THE CANADIAN CHAMPION:

MILTON, JULY 7, 1887

THE ladies of the W. C. T. U. of Halton, by a series of resolutions passed by them recently, have declared themselves in favor of the spoils system. They "view with regret the opposition of many county officials" to the Scott Act and claim that no town or county council can act fairly and honorably by the citizens of any Scott Act county while allowing such officials to be upholders or to hold office. This means, point for point, that they want all Anti-Scott office-holders to be dismissed and Prohibitionists appointed in their places. What would these good ladies think of it should the councils of Anti-Scott municipalities act on the same principle? Supposing the Scott Act were defeated here, what would they say to a proposition to turn all prohibitionist officials adrift and to appoint upholders of the licensing of the liquor trade in their places? The ladies should have remembered that "it is a poor rule that won't work both ways," and should have been more careful about allowing themselves to be made use of by our learned and impartial police magistrate and our gallant inspector. These worthies have got into trouble through abusing their positions, which they may possibly lose in consequence, they desire to revenge themselves on those who have exposed their misdoings, and it is evident that they or their upholders have prevailed upon the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to back them up in their attempts to gratify their spite. If it is to do such work as this that it is organized, the adjective "Christian" is out of place in the title of the ladies' prohibitionist of Halton.

THE PROPOSED COMMISSION.

The corporal's guard of prohibitionists who were all who could be induced to attend last week's so-called convention of the Halton Scott Act Association to whitewash Police Magistrate Young and lend their aid to the attempt to burk the proposed enquiry into the practices of that official in connection with his notorious "court of truth and righteousness," set forth their views in a resolution worthy of the three tailors of Tooley street. It reads, as reported by the Acton Free Press, as follows:

Whereas efforts are being made to secure the appointment of a commission of the Ontario Government to enquire into the administration of the Scott Act by W. H. Young, Esq., Police Magistrate, and whereas these efforts are being made exclusively by the opponents of the Scott Act—persons who have persistently obstructed its legitimate enforcement, and who have shown unstinted prejudice and opposition to the Police Magistrate,

Therefore be it resolved that a deputation from this Association be appointed to wait upon the Government for the purpose of conveying to them the fact that this convention and the temperance people generally have entire confidence in the administration of all duties pertaining to his office by Mr. Young, that in our opinion his judgments have in all cases been just and equitable and in perfect accord with the evidence adduced at the various trials, and that he is one of the most efficient and conscientious officers in the employ of the Ontario Government;

In view of all this we have no fear of the closest scrutiny which might be made by any commission of his official acts, but, considering the source from which the petition for a commission emanates, we cannot but conclude that such a commission would be an necessary indignity to an efficient officer of the Government, an insult to the temperance people of the county of Halton, and an unwarrantable expense both to the Government and its Police Magistrate, Mr. Young.

However, in case the Government in its wisdom decides to appoint a commission, that the Government be requested to appoint as members of said commission, persons who properly represent the temperance sentiment of the county.

Whether or not the framers of the resolution, before submitting it to a vote, had inspected the petition to the Attorney-General for the appointment of the commission we cannot say, but the statement that the petitioners are without exception prejudiced obstructionists is untrue. On the contrary, some of them are men who worked in support of the Act, and voted for it. They condemned it only when they found it to be a farce and worse, and they signed the petition because they considered the police magistrate, owing to his ignorance, prejudice and partiality, unfit to discharge the duties entrusted to him.

Possibly the supporters of the resolution are sincere in the opinion that the judgments of the police magistrate "have in all cases been just and equitable and in perfect accord with the evidence adduced." There is no accounting for the delusions of fanatics and cranks; but a different opinion must have been held by the Minister of Justice when he ordered the release of David Dewar, sentenced by Young to imprisonment for an alleged violation of the Act, with the comment that "the convicting magistrate must have been crazy," and by the late Chief Justice Sir Matthew C. Cameron when in the Wallace appeal case he said, according to the Ontario Reports, that the magistrate had convicted the defendant without a "scintilla of evidence." It is true that the Wallace conviction was not set aside, notwithstanding the assertion of the learned Chief Justice, but when his associate judges refused to consent to quash it, they expressed no opinion as to its justice, agreeing to dismiss the appeal solely on the ground that the defendant had no right to certiorari and that they were not justified in reviewing the alleged evidence.

The Attorney-General doubtless will use his own judgment about putting an "indignity" on the police magistrate and "insulting" the so-called temperance people of Halton, but he cannot fail to be amused at the modest request to appoint on the commission, if he grants the petition, "persons who properly represent the temperance (Scott Act) sentiment of the county." What would our Scott Act friends have thought of a request from the petitioners that the commission should be composed of persons sentenced to jail by the police magistrate for alleged violations of the Act? Yet such a request would have been as reasonable as theirs, and such a commission would be as likely to do justice as one composed of prohibitionist cranks.

However, the members of the "convention" in making their request exhibited their ignorance as well as their fanaticism, for the appointment of a commission composed of residents of the county would be a departure from the usual custom, and it is safe to say that if the police magistrate is put on his trial his judges will be non-residents.

DOMINION DAY.

THE CELEBRATION AT MILTON.

The celebration here on the 1st inst., under the auspices of the band and the Olympic Lacrosse Club, attracted a large crowd of visitors, $117.00 being taken in at the gate of the agricultural grounds, where the sports were held, 15 cents being charged for admission. The band was there, under the able leadership of Mr. Roblin, and contributed a number of selections which were duly appreciated.

Probably the most interesting event on the programme was the baseball match between the White Oaks, of Oakville, and the Campbellville club, the result of which somewhat surprised our friends from the lake shore, the Nassagawegians winning handsomely with one innings to spare by the following score:

The lacrosse match between the Ruddygores of Parkdale and the Olympics was very interesting and exciting. The home team showed up in good form and played together beautifully. In team play they far excelled their heavier opponents, who started to play a rough game and continued it to the end. The Olympic home played well together and the ball was kept shooting on the Ruddygores' flags continually. The match was won by the home team by four goals to one. The Ruddygores secured the first game only.

The following is a list of the prize winners in the athletic sports, the spoil mostly going to professionals, of whom there were no less than five on hand and entered for all the events open to them:

100 yds. Race (men).—T. F. Hill, Parkdale, 1st; H. Way, Toronto, 2nd.
200 yds. Race.—R. B. Herriman, Owen Sound, 1st; H. Way, Toronto, 2nd.
440 yds. Race.—R. B. Herriman 1st, C. Noble 2nd.
Half mile Race.—R. B. Herriman 1st, J. Little, O. L. C., 2nd.
Obstacle Race.—S. A. Coxe, O. L. C., 1st; M. E. Mitchell, O. C. C., 2nd.
Farmers' Race, 100 yds.—W. E. Mitchell, Merton, 1st; W. Armstrong, Milton, 2nd.
Boys' Race.—G. Watson, Milton, 1st; A. Symons 2nd.
Tug of War (Band vs. Lacrosse) won by the band.

The cricket match, between the Milton and Lambton Mills clubs, which was the first played by the recently organized local team, resulted in favor of the visitors by 55 runs. The Miltonians had rather hard luck, their two strongest batters being put out leg before wicket, by the Lambton Mills umpire, both decisions being of the rankest kind, and one of their bowlers being so badly injured by colliding with another fielder that he was forced to retire from the bowling department. The following is the score:

The entertainment given in the evening by the Milton Dramatic Club for the joint benefit of the band and the lacrosse club drew a $58 house, and the acting of the amateurs was repeatedly and deservedly applauded. In the melodrama, "Robert Macaire," Misses B. Maclean and E. Dewar and Messrs. V. Chisholm and C. Martin were particularly successful, while in the farce, "The Irish Tutor," Mr. V. Chisholm, as Dr. O'Toole, made a great hit and was well supported by Misses Maclean and Mitchell and Messrs. Martin, Mitchell and Watson. The hall was oppressively hot and the performers consumed large quantities of raspberry vinegar, which was the only beverage served out from the "property" bottles of the French inn, where the scene of "Robert Macaire" was laid. It is to be hoped that none of those of our Scott Act friends who were present imagined the beverage a stronger one and fancied the performers were "injuring up" to steady their nerves. Notwithstanding certain spiteful and lying stories to the contrary, it is a fact that for years past it has been one of the rules of the Dramatic Club to allow no intoxicants upon the stage or behind the scenes, and this rule has been strictly enforced. Wicked anti-Scotts as the members of the club undoubtedly have been and are, they set a better example than many of our so-called "temperance" friends.

Tea Intoxicating.

A strong cup of tea has more intoxicating properties in it than an equal quantity of beer. Notwithstanding the poet's eulogy, "The cup that cheers and not inebriates," an English writer tells of a party of London newspaper correspondents who meet regularly on Saturday nights, and have a regular spree on tea. Some of them are generally found under the table in the morning. The London Lancet tells of a young lady who recently suffered with delirium tremens from chewing tea leaves. How much more evidence is needed to convince our skeptical tea-loving friends.—Caledonia Springs Sanitarian.

Since the Scott Act forbids the sale of the less intoxicating drinks, beer and cider, it should certainly and particularly prohibit the sale of tea.

Failures in Canada for Six Months.

According to the semi-annual return of Dun, Wiman & Co., the total number of failures in Canada during the last six months was 709. The liabilities amounted to $10,461,785, represented by the provinces as follows: Ontario, $2,877,176; Quebec, $1,932,579; New Brunswick, $4,995,515; Nova Scotia, $880,280; Prince Edward Island, $78,500; British Columbia, $66,000; Manitoba, $111,905. These failures are swelled in amount by the failures in St. John, N. B., that occurred just at the close of the first quarter. When the figures for the first quarter were compiled it was found impossible to ascertain what the liabilities of the bank and firms involved were. They have been since ascertained and are now placed in the first quarter, increasing the amount above the figures published at the close of last quarter by $4,000,000.

The Scott Act in Palermo.

To the Editor of the Champion:

DEAR SIR,—The village of Palermo was visited on Saturday last by our police magistrate, a couple of constables, and a lawyer from your town, as well as a clergyman who accompanied the magistrate from Oakville. The object in view was to punish by a fine of $100 our hotel-keeper, Mr. Thomas Little. There were some fourteen witnesses summoned to prove that the defendant sold liquor contrary to the provisions of the Scott Act. Out of the number summoned only two responded to the call of the magistrate. Those two, after being duly sworn according to the most solemn oath that our police magistrate is at all conversant with, said that Little sold them no liquor inside of three months. Certainly the clerical gentleman must have been highly impressed by the complimentary remarks of your lawyer to the constable, such as: "You swore falsely; you perjured your self in swearing that you served a true copy of this summons on one of the witnesses." Now there are a few facts I would like the public to understand, and I think the community in which I have lived for the last forty years will carry me out in saying that I am no advocate of intemperance; but on the contrary have, by my rule of life, been on the side of temperance. And although liquor has been freely sold in the village of Palermo for the last forty years, except one year when a strict prohibitionist kept the hotel, I have not drank a pint of the following: whiskey, brandy, rum or gin, all put together during those forty years. I have raised three sons to manhood, and to my knowledge neither of those sons has ever drank a glass of liquor in Palermo. Under these circumstances, and not having a dollar invested in the sale or manufacture of liquor, I certainly should be in a position to give a candid opinion of the working of the Scott Act in Palermo. I now say that the Scott Act has done more towards demoralizing the community and bringing about bickerings, disputes, and in fact advancing the cause of the devil and immorality, than all the whiskey, brandy, rum, gin and beer that ever were sold in the village of Palermo. For my part I expected nothing better from the Scott Act. When you see men trying to supersede the plan our Savour adopted to save men from the abominations you are quite safe in coming to the conclusion that they and their plans will fail and will be untimely rooted out and dispersed like chaff before the wind.

Yours, &c.,

HENRY CARRIQUE.

Palermo, July 4, '87.

The Bouncer's Conviction.

The Zimmerman Brothers affair lets a little more light into Scott Act procedure in Halton. For instance, Mr. Baxter, of Burlington, swore that in January last Mrs. Zimmerman pleaded guilty to a breach of the Scott Act, and was fined $50 and costs by Mr. Young, Police Magistrate, who afterwards said that, owing to the nature of the case, she having sold liquor under instructions from her husband—the payment of the fine would not be forced. The costs were tendered to him but he would not accept, because he said if he did so he could never enforce the collection of the fine if he should think it necessary. The witness said he had heard that Mr. Zimmerman and his wife were going away from Burlington. The Police Magistrate said that as Zimmerman did not get out of Burlington he thought the fine should be collected. This course is in keeping with his desire for autocratic power. If he cannot drive a resident out of the county whom he considers objectionable, the law is invoked. This time he reckoned without his host, and the blundering inspector of the county was fined $10 and costs or thirty days in consequence. It is to be hoped that this last escapade will teach the magistrate and the inspector that people who are objectionable to them have still some rights that they are bound to respect. The chief point in the judgment is that, following the same ruling, Brothers cannot be forced to pay the fine unless he is found in Hamilton or Wentworth; and though he likes to collect fines he doesn't like to pay them and the excellent result will be that the didn't-know-it-was-loaded official of Halton will not any longer be a menace to the safety of the people of this county.—Dundas Standard.

Accident on the C. P. R.

GALT, July 5.—The eastern express train on the Canadian Pacific Railway due here at 6:29 p.m. ran off the track about one mile west of Galt at a gravel pit near Barrie's cut. It appears that the men employed on a gravel train at the pit left the switch open. The express went through the open switch and down the embankment 25 or 30 feet high, into the swampy ground. The engine, baggage car and smoker rolled down the embankment and turned over, upside down. The next coach, principally occupied by ladies, is partly off the rails, the front end being down the bank. The injured passengers were brought to the Queen's hotel here and are being attended to by the town doctors. None of them are thought to be fatally injured. The names of the wounded as far as known at present are: Engine-driver J. S. Spragg, badly scalded; Conductor Rundell, cut on the head and bruised on the shoulders and legs; Fireman William Johnston, very badly scalded; Baggageman George Lawrence, slightly injured on the spine; John Boigt, news agent, cut on the hand; Mr. Dean, of Toronto, cut on the head and leg; Mr. Johnston, of Ayr, slightly injured; Prof. Trowbridge, of Columbia college, New York, Gen. Trowbridge, of Detroit, and Rev. D. Clement, of Ridgetown, are badly shaken; Annie Cruickshanks, of Detroit, slightly injured on the back; Mrs. Baldwin, of Ridgetown, cut on the head and injured on the sides: Mrs. Hedley, of Amherstburg, slightly hurt.

Working of the Maine Law.

We recently noted the fact that the prohibitory law in Maine was being openly nullified by the sale of imported liquors in the original packages, the dealers claiming to possess the right to make such sales under a decision of the United States Supreme Court rendered many years ago. The State authorities have concluded to test the question whether this ancient decision of the Federal court really sustains a citizen of Maine in breaking the State law which forbids the sale of liquor. The Governor a few days ago sent letters to the Attorney-General, and to the District Attorneys of the various counties, directing them to institute proceedings against such liquor-sellers, and the first steps have been taken in Augusta, where the entire stock of Michael Burns, the most notorious offender, has been seized. Burns claims that he has the law on his side, and will carry the matter into the Federal courts, so that the question will doubtless ultimately reach the Supreme Court.—London Free Press.

Promotion Examinations.

The result of the written examinations held in all departments for promotion are given below. The average percentage obtained by each class is very much higher than at several previous promotions, nevertheless several did not obtain the minimum number of marks required to pass. The greater number of these attend school irregularly. Parents, please notice the cause, and after this endeavor to secure regularity of attendance on the part of those who have failed.

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test or worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.
