THE SANDERSON CASE.

On Saturday, July 10th inst., an application was made by Mr. Kappele, agent for Mr. McGibbon, solicitor for Mrs. Sanderson, to Mr. Justice Osler for an order for the issue of writs of habeas corpus and certiarori. After reading the affidavits and papers filed on the application the Judge granted the order and the writs were at once issued and served the same evening.

At the same time a notice of motion was served on W. D. Brothers, Inspector, and W. H. Young, Police Magistrate, stating that on Monday, the 12th day of July, 1886, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, by special leave of Mr. Justice Osler, the court would be moved on behalf of Mrs. Frank Sanderson for an order or rule to quash the conviction and declare the arrest and imprisonment of Mrs. Sanderson illegal, and setting the same aside on the following grounds:—

1. That there was no evidence to sustain the information or conviction.

2. That the proceedings upon the said conviction were contrary to natural justice, sufficient time not having been allowed to the said defendant after service of the summons on her and before the hearing of the said information.

3. That the distress warrant referred to in the warrant to commit was not executed before the warrant to commit was issued.

4. That the warrant to commit the said defendant was issued before the warrant of distress was returned.

5. That the constable had no right to proceed with the execution of the warrant to commit after the defendant offered to pay the fine and costs.

6. That the costs included in the warrant to commit are excessive.

7. That the informant, W. D. Brothers, who arrested the said defendant, never made a demand for the said fine.

8. And upon grounds set forth in the affidavits and papers filed.

On Monday at the appointed time Mr. Kappele and Mr. McGibbon appeared for Mrs. Sanderson and Mr. Capreol for the Attorney-General and the Inspector and Police Magistrate.

Mr. Capreol asked for an adjournment till two o'clock p. m., which was granted.

Mr. Irving, Q. C., appeared and asked for a further adjournment till two o'clock p. m. of the following day.

On the first day the Hon. Mr. Justice Osler, in commenting on the case, said, "It struck me with surprise that a conviction should be made on such evidence."

On the second day, immediately before the argument took place, Mr. Justice Osler, in the presence of W. H. Young, Police Magistrate, Mr. Brothers, the Inspector, Mr. Irving, Q. C., and both the counsel for the defendant, directing his remarks to Mr. Irving, said, "Have you read the evidence upon which the defendant was convicted?" and having received an answer in the negative, continued: "I don't know how it strikes a person living in a Scott Act county, such as Halton, but it strikes an outsider as something terrible that a person should be convicted on such evidence."—The exponent of the Act could wish for nothing better than that any number of such convictions should be made.

On the argument on Tuesday Mr. Irving filed the affidavit of W. H. Young and W. D. Brothers in reply to the affidavits filed on the motion.

Mr. Young, in the twelfth paragraph of his affidavit, said, "I deny that I swore that I issued the warrant on the 14th day of June, as stated in the affidavit of D. McGibbon."

In the fourth paragraph of the affidavit of D. McGibbon it was alleged by him "That W. H. Young, the Police Magistrate who issued the warrant to commit, on which the said Hannah Sanderson was committed to jail, stated under oath that he had issued the said warrant to commit against Hannah Sanderson on the 14th day of June, 1886, and that the warrant of distress against the goods and chattels of Hannah Sanderson was not returned by W. D. Brothers, who had the execution of the warrant of distress, till the 17th day of June, 1886."

Now the reporter for the CHAMPION, who took down the evidence from Mr. Young's own lips when he was under oath on the witness stand, reports as follows:—"I issued warrant of commitment on 14th of June; took it with me to Georgetown on 17th June, when I received return of distress warrant and handed same (warrant to commit) to Brothers."

Mr. Brothers, when he was before the magistrates in the case of assault by Thos. Sanderson on himself, stated under oath that—"I made application to Mr. Young, I think, in Oakville for the warrant; Mr. Young sent it to me by mail," &c., &c.

In the trial of Thos. Sanderson before the Judge, Mr. Brothers stated on oath that—"I saw the Police Magistrate several times; on one occasion I gave him the distress warrant; it was at Oakville; it would be at his office that I gave him the distress warrant."

In Mr. Brothers' affidavit, filed by Mr. Irving, he says that all the "assertions made by Sarah Sanderson, Moses Clark, T. W. Sanderson and James Hugo to the effect (A) that when Hannah Sanderson was arrested she asked me an opportunity to go and get money to pay the fine costs, (B) that I refused to do so, (C) that Thos. W. Sanderson offered to pay the money but I would not listen to him, are wholly untrue.

The argument of the case lasted over two hours, and at the conclusion Mr. Justice Osler said that as to the first ground raised he was of opinion that notwithstanding there was no evidence on which to convict Mrs. Sanderson, he was bound by the decision in the Queen v. Wallace and could not review the evidence. As to the second ground or objection taken, he was of opinion it was for the magistrate to say whether sufficient time had been allowed Mrs. Sanderson to appear to answer the charge. As to the 3rd, 4th and 5th grounds, he reserved judgment till the following day. As to the 6th ground, namely, that the costs included in the warrant to commit are excessive, Mr. Justice Osler said (and Mr. Irving admitted) that too much costs had been charged; but he thought as the warrant appeared regular on the face of it that he had no right to go into a taxation of the costs; and thought that Mrs. Sanderson's remedy was by action against the Police Magistrate for receiving a larger amount of fees than by law are authorized to be received; however he reserved his judgement on this point also. As to the 7th ground, the Judge also expressed his opinion that Mrs. Sanderson had her remedy against the constable for any illegal act done by him.

The Judge held that the Police Magistrate made a serious over charge in the costs and, since the judgment the P. M. has caused to be paid back more than one-half the costs included in the warrant to commit.

The Prohibition Question.

For better or for worse the temperance workers in the Liberal ranks seem determined to commit the Liberal party to prohibition, and a considerable section of that party will strenuously resist any such movement. The knowledge that the question is an embarrassing one for the Liberals of course prompts their opponents to endeavor to throw on the Mowat Government the responsibility for the efficient enforcement of the Scott Act. That responsibility is not openly disclaimed, but the Act is not properly enforced, nevertheless, and there is much and growing bad feeling amongst the Liberal prohibitionists. Whatever else may be the result of this tendency it is sure to affect more or less extensively the selection of candidates for both the House of Commons and the Ontario Assembly. There are many constituencies in which the temperance vote forms a large and, what is of more importance in this connection, an uncompromising factor, and strong prohibitionists will find their way into most, if not all of the Liberal conventions and caucuses. The situation is complicated still more by the comparative unworkableness of the Scott Act itself, as well as the control exercised by the Dominion Government over the fines. Whatever may be done if the fines are handed over to the Provincial Government to be applied to the enforcement of the Scott Act, certainly it will never be energetically enforced until this is done, as the Dominion Alliance recommends. Neither the Ontario Legislature nor the county municipalities will provide funds for putting in force a Dominion liquor law, and if funds are not speedily forthcoming from some source, the Scott Act will become in other counties as it has in Halton, so unpopular that it is sure to be repealed a year or two hence by popular vote. Indeed many temperance workers openly declare that if it is not amended in the line of the Jamieson Bill the sooner it is either destroyed by Parliament or dropped by the people the better, so that the campaign be fought out on the issue of a general prohibitory law.

In Jail in Rochester.

A PROMINENT HALTON MAN CHARGED WITH DEFRAUDING THE BANK OF HAMILTON.

Joseph Williams is a prominent business man of Glenwilliams, near Georgetown, Halton county, and one of the most extensive general dealers in that part of the country. Hitherto he has been considered a man of strict probity, but recent developments have had the effect of disturbing in some degree the confidence which has been reposed to him. Mr. Williams did the most of his banking with the Georgetown branch of the Bank of Hamilton. He owed the bank $16,000, for which he put up as security warehouse receipts for wheat. The bank officials never suspected that the receipts were not as good as gold, until quite recently, when the wheat was looked for and found wanting. He had skipped across the border. Two or three days ago the bank officials were informed that he was in Rochester, and the bank's solicitors in that city were instructed to have him arrested. This was done on Thursday evening, and Mr. Williams is now in jail. It is said that the arrest is merely the first step in a civil action begun by the bank to recover the amount of its claim. The case, however, is hardly likely to end in a civil action, for if it is true, as alleged, that the securities deposited by Mr. Williams were fraudulent, he is guilty of a felony. —Spectator of 17th inst.

SCOTT ACT.

A correspondent to the Toronto Mail on Thursday last says, in reference to the Scott Act in the County of Brant:

"Just at present the people of Brant county are living in utter defiance of a law brought into effect by their own votes, and it would be difficult to give an outsider an idea of the demoralization which not only exists, but is spreading and increasing from day to day, in consequence of the Scott Act being the law, but not actually enforced.

The sale of liquor is positively unrestricted. Since the 1st of May the hotels in all parts of the county have continued to do business as openly as ever before, but not a solitary case has been brought before the magistrate. I passed along the streets of Paris on Sabbath last, and was amazed to see the number of young men who were reeling about in a state of intoxication. I was also informed that on the preceding Saturday night the town was the scene of the most disgraceful conduct in which not only lads but grown men were behaving in the most disgraceful manner, and still the authorities seem powerless to punish anyone."

The New Extradition Treaty.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Tribune's Washington special says the extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain is supplementary to that of 1842. It continues in force the provisions of article 10 of that treaty, which deals entirely with the question of the extradition of criminals, and includes among the crimes made extraditable, murder, assault with intent to commit murder, piracy, arson, robbery, forgery, and utterance of forged paper. To these crimes the new treaty adds manslaughter, burglary, embezzlement, or larceny involving an amount of $50 or upward, and finally, malicious destruction of property which endangers the lives of others, and which in either country is made a crime by law. The last provision is meant to cover the crimes of which dynamiters and socialists have been guilty.

The New Governor of the Northwest.

A correspondent at Regina gives us to understand that Col. Macleod stipendiary magistrate, late Commissioner of the Mounted Police, is likely to be the next Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories, Sir John Macdonald having discovered during his tour the absolute impossibility of his friend Dewdney receiving a second term, or even an extension. Col. Macleod will be popular among the Indians, who regard him as a man of his word implicitly to be relied on, whereas they call Dewdney the Man of Seven Tongues, which is in plain English a splendid liar.

Masonic Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of Canada A. F. and A. M. was in session last week at Windsor. W. Kerns, Esq., M. P. P., of Burlington, was elected District Deputy for this division. A memorial was presented from Oakville Lodge No. 400, asking the Grand Lodge to convey to said lodge the monies and other property of the defunct White Oak Lodge, No. 198, now held by the Grand Lodge. The Board recommended that the Grand Secretary be instructed to make the necessary transfer to the said Oakville Lodge, No. 400.

Mr. Gladstone, in an interview, is reported to have said that if he were to listen to the warnings of age, he would retire from public life, but he would be committing a guilty action in abandoning the field after raising so much ire and inspiring so many hopes, if he did not seek to appease one and satisfy the other.

Tremont, the black son of Virgil, by winning the Tyro stakes, $1500, at Monmouth Park on Thursday captured 12 consecutive stakes for the Dwyer Brothers since May last. LONDON, July 19.—At Wimbledon to day Rigby made 15 consecutive bulls at 150 yards. Light breezes prevailed for a time, and the weather afterwards became rainy. Souter of Aberdeen won the first prize for the grand aggregate of the series with a score of 326. This includes the Dominion of Canada trophy. The shooting for the London Corporation prizes was confined to marksmen from the colonies. The highest scores at the first range, 500 yards, were as follows: Barnhill of Canada, and Davis of India, 40 each; Armstrong of Canada, Cork of Australia and Harwood of Indis, 36 each.

ST. PAUL, July 17.—Special crop reports state that wheat harvesting has commenced in Southern Minnesota and Dakota, and will be well under way in the southern tier of counties next week. In Northern Minnesota and Dakota harvesting will not be commenced much before August. Reports show little change in the condition. There has been no rain in the North-West for ten days. It is now the general expectation that Minnesota and Dakota will not produce more than three-quarters as much wheat as last year. The hot weather the past ten days has been very favourable to corn in the North West. Chinch bugs are reported active at several places.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Engel, President of one of the Chicago Anarchist groups, testified in the Anarchists' trials to-day that it had been decided before the Haymarket riot that in case of trouble with the police, the Anarchists were to storm the police stations, cut the police wires, disable the fire department, and mow down the police and militia with bombs or other weapons. The plan was to be carried out in the event of the police interfering with the strikers, or in the event of their interfering in a row if one originated in the city or at McCormack's Works. The Anarchists thought that there would be fighting. Each group was to act independently in carrying out the plan. In case the police attempted to disperse the meeting, the Anarchists were simply to strike them down however they best could, with bombs, or whatever was most conveniently at their disposal.

The Scott Act in Halton.

To the Editor of the Mail

SIR,—With respect to the Scott Act, I think there will be no peace to the public until we have an executive strong enough to wipe it out of the statute book. It violates one's notion of British law, such as the Crown being the foundation of equality and justice, to have fines and imprisonments here for what is licensed and approved everywhere—to ask that it should be more strictly enforced is to advocate anarchy and confusion. Fifty and one hundred dollar fines or imprisonment for selling a glass of beer or whiskey, which in most cases supplies a needed and grateful want, is not approved of and will not be submitted to. There was no necessity for such a law in the county of Halton, for not one farmer in a hundred was intemperate, and the attempts to enforce it have in most cases been marked by gross injustice. What we were, and what we are coming to, should cause the Government to pause before they go any further in a wrong direction. There is more lawlessness now in one week than we used to have in twelve months before the Scott Act, and every attempt to enforce it only increases the evil.

Yours, etc.,

JUSTICE.
