CHURCH RE-OPENING.—The Methodist Church at Hornby, which has been been closed for some time while being repainted and generally renovated, will be open once more for divine service on Sunday next.

THE death of the late Father Maguire, of Galt, makes the fifth among a group of eight young priests ordained at nearly the same time by the late Bishop Crinnon, of Hamilton. He was well known in this vicinity, having lived in Oakville some years ago.

RAILROAD CHANGES.—Mr. John Hartnett, the obliging and popular agent here of the N. & N. W. Railway Co. has resigned his position and is about removing to Bowmanville, where he will go into the flour and feed business. He will be succeeded by Mr. Lawrence.

PASS HIM AROUND.—Members of the Masonic lodges are warned to look out for an individual named Dalgie or Algie, who is reported to be soliciting subscriptions for the Toronto Freemason. He is not connected with the paper, and will be prosecuted when found. He was last heard of at Goderich.—Brantford Expositor.

WE learn that a case of smallpox has broken out in the family of Mr. John Lighthart, of St. Catharines, late of Milton, the victim being his daughter. Miss Lighthart contracted the disease while, with several members of the Salvation Army, of which she is a member, praying at the bedside of a sick young sailor, named Bell, who had lately returned from Montreal.

WALDIE VS. BURLINGTON VILLAGE.—Our readers will remember that this was a case heard before our County Court Judge for an order to open some streets in the Village of Burlington which Mr. Waldie had closed up. Judgment was given in favor of Mr. Waldie, and the Village of Burlington entered an appeal, which has been set down for hearing in the Court of Appeal which is now sitting.

COLIN MCRAE'S SHOE HOUSE, 30 & 32 King St. West, Hamilton, is crowded daily with customers who have been attracted by the wonderfully low prices at which he offers his mammoth stock. All his goods are new, fashionable and made of the best materials. His ladies' walking boots cannot be excelled in fit and durability, his gentlemen's shell Cordovan boots are the best in Canada, and his boys' and girls' school boots are well made, strong and cheap. Rubbers, slippers, overshoes, moccasins, &c., in great variety.

THE WEST FLAMBORO' DEFAULTER.—No tidings have yet been received of Morden Fraser, the West Flamboro' defaulter. The auditors have completed their examination of the books of School Section No. 5, of which Fraser was treasurer and trustee. The books were in a very confused state, but enough was ascertained to show that between $240 and $250 were missing if certain accounts for which there are no vouchers are found, to be paid as they are shown to be in the books. If they are not the amount will be larger.—Dundas Banner.

A WORD OF ADVICE.—An exchange says a gentle hint to farmers perhaps, will not be out of place just here. "Yo sons of toil let the watchward pass along your ranks, "be on your guard," for verily the harvest is over, the summer is past and the oily-tongued hay fork swindler, the new variety of wheat men, and others of such ilk, are now abroad in the land, prepairing to lay up for themselves much wealth at your expense. Be as diffident and shy about signing notes as you are in paying up for your local paper. If you follow up this plan you will be safe."

DECLINED.—The Georgetown Herald of last week contained another attack on the CHAMPION for having ventured to criticise a certain professional vocalist whom the former has for some time past laid itself out to boom. This is plainly nothing more or less than advertising dodge, and much though it may disappoint our contemporary, we beg to decline to continue the controversy any further. If the singer in question wants any more free advertising it will have to be got elsewhere than in the columns of the CHAMPION. We know that the remarks of our reporter were more than justified; those who attended the late concert in connection with Grace Church know it also, and as professional musicians have no right to object to fair criticism of the performances for which they are paid, no further excuse or defence is necessary.

A NUISANCE.—The Salvation Army, or at least what is left of it here, paraded last Sunday morning. The procession, if it could be called such, consisted of the captain and two soldiers, sent from the main organization to storm Satan's fortifications here. Not a single convert accompanied them; but all the same the noise they made was tremendous. One of them banged a tambourine, another hammered a triangle, a third seemed to be doing his best to smash in the head of a bass drum, while the way all three howled would have been a revelation to Big Bear's braves could they have heard it. The abominable din must have disturbed the worshippers in the churches and it could not have been of any benefit to a sufferer from fever who was lying in a very dangerous state near the line of march of the so-called Army. How long are the people of Milton going to put up with the Salvationist nuisance?

"NOW, I'M GRANDMOTHER."—Perhaps as good a thing as has been seen for some time is an elegant and beautiful picture which Messrs. Pratt & Watkins, of 16 & 19 James St. North, Hamilton, have imported from Europe within the past few days. The work of art is called "Now, I'm Grandmother," and represents a pretty little girl with her grandmother's spectacles on her nose and knitting in hand. A bright smile is playing over her countenance, her very eyes wearing a laughing, roguish expression. A pretty cap is on her head, and her long hair falls gracefully over her shoulders. The beautiful picture is an elegant photo-lithograph, 21x31 inches, and is executed in nine different shades. Messrs. Pratt & Watkins are making a present of one of these very choice pictures to every customer who may purchase $5 worth of clothing or dry-goods from them at one time, or it will be sent by them free by post on receipt of 50 cents. The demand for this elegant souv nir is such that it will be well for the public to call upon Messrs. Pratt & Watkins as early as possible and thus secure one before they are all gone.

RETURNED FROM BATTLEFORD.—Among the men of "C" Company Infantry School, Toronto, who returned from Battleford, N. W. T., on the 20th ult., was James Reid, formerly a sergeant in the Milton Company of the 20th Lorne Rifles. He took part in the battles of Fish Creek and Batoche passed through the latter place on board the Northcote (under command of Major Smith), thence to the relief of Prince Albert, then to Battleford and Fort Pitt. Just previous to his leaving Battleford, he received first prize for being the best shot in "C" Company, making 85 points out 100. He paid some of his friends in this neighborhood a visit last week.

LAWLESSNESS IN GEORGETOWN.—On Monday, before Justices McLeod and Ruston, James Bullivant and George and Rufus Reid, of Esquesing, were charged by Constable Search with being drunk and disorderly on the evening of Oct. 24th. Bullivant pleaded guilty and paid $5 and costs. Geo. Reid was fined $5 and costs, his brother, Rufus, $1 and costs.....Before T. Ruston, Tuesday evening, J. Batchley was charged with destroying property on Halloween. Fined $11.50:.....Before the same, at same time, Mrs. Grandham charged W. Gilmour, John Alexander, E. Alexander and Jas. Alexander with house-breaking and stealing. The boys were under 16 years of age, consequently the penalty was light. Gilmour refused to pay a fine and was sent to Milton for trial. Alexander's boys paid $8.—Herald. The boy Gilmour has since been sentenced by His Honor Judge Miller to five years at the Penetanguishene Reformatory.

DEATH OF ONE OF ACTON'S PIONEERS.—On Saturday morning last a telegram was received by friends here announcing the death of Mr. Miller Hemstreet, at his residence in Cleveland, Ohio, at the extreme age of 85 years. The old residents of Acton will remember Mr. Hemstreet. He was a man of sterling qualities, always a kind and obliging neighbor and friend, and he died a consistent Christian, in full assurance of a blessed immortality. Mr. Hemstreet was one of the first residents of Acton, in fact was a resident before Acton received its name. Forty-five years ago he opened the first grocery in this place, and set up the first sign-post, on which was inscribed, "Danville Grocery, by Miller Hemstreet." Four years afterwards the place was given a post-office, and on motion of the late Robert Swan the name was changed to Acton. Mr. Hemstreet is the first brother in a large family whose death is accredited. Two brothers of the family went to the far west many years ago, but whether living or not the family are now unaware. Deceased was brother of Messrs. William Hemstreet, of Acton; Richard Hemstreet, of Trafalgar; Philip Hemstreet, of Peck, Mich. (well known to our citizens), and was grand-uncle of the editor of this journal. He leaves a wife and two sons, all residing in Cleveland, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father.—Acton Free Press.

THE TELGMANN CONCERT.—The weather on Saturday evening was wet and the roads in a very bad state, and the concert of the Telgmann Septette Club in consequence did not draw as large a house as it would have done otherwise, though there was a fair attendance. The Septette Club, which is composed exclusively of sons and daughters of the late Dr. Ferdinand Telgmann, of Waldeck, Germany, played most admirably and were repeatedly encored, their rendering of Irish and Scotch music being particularly admired. Mr. Oscar F. Telgmann, who, by the way, is a pupil of Joseffy, played a piano solo, a composition of Liszt's, and a most difficult one, and his brilliant and masterly execution secured for him a hearty encore. He was hardly less successful, later in the evening, in a violin solo. Little Doretta Telgmann is a wonderful violinist considering her age, twelve years, and in her solo, a fantasia by Alard, she fairly astonished her audience by her finished execution. She sang very well, too, though her voice is still a trifle childish. Of Mr. C. Kelly's singing we cannot speak too highly. His voice is a magnificent bass, thoroughly under control, and his hearers were fairly carried away by his splendid singing and dramatic force in the descriptive song "Alone in the Desert," while his rendition of "Committed to the Deep," which he sang by request, was equally fine. We are pleased to know that it is the intention of the Telgmann Septette Club to pay Milton a second visit some time during the coming winter. When they do come they may rely on getting a full house, be the weather and roads good or bad.

LIBERAL TEMPERANCE UNION.—A meeting was held on Monday evening at the hall above the post-office for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Liberal Temperance Union. A good number of the most prominent citizens of Milton were present, and a very interesting and able address was delivered by Mr. J. Gordon Mowat, of Toronto, who explained the platform and aims of the Union, after which the following officers were elected: Hon. President, Rev. W. J. Mackenzie; President, Isaac Cartmer; Vice-Presidents, George Smith, Chas. Knees, and Henry Watson; Secretary, A. G. Nedham; Treasurer, D. W. Campbell; Executive Committee, John Duncan, W. J. Watson, V. Chisholm, W. Panton, J. H. Beemer, J. A. Frazer and Geo. Andrews. A special committee consisting of Hon. G. C. McKindsey, W. J. Watson, W. Panton, D. W. Campbell and D. McGibbon was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Mowat for his address and valuable services in organizing the Union, and the meeting adjourned. The platform of the Union, which was signed by forty-one members, reads as follows:—"The object of this Union shall be the practice by the members of strict sobriety and its encouragement in the community, the discouragement of the use of distilled liquors as beverages, the advocacy and support of legislation permitting the sale of fermented liquors, and a duly discriminating against distilled spirits, the securing of an effective system of inspection to prevent the adulteration of all alcoholic liquors, and the mutual improvement of its members." The Milton Liberal Temperance Union will hold public meetings throughout the winter which will be addressed by Prof. Goldwin Smith and other gentlemen who have interested themselves in the promotion of temperance, properly so called, and will no doubt become a very strong organization.
