My Sister's Pink PJ Party celebrating 10 years

KATHRYN BOYLE

This year, the annual My Sister's Pink PJ Party will be celebrating ten years, and over 500 women will be attending the event.

The evening features good food, flowing drinks and Brampton firefighters to spice up the night. There will also be guest speakers, some of whom will be talking about their experience with cancer.

Attendees wear pink everything: pink pyjamas, pink boas, pink hats, anything pink to match the theme.

Organizers believe they are on track to raising over $10,000 and thank the community for its unwavering support.

The event supports initiatives such as the One Walk to Conquer Cancer for the Princess Margaret Cancer Centre and Cancer Assistance Services Halton Hills.

"It is so important to recognize the people who have attended," organizers Julie Liddle and Alyson Findlay said.

"This is the biggest night we've had, and it's going to be the most successful."

"We just want to say thank you, to everyone who has come out and continues to come out," she said.

As of Jan. 16, there are no more tickets available for the event.
