SLANDER SUIT.—The action brought by Mr. Peter Gould, of Nassagaweya, against Mr. Matthew Beatty of same place, arising out of a letter written at the time of the municipal election last January, when Mr. Gould was a candidate and defeated, was tried at the Guelph assizes last week and a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $25.00 and costs was given.

It was James Joyce, of Bronte, who was fined for breach of the fishery laws—fishing on Sunday. No other member of the family had anything to do with the matter. On recommendation of Inspector Kerr, and by reason of mitigating circumstances in the case, the department has decided to return the confiscated boat and net to the owner.—Star.

AN OAKVILLE SUIT.—In the York Assizes at Toronto, Bain vs. Dominion Telegraph Company was an action for the recovery of the sum of $500 for paint alleged to have been supplied to defendant's order about five years ago by plaintiff, who carries on business at Oakville. No claim was ever made for payment of the amount until four years after the transaction had taken place. The defence was that the amount was paid long since. The action was dismissed with costs.

FOR the third time the office of Mr. Robertson, of the Oakville foundry and grist mill was broken into by burglars, and the safe tampered with. As time more injury was done to the safe by powder than before, but without success to the thieves, as Mr. Robertson never leaves anything of value over night in his safe. The same night an attempt was made—possibly by the same gang—to gain admission to the safe of Mr. Isaac Warcup, in his office near his roller flour mills. Beyond the partial drilling of a hole or two nothing else was done. It appears from the movements of the thieves that they are not entire strangers to the town. Suspicion rests on more than one party of questionable character. The chief Constable has the matter in hand and the news of an arrest may be expected at any time.—Star.

A SALTIN' BATTERY.—A Hallowe'en happening which occurred a few miles from here on Saturday night, will long be remembered by the participants. A son of sunny Italy, who however is cute enough for a Yankee, had retired to his rest, when his wife suddenly informed him that is was the night upon which Irishmen and other barbarians indulged in practical jokes. Having suffered before, and remembering that his buggy stood outside, the Italian arose, got a spool of thread, and went and attached one end to a spoke of the buggy. Carrying the thread in he attached a large sleigh bell to the other end and placed it on a stand at his bedside. He then got his shotgun and loaded it, using a half pint of salt for shot, and leaving it handy, he again retired. About midnight his novel burglar alarm went off, and springing from his bed he got his gun and opened the door. Alarmed the half dozen midnight Mennonics around the buggy and they started for this road rebelling the salt in their rear as they departed. It is thought that they are thoroughly cured of their desire to molest the property of Italian bachelors.

THE November meteors will be due about the 14th, but they should be watched for a few days before and after that date. These meteors appear to proceed from the constellation of Leo. Observers must accordingly prepare to watch the morning sky. A great shower of these meteors is expected in 1889, the time of the completion of the thirty-three-year period, which is that of the densest portion of the meteor stream. This stream is stretched along the orbit of the comet of 1866.

PALERMO.—The bazar and social at Palermo yesterday evening, in aid of the parsonage fund of the Anglican congregations of Palermo and Omagh, attracted a crowd which filled the drill shed to the doors, the receipts being about $150. There was lively bidding for an autograph quilt, sold by auction, which was first bought by Mr. Thos. Little, jun., who, after paying for it, returned it and requested that it should be put up a second time for the benefit of the fund. Mr. Henry Carrique then bought it and almost immediately sold it again and handed the money over to the managing committee. The Milton brass and reed band was in attendance and played a number of selections in first-class style, and the singing of Mr. J. H. Harrison was very good indeed.

HYMENIAL.—On Wednesday, the 27th ult., George Garbutt, Esq., of Nelson, was married to Miss Alice M. Husband, daughter of Mr. John Husband, 2nd deputy-reeve of Trafalgar. The ceremony was performed at Mount Pleasant church, by the Rev. O. G. Collamore, the pastor, who presented the now happy couple with a large bible, beautifully bound and well illustrated, and a beautiful hymn book. Fully a hundred invited guests, who came in spite of the heavy rain, and many of the neighbors witnessed the ceremony. On returning to the residence of the bride's father the guests partook of a splendid repast, and soon after left for home, except those who came from a distance, who remained for finer weather next day. The presents, consisting of silverware, glassware, table linen, and various other articles useful as well as ornamental, presented a beautiful appearance. Mr. and Mrs. Garbutt left for a trip, to return home in about two weeks.—Star.

A FLYING LUNCH.—One of the innovations introduced by the C.P.R. is worthy of imitation on other roads. As we were on the road from Ottawa to Montreal, an energetic acrobat in a white apron came through the cars with lunches. The lunch consisted of sandwiches, cakes and such together with tea or coffee. When he got an order he spread before the hungry traveller a neat little table covered with snowy cloth. He served the coffee and things like a balancer at a circus through the swaying cars. The coffee was in neat little silver pots, and the cups and saucers were of the prettiest China. Each pot held about two cups of coffee, and the charge for a pot of coffee was ten cents. Sandwiches were also ten cents. It was worth the price of admission to see the waiter carry the trays without spilling or upsetting anything. The coffee was simply superb, and I hope when the C. P. R. gets through with the fellow who makes it, that he will take a tour around the country and teach hotel folks how to get up good coffee.—Luke Sharp in Detroit Free Press.

DRUNKS.—Last week's Oakville Star complimented "Billy the Bouncer," our clever License Inspector, on his success in procuring convictions of transgressors against the Scott Act. Billy has certainly during the last six months made matters pretty hot for Halton hotelkeepers; so hot that he has driven no less than four out of the county from Milton alone. By doing this he has driven the whiskey trade from the hotels into the haunts of those pets of the so-called Temperance party, the shebeen-keepers, twelve of whom Billy admitted some time ago to be in business in Milton. Last Saturday and Sunday the shebeen-keepers did a roaring trade, drunks were, if anything, more numerous on the streets than usual, and there was a great deal of disturbance. There was no arrests of Saturday's drunks, but Philip and George Forbes, both hailing from the neighborhood of Campbellville, were arrested on Tuesday, brought before Mayor Hannant, and fined $1 each and costs for being drunk and disorderly on Sunday evening. After the boys got through with their interview with the Mayor they remained in the town for some little time, and when they finally started for home they were full of Milton whiskey and cussedness. On arriving at Campbellville and meeting their father, one of the boys got into an altercation with the old man and struck him. This unfilial conduct was not appreciated by one of his brothers, who repaid the blow in kind and a lively scrap followed. After the boys had had their fill of fighting they took a C. P. R. train for Galt, whence they returned in due time with a jug which they filled with whiskey to enable them to continue their spree; but we have heard nothing of their doings since.

HEMSTREET & BASTEDO are offering a great inducement to their customers requiring Dress Goods. They are selling off their whole stock of new and stylish Dress Goods at cost. Now is your time to invest.

THE TURF.—On Wednesday of last week, at Woodbine race track, Toronto, Wild Rose won a 1½ mile dash, beating George L., Williams and Kraft, the latter being considered the fastest race horse in Canada.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.—We understand that the central committee of the Liberal Conservative Association of Halton will hold a convention for the nomination of parliamentary candidates on Tuesday, the 16th inst., at Roper's Hall, Milton, at 10 a. m.

ORANGE BALL.—The members of the L. O. L. No. 166, Milton give their first annual ball at the Roller Rink on Friday evening, 26th inst. Music will be supplied by the Silver Star band, and the brethren will appear in regalia. Admission 75 cents per couple.

REDUCED HIS FINE.—We are informed that Police Magistrate Young has reduced the fine of Thomas Little, hotel-keeper, of Palermo, from $100, the amount named when judgment was given, to $50. At least the notice sent to Mr. Little calls for the payment of the latter sum.

Burlington Notes.

(Mail Correspondence.)

BURLINGTON, Nov. 10th.—Burlington and Burlington Beach have long been looking for some competitive line of railway connecting them with Toronto. Several surveys have been made of late years, but the line which promises most—both for its own success and for Burlington—is that covered by the charter of the Niagara Central. By following closely the head of the lake, and thence from Burlington Beach to St. Catharines, the distance from Toronto to Buffalo will be eight miles shorter than by any line running through Hamilton. This seems to be the line preferred by Mr. Van Horne, manager of the C.P.R., who has lately visited this neighborhood, and there is every prospect of the speedy completion of the new road.

The Methodists have nearly completed their new church in this village. The cost will be about $12,000. The old M. E. chapel here has been bought by the Church of England for a Sunday school; the price paid was $1,000.

Several handsome residences have been erected during the past year in Burlington.

A POPULAR WEEKLY.—The Detroit Commercial Advertiser is one of the few old established weeklies that is constantly adding to the value of its columns. Taken in connection with our own paper, our readers would find about every possible requirement in the way of current reading. A brief summary of the contents of a Detroit Commercial Advertiser shows the following attractions: The first page has a column or so of first-class poetry and about six columns of well selected matter, mostly of a humorous character. Page two is the story page, and in the issue of November 19, a continued story begins, and in point of real interest is said to outrival any previous serial. Its announced title is 'A Never Forgotten Sin.' Page three is a most interesting department of the paper, The Sitting Room, where at the round table are found letters and contributed articles from all who desire to express their ideas in print. It is really the subscribers' own page. Pages four and five are the editorial and news pages and give everything of interest in the world's doings for the week, while the editorial columns show a fair and independent treatment of subjects. Page six is the Young People's page and is quite as interesting to old as to young readers. Page seven gives the week's market quotations and must be invaluable to the farmer, producer, merchant and business men generally. Page eight is the Farmers' page and gives a vast deal of practical information on agriculture, poultry, etc. Well selected or original poetry appears on the second, third, sixth and eighth pages, as well as the first, and lovers of verse will find all they desire in each week's issue of the Detroit Commercial Advertiser, which, by the way, was established in 1861. The publishers offer a special inducement for subscribers, in their Twenty-fourth Annual Premiums, January 19th, consisting of $40,000 among 100,000 subscribers, and also offer other privileges to subscribers, all of which can be learned by sending for a free sample copy. Address, Commercial Advertiser, Detroit, Mich.

WIDE AWAKE.—We have received the November number of this juvenile magazine, which A. J. Phipps, Superintendent of Schools says has "no superior, and probably no equal in the world." Its illustrations are numerous and rank with those of the most expensive art publications, and its literature is supplied by leading and famous writers. Among the serial stories and series of articles which will appear in 1887 are 'The Story of Keedon Bluffs,' by Charles Egbert Craddock, author of 'The Prophet of Great Smoky Mountains,' 'Down the Ravine,' &c.; a dramatic story of boy life in the Great Smokies, to be illustrated by Edmund H. Garrett; 'Romulus and Remus,' a humorous serial by Charles Remington Talbot; 'Montezuma's Gold Mines,' by Fred A. Ober, author of 'The Silver City;' 'The Secrets at Rosladies,' by Mary Hartwell Cutherwood; 'Howling Wolf and His Trick Pony,' by Mrs. Lizzie W. Champney; 'Bird-Talk,' by Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, &c., &c. The price of Wide Awake has heretofore been $3 a year, but the recent enormous increase in its circulation has enabled its publishers to offer it at wholesale price to everybody, $2.40 a year! Address all orders to D. Lothrop and Company, publishers, Boston, Mass., U. S.

The "Popular Series."

We have received from Mr. Wm. Bryce, of Toronto, the two latest issues of his "Popular Series" of novels, "Breton's Bayou," by John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," "The Barton Experiment," &c., and "The Casting away of Mrs. Lecks and Mrs. Aleshire," by Frank R. Stockton. Both these novels have been favorably reviewed, and Mr. Bryce's editions of them are neatly printed, tasteefully bound, and very cheap. The "Popular Series" if all equal to the specimens received by us, will be sure to become popular indeed.

Mr. Gladstone has made the following reply to a prominent Liberal who proposed the presentation to him of a nation testimonial: "I do not desire and should regret the presentation of any national testimonial; even if the desire sprang from a feeling widely spread, which feeling I do not think exists."

A special to the Mail gives a synopsis of the views of Sir Graham Berry, Chief Secretary for Victoria, on the question of Imperial Federation. He believes in the providing of an efficient fleet for the protection of coaling stations, which he believes the colonies would support. The cablegram says but little interest is taken in the subject by British politicians.
