THE CANADIAN CHAMPION.

MILTON, FEB. 24 1887.

THE REFORM VICTORY IN HALTON.

The Conservatives of Halton, having carried the county in the Provincial election of December last by a majority of 122, the reverse they sustained on Tuesday, when the Reform candidate for the House of Commons, Mr. John Waldie, was elected by a majority of 9, was something of a surprise, but it is not difficult to at least partially account for it.

In December's contest, when both candidates were supporters of the Scott Act, the number of anti-prohibition Reformers who refused to support the representative of their party was large. When at the late Reform convention Mr. Waldie, a supporter of the Scott Act, was selected as the candidate of the party, the indications were that the breach would not be healed; but when Mr. Henderson, a prohibitionist, was chosen as the Government standard bearer, and it was reported that the principal wire-pullers on his behalf were anti-Scottites, the Reform schismatics concluded that an attempt was being made to steal a march on them. They at once fell into line to a man, they worked with a will, and their party, instead of being disorganized as before, went to the polls on Tuesday united and sanguine.

Their opponents, on the other hand, were not in as good fighting trim as before. Many anti-prohibitionists disapproved of the choice of their convention and did little beyond voting for him.

The Conservatives were handicapped too with a candidate who was weak at home, where he should have been strongest, and who, instead of increasing the majority secured by his party in December in the village where he resides, failed to equal it by enough votes to have made the result of the contest a tie instead of a defeat.

The Reform candidate, on the contrary, was successful at his former home in reducing the minority of December by more than a third of the majority secured there by the Conservatives throughout the whole of the county.

The Latest Returns.

The returns of Tuesday's voting which we give elsewhere are those received yesterday and published in the Toronto World (Ind.), which appears to have been a trifle too liberal to the Government. This morning it reduces the Government majority so far to 15, as follows:

"We do not classify Quebec for the reason that we can get no satisfactory information. The Montreal Herald (ministerial) gives the Government 27 seats and the Gazette (Conservative) claims insure our recapitulation we have given to each and on this basis the following is the result so far:

RECAPITULATION.

	Con.	Lib.
Ontario	51	89
Quebec	32	32
New Brunswick	9	7
Nova Scotia	12	7
Prince Edward Island		6
Manitoba	4	1
British Columbia	4
	109	94

Government majority so far...15.

YET TO BE HELD.

Algoma	1
Gaspe	1
Northwest Territories	4
British Columbia	5

Of these eleven seats the Government expect to carry nine, which would make their total majority 22, dividing Quebec as above."

The Globe says that the latest news is that in Quebec county Sir A. Caron is defeated by 31, that in Queen's, N.S., Freeman (Con.) is said to be elected by 25, with two places to hear from, and that from Kent, N. B., it is reported that the returning officer failed to send a sufficiency of ballots to some districts, which, if true, will render the election of Mr. Landry (Con.) void. The following are the Globe's figures on the general result, so far:

Opposition	102
Ministerialist	101
Independent	1
Elections not yet held	11
	215
