the trade can tell a ready-made article of clothing as soon as they see it.

The Majority of the People are Wise.

They show their wisdom by patronizing the Custom Tailoring Houses, where they will have their wants supplied with such good taste as will ensure their return.

We claim to deal honestly with every one, and will make them clothing from the largest and finest stock of cloths to be found in the city of Hamilton, and at prices which will commend our house to the serious consideration of all.
