AUNT RACHEL.

"Bread or Work."

Halifax, March 18.—Advices from Newfoundland are to the effect that the distress in part of the colony is very great A few days ago between eight and nine hundred people belonging to St. John's assembled on the ground in front of the Colonial building and demanded that some special effort be made by the Government to relieve the present distress They said they were not inclined to break the peace or commit excesses of any kind, but that they were desperate and that they would have work or bread. The cry was taken up by the crowd, which was composed of men, women and children, and was very pitiful. The Governor came out and addressed the people, promising to do what he could. The people then dispersed. The Government has been in session ever since, and has decided to open a road to the interior, which will give employment to a large number of men. The Government also will at once open a soup house for the relief of the destitute. Two hundred barrels of flour have been purchased for the purpose
