SHEEP KILLED BY DOGS.—Mr. John Dickin, 3rd line, Trafalgar, on his return home from Milton on Thursday last found two dogs worrying his flock of Shropshire Down sheep. He captured one of the offenders. The faces of four ewe lambs were so badly mangled as to require their slaughter, and Mr. Dickin brought them to town at once, followed by the other dog. On reaching Messrs. Johnson & Zealand's store Mr. Johnson was requested to shoot the dog, but it got away slightly wounded. On enquiry it was found that the dogs belonged to Mr. Thomas Lush, butcher, who agreed to pay all damages. One lamb was bred from imported stock and was one of his pen of prize sheep with which he obtained every 1st prize in their class at Milton, Oakville and Brampton. We understand Mr. Dickin is a winner in sheep. Mr. Lush destroyed captured dog at once.

Call and inspect his goods before purchasing elsewhere.

AN INTOLERABLE NUISANCE.—Last night the Salvationists had what they called a jubilee; but it did not appear to be much of a success, as their street parade was hardly more than a corporal's guard. What they lacked in number, however, they made up in noise, and their racket as they went along Main Street made every window rattle, and greatly disturbed a lady who lay seriously ill close to their line of march, and of whose illness they had received notice. The lady's husband did not interfere with them the first time they passed, but hearing them approaching the second time he ran out, met them, and remonstrated with their captain, who made a pretense of choking off his howling gang while they marched about twenty or thirty paces, and set them going again directly opposite the house where the sufferer lay. It is time that this abominable nuisance should be stopped. The above is not the first nor yet the second case of its kind, and if the authorities of the town don't look after the lazy lubbers who are sent here to lead Gen. Booth's forces and sponge their living from people who are simple enough to support them, and who in many cases have enough to do to support themselves, it will be nothing to be wondered at if some of our citizens take the law into their own hands.

If Lord Colin Campbell is refused his application for a new trial for divorce, he threatens bringing the case before the House of Lords for final adjudication.

The Vienna Pesther Lloyd says the Czar's fear of the Nihilists is excessive. He is suspicious of everybody, including even his wife and children.

The Lennox County Council, while declining to recommend the appointment of a Police Magistrate to secure the better enforcement of the Scott Act, decided to take no action on the communication from the Norfolk County Council asking the co-operation of the Lennox Council in the work of petitioning for the repeal of the Act.—Globe.

At Orillia, where the Scott Act is in force, one day lately a man went into a drug store and presented an order demanding a quart of whiskey for medical purposes, which was supposed to be signed by a medical man. The druggist, seeing the condition his customer was in, and being unable to refuse under the circumstances, directed his sub. to prepare a quart bottle of aqua fontanæ—spring water—and hand it to the sick man. This was done, no change being made, and the unsteady victim of misplaced confidence pursued his way rejoicing.

What Does Mr. Y. Care for Law?

(Dundas Standard.)

A Halton Scott Act vendor of cider, in a letter offered to sell cider to Milton hotels, says: "Mr. Young tells me to sell all I can, as it is all right." Not so; the law distinctly prohibits cider.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers, in thousands of cases has felt it his duty to make it known to the fellow sufferers. Actuated by this motive and desiring to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. Noyes, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, N. Y.
