For fifty-four years Mr. Campbell resided on this farm. He arrived there from his boyhood's home in Bredalbane, Scotland, in 1833, and only left it a few weeks ago, when he came to Acton. It is one of the best farms in Halton, and has excellent buildings.—Free Press.

REMEMBER the Big Sale of Boots & Shoes at Cost.—P. M. McKAY & SONS.

TURKEY DAY.—Thursday of last week was Dawson & Co.'s great annual delivery of turkeys. A great many were purchased by the firm. Halton beat Peel this time for weight and number. TOYS, Work Boxes, Albums and other goods at awfully low prices to suit the hard times. Lindsay's Fancy Goods Sale begins Saturday morning.

NEW STORE.—Mr. George Smith is now busy fitting up the store formerly occupied by him, preparatory to opening out again, this time confining himself to groceries, boots, shoes and fancy goods. New plate glass windows are being put into the establishment and by the time the improvements are completed it will compare favorably in appearance with any other business stand in Milton. Mr. Smith has received a large stock of the choicest groceries, all fresh; he has bought them for cash and when he opens out, as he will in a few days, he will offer them at prices that will astonish the people of Milton. He asks for a share of the trade of his old customers and of the public generally, and no doubt he will get a liberal share of it.

NEW XMAS GOODS AT I. CARTMER'S.—A choice lot of new Xmas goods—New Fruits, Essences and Extracts Raisins, Valencias, Sultanas, Black Baskets and Finest Dehesa Layers; Crosse & Blackwell's Goods; Lemon, Orange and Citron Peels; Preserved Ginger in one pound pots, Pickles and Sauces, New Currants, New Figs, a large stock of very fine Teas—Young Hysons, Japans, Congous, Souchongs and Orange Pekoes. These are extra fine and extra value; a very good Tea for 25c. per lb. Our Boot & Shoe stock is very full in all lines, and to reduce the stock we will offer special inducements up to the first of January, 1888. We will give TEN PER CENT. discount off all Boot & Shoe purchases up to that date for cash only. We must make room for spring goods. The finest and best selected stock we ever had. Now is your time for bargains. See them. No trouble to show goods.

AN ILLICIT WHISKEY STILL.—On Monday Angus Robertson, of Nassagaweya, a wild-looking Highland Scotchman, was arrested and brought before Mayor Hammond and Geo. Smith, Esq., J. P. He was charged by Mr. J. P. Powell, an Inland Revenue officer from Guelph, with running an illicit whiskey still about three miles from Campbellville. The worm used by him in distilling, and a jug and about a dozen bottles of swamp whiskey were produced in court as evidence against Robertson, who made no defence and was convicted, fined $100 and costs and sentenced besides to one month's imprisonment in the common jail at hard labor. Robertson, it appears, has been operating his still in Nassagaweya for some time and doing a big trade, while the Scott Act party have been claiming that no illicit whiskey was sold in that township.

THE Star says that certain young men of Oakville partook of some kind of "refreshments" a week ago last Sunday night that exhilarated so much that they forthwith took a turn around the town and painted the neighborhood a bright vermillion. Chief Constable Sumner, however, took after them and they forthwith took cover.

BANKRUPT SALE of Toys and Fancy Goods begins Saturday morning at Lindsay's.

CENTRAL BANK.—Holders of Central Bank bills need not be uneasy. There was a meeting of the shareholders on Tuesday when it was shown that money had been provided to redeem the bills dollar for dollar. On the other hand, it seems that the bank has lost a clear million in its three years' operations, that the shareholders will lose their paid up stock, $500,000, and will have to pay another $500,000 and depositors will do well if they realize the bulk of their deposits. The affairs of the bank seem to have been badly mismanaged, all of the directors except one being in debt to it, and it is stated that advances were made to them without sufficient security.

GOING out of Boots & Shoes we offer our large stock at cost. Every pair must be sold.—P. M. McKAY & SONS.

A ROW AT OAKVILLE.—A disgraceful row took place at Oakville on Saturday night last. Six or eight young men residing in the vicinity took part in it. They fought for hours at the Grand Trunk Railway station, and so fierce was the battle that two or three of them were laid out completely and had to be stretched out on the platform until they were able to fight again. The railway authorities got after the men and Constable Thomas Ross, of this city, went to Oakville and prosecuted Thomas Condon, Richard Tobin, Edward Condon and James Jardine for petty trespass and being drunk and disorderly. It cost them each $5.19. Patrick Doyle, another one of the party, gave evidence for the prosecution and thus escaped himself. Other arrests are to be made.—Hamilton Times, Dec. 10.

G. T. R. Constable Ross arrested Frank Newball, who was also in the row, at St. Catharines on Saturday night and brought him back to Oakville for trial. He was fined $10 and costs.

TREBLE has a large stock of Gloves and Mitts, which he is selling very cheap. Remember the address: Treble's, corner of King & James Sts., Hamilton.

WINDOW DECORATION.—This is an art that has for years been a specialty with some of the gilded youth of Milton. At fires they generally exercised their talents in this line after dark and they put in their finest work on millinery shop windows. These were ornamented with stars and stripes, the stars being made by shying rocks through the glass, and the stripes with a brush dipped in the kind of black paint that is commonly used in agricultural implement manufactories. Now they don't confine themselves to milliners' shops, and the decoration is done by squirting tobacco juice against the windows, which leaves the glass beautifully mottled with a rich brown. The new style of the art has this advantage: if the owner of the window does not like the pattern with which it is ornamented he can easily wash it off, something that was hard to do with the black stripes, while the stars were objected to on account of the over-ventilation they caused, for which the unique effects they produced hardly compensated.

BUY the youngsters some presents for the holidays. Lindsay has bought part of a bankrupt stock at 50 cents on the dollar.

BILLY'S BUNGLED RAID.—Last Saturday night, at about 11 o'clock, Didn't-know-it-was-loaded License Inspector Brothers went to the residence of Chief Constable Bradley, whom he routed out of bed and requested to accompany him to the "Temperance Hotel" to assist in the arrest of Neil McDougall, the proprietor of that hostlery, against whom there is a Scott Act charge pending. McDougall was arrested without a warrant when this charge was first laid against him, brought before Mayor Hammond, and released on Mr. Thos. H. Lavery giving bail to the amount of $100 for his appearance at the date fixed for the trial. McDougall deposited $75 to secure Lavery from loss, but did not appear, and Saturday night's raid was made at the instance of Lavery, who was afraid of losing the odd $25. The Bouncer, the chief constable, Lavery and William Spears, reached the hotel at about 11.30, but found themselves locked out. They demanded admission but met with no response. The Bouncer then took a shovel and pried open a window, which he entered, followed by Lavery and Spears, afterwards opening the front door from the inside to admit Bradley. The quartette searched the house from garret to cellar without success, being guyed the while by a crowd of young men and boys who derisively shouted "Rats," "Scruff," and other uncomplimentary remarks which were received by Billy in sulky silence. When, however, as the raiders were about leaving, a little girl employed by McDougall as a servant ran after Billy vigorously ringing a dinner bell, the "dander" of the gallant youth got up in a jiffy. Though he had never ventured to illuse a man, he had made a record by drawing his revolver on Mrs. Sanderson and dragging her along the ground with his "nippers," by the roughness with which he handled Mrs. Peter Zimmerman and for which he was fined, and by, it is alleged, slapping Mrs. Perryman's face. An insult from a fifteen-year-old girl, therefore, was something he would not put up with. He yelled, "Stop ringing that bell," and turned on the little girl as though about to throttle her, but when Mrs. McDougall faced him and informed him that she and the girl would do as they pleased in her house, he weakened and struck for the front door, to which he was closely followed by the girl, ringing loudly as ever. Having got outside, he assembled his assistants and beat an ignominious retreat. McDougall, who had been in the house all time, then came out of his hiding place, treated the boys, and sent them home. On Monday he entered an action against Lavery, from who he claims damages for house-breaking.
