Fire.—Last Saturday forenoon the dwelling of Mr. Christopher Curry, on Pine Street, took fire from a defective chimney and was burnt to the ground. The bulk of Mr. Curry's furniture was saved, and the house was insured for a reasonable amount.

At the assembly last week at Georgetown the attendance was large, the music was of the best, the ladies and gentlemen were about equal in number, so that there were no wall flowers, and altogether it was the event of the season and a great success.

Saturday a Nassagaweya farmer bought a barrel of salt in Guelph and took it home. When he got there he found the grocer had given him a barrel of pork in mistake. The farmer, an honest man, made the exchange. It strained the grocer.

A caveat has been filed with the surrogate clerk here against probate being granted of the will of the late Joseph Barber, of Georgetown, on the ground that the will was not executed by him. The personalty of the will amounts to upwards of $20,000.

Counterfeit.—In these days when so much counterfeit money is in circulation it is very necessary that every one should be able to see well. Then why not go at once to Johnson & Zealand's (Dewar's Block), and procure a pair of the celebrated Stanley Spectacles. They guarantee to suit any sight.

Rev. Messrs. Johnson, of Jarvis, and Clark, of Ancaster, delivered able addresses at the annual missionary meeting held at Grace Church, on Sunday evening. The attendance was large, as was also the offertory. On Sunday afternoon both the rev. gentlemen accompanied Rev. Rural Dean Mackenzie to Hornby, and assisted in the services at St. Stephen's Church.

This year Easter will fall on the 1st of April—nine days earlier than last year. The earliest possible day for Easter is the 22nd of March, and it fell on that day in 1818—for the last time in about two hundred years. In 1913 Easter will fall on the 22nd of March, as it did in 1845 and 1856. The latest Easter occurred in 1886, the 25th April, and it will not fall on that day again until 1943.

Mayor Robertson is to be complimented on the comparative good order that has prevailed in Milton since he took office and tried his first police court cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The fines which he then imposed, and the warning that he intended to give all such cases the full benefit of the law, have had a most salutary effect on the frequenters of the shebeens which the Scott Act has created and fostered.

Georgetown Building Destroyed.—Early on Monday morning a fire destroyed Clark's hotel, Buck's butcher shop and Patterson's bakery. The two latter belonged to Dr. Todd, the former to Mr. Thos. Clark. The buildings were all partially insured. The fire originated from the oven of the bakery, and was well advanced before it was discovered. Mr. Patterson is the heaviest loser. The total loss will probably be $8,000.

In Omagh church on Sabbath, 8th inst., Messrs. James Ford, Nelson Ford, and William Cave, Omagh, who had previously been unanimously elected by the congregation, were ordained to the eldership. There was a large attendance, including many strangers. The Rev. Joseph Johnson, minister of the church, presided and presided; the elders from Hornby who assisted were Messrs. Dugald Campbell and Joseph Johnson.—Presbyterian Review.

A Broken Arm.—Last Sunday while Mrs. John Lawson of Acton was on her way to church there, she fell on the side walk and broke her arm. Not knowing it was fractured she went to church and stayed through the service. On arriving home she examined her arm and sent for a doctor who found that the break was somewhat severe. The fracture was reduced and the arm is healing nicely. This accident will fall heavily on the unfortunate lady as she is now well up in years.—Georgetown Herald.

Band Concert.—Owing to the extremely cold weather on Friday evening, the concert at the town hall for the benefit of the band was not as well attended as it might otherwise have been. The cornet solos of Mr. Clark, of Toronto, were rendered in first-class style as was also that of Mr. Roblin, of Milton. The fine tenor singing of Mr. McPhail, of Campbellville, won for him repeated encores. Mr. Ramsay, the comic singer from Toronto, was not an unqualified success. The selections played by the band and the orchestra did the performers and their instructor, Mr. Roblin, great credit.

London.—Mr. D. W. Campbell, late of McGill College, Montreal, will give his entertainment on London at the Town Hall to-morrow evening. He illustrates by over 100 beautiful dissolving views the great sights and leading features of England's capitol and place, near it, and gives a full description of each view while it is before the audience. For the sake of variety a few pretty effect pictures will be introduced, and for the little ones a few nonsense ones. The entertainment has been endorsed by the leading newspapers of the province and by the majority of the most prominent clergymen.

The publishers of the Government organs will not make anything out of printing the Dominion voters' lists after this. The work will be done henceforth in the Government printing office at Ottawa, and when the lists are once set up the type will be left standing and will be corrected year after year. The total cost of the work and material for the first year is estimated at $94,-684.75, and for each subsequent revision $7,800. Since the Dominion Government insists on leaving its unnecessary Franchise Act in force and making the country pay for the voters' lists, it is well that the expense should be kept as low as possible. No one, therefore, but the publishers of the Tory organs will object to the Government's new scheme. The Globe says there will be no "no new lists this year."

Sad Drowning Accident.—About 6 o'clock last evening a most unfortunate drowning accident occurred in the lake on Burlington village. The lake is frozen over for some distance from the shore and the ice is only about an inch and a half thick, yet quite a crowd of boys were skating upon it. Richard Mortimer, Willie Kerns and John Matthews, three boys about 13 years of age, were skating about 5 o'clock, and shortly after Kerns and Mortimer were skating together on the ice not far from the end of Kerns's dock, when the former observed the ice getting black with water just below their feet, and at once called out that the ice was giving way and started to skate from the spot, but too late. The ice for about ten feet around where Mortimer was standing broke up and he sunk at once. Little Kerns was more fortunate, having nearly reached the safer ice, and when he got into the water he found himself near enough to the edge of the hole to grasp the ice, and thus was prevented from going down. Then a miniature hero of the cool, common sense style appeared in the person of Johnnie Matthews, their companion. All the other children in the vicinity were too small to be of any use, but Matthews luckily happened to have a hoop in his hand. He crawled forward as near the hole as he dared and then reached out the hoop to young Kerns, who, by the assistance thus afforded, was able to scramble out, but not before the ice had broken away with him two or three times and placed his rescuer in great danger of going in with him. When Kerns got upon the ice Mathews cautioned him not to stand up, but directed him to lie down flat, and in that position he was pulled slowly over the surface to a place of safety. He had been in the water for about five minutes and was very much benumbed with cold. The boys immediately gave the alarm, but it was nearly half an hour before a boat could be got and efforts made to save young Mortimer.—The body was found without difficulty and taken to his grandfather's house near by, where every effort was made by Dr. Richardson to resuscitate him but without success. He was a bright, intelligent boy, the son of James Mortimer, a highly respected resident of the village, and his death has cast a gloom over the entire community. His grief-stricken parents have the sincere sympathy of the people of Burlington in their sad bereavement. Young Kerns is a son of Wm. Kerns, M.P.P.—Spectator, Jan. 31.

If you want the latest American Hat, go to Treble's, corner of King & James Sts., Hamilton.

A Success.—The tea-meeting held on Friday evening at the Orange Hall, Hornby, for the benefit of the Presbyterian church, was, notwithstanding the bitterly cold weather a great success in every respect, the proceeds amounting to $80.

A Bad Scald.—Jas. McDonald, proprietor of the plaining mill near the basket factory, let the steam from the big boiler blow off on Thursday night of last week after six o'clock. The first part of the escape pipe was a little smaller than the second part and joined close to an angle leading into the ground and through to the bank of the creek. About 80 pounds of steam were on, this high pressure being necessary to run the saw mill and the planing mill at the same time. To reach the cock, Mr. McDonald had to enter a narrow passage walled on one side by the boiler and on the other by a thick stone wall. So great was the force with which the steam escaped that it refused to turn the angle leading downwards and shot back on the outside of the small pipe and directly upon Mr. McDonald. The fireman, Jos. Tuck, was throwing water on the fire at the time, and when he saw the steam and hot water flying back in the passage he at once became certain that his boss was dead. Mr. McDonald tried to crawl through a hole in the ceiling but found it too small. Then, with little or no hope of saving his life, he pulled off his coat and buried his hands and face in it. As quickly as possible he felt his way to the top of the boiler, crawled along to the front, and dropped on the sawdust before the furnace. He is now lying at his home, under medical attendance, and is not expected to leave the house for a few weeks. His hands and face and neck are very badly scalded.—Oakville Star.

More Snooring.—On Thursday night Whiskey Inspector Brothers accompanied by an imported detective named McFadden, made a raid on Georgetown. First they arrested Mr. W. T. Jackson, grocer. Next they went to the Bonnett House, where they arrested Wm. McLean, said to be bartender there, against whom they were bringing a charge, and though the arrest was being made in the first instance they wanted to handcuff him. McLean submitted to the arrest, but refused to allow the bracelets on his wrists, intimating that there would be a big fight before they were put on. The whiskey detectives finally gave up the idea of the handcuffing, and took McLean before a magistrate, who released him on his giving bail to appear before Police Magistrate Young for trial. A descent was next made on Clark's Hotel where an entrance was effected by kicking in a panel of a door, and smashing a lock. A summons was left for Mr. Clark and Brothers and McFadden started for Pitman's hotel, near the G.T.R. station. They were followed by a large crowd yelling "Rats," "Scaps," &c., and occasionally throwing snowballs at the informers. These lightheaded gentry lost their tempers at this, and McFadden drew a revolver and fired a shot. Robert Bennett, who was some distance off, on hearing the report, ran to where to detectives were, pulled a picket from a fence, and made for them. McFadden then fired a second shot. According to the Globe's report of the affair, which was sent from Milton apparently by the Bouncer himself, this shot was fired "into the crowd." It struck the picket in Bennett's hands, but no one was hurt. A charge of unlawfully carrying a revolver was laid against McFadden, who was brought before Magistrates Ruston and Kennedy, the latter a violent Scott Act partizan, and as might have been expected, the case was dismissed. On Friday Wm. McLean was fined by "Beak" Young $100 for a second offence against the Scott Act, Elias Clark and Wm. Pitman were charged with third offences, and after hearing the evidence Young reserved judgment. The case against W. T. Jackson, charged as a second offence was adjourned. The raid caused great excitement at Georgetown, where the outrageous general conduct of the whiskey detectives and the reckless shooting by McFadden have turned many against the Scott Act who formerly supported it. It will materially increase the majority for repeal on March 1st.

To the Electors OF THE COUNTY OF HALTON.

Gentlemen:—

Having received and accepted the unanimous nomination of the Reform Convention to contest this County for its vacant seat in the House of Commons, and having found with regret it impossible to visit you personally, I would respectfully request your attendance at the public meetings hereafter to be announced through the columns of the press. I merely outline my views on the political questions affecting the interests of our beloved Dominion.

I am opposed to the surrender of any of our rights in our extensive fisheries without receiving therefor a just and equitable equivalent.

I am opposed to sudden or extreme changes in the tariff, which I believe could for present purposes be readjusted beneficially for the manufacturer and consumer, and would advocate a policy for the extension of our general trade with foreign powers on fair terms.

I am opposed to the increase of our national debt (already too large) for useless and questionable undertakings.

I am in favor of cutting down the annual expenditure to the lowest point possible, consistent with the efficient, vigorous and honest administration of the affairs which legitimately belong to the Federal Government, in order that the earnings of the masses should be left with them to fructify and bring forth fruit such as improved condition and comfort.

Our franchise laws are in my opinion complex and expensive, and should be amended towards manhood suffrage—one man one vote—a registered voters' list, and the appointment of officers to make and revise such lists who shall be independent of the Government of the day.

I depreciate all abuses of the vote power, and am opposed to all monopolies and locking up of our lands in the Northwest for speculative purposes, believing the land should be for the actual settlers, the price, if any, for the improvement of the country.

I trust, by and with your votes, support, and co-operation, to be placed at the head of the poll, for which I shall ever feel grateful, and, if elected, my time and ability shall be devoted to the furtherance of your interests and those of our country. To guard your privileges and zealously watch your liberties, so that they won't be infringed upon, shall have my constant solicitude. I shall not give a factious opposition to the Government, but will support and promote such measures as in my humble opinion will benefit this country and people and give all an equal chance before the law.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
Wm. McLEOD.

Georgetown, January 25th, 1888.

NOT A BOOK AGENT.

Mr. H. Watson, Druggist, is not a book agent, but has the agency in Milton for Johnson's Tonic Bitters, which he can heartily recommend for any complaint to which a tonic medicine is applicable. This valuable medicine has been used with most astonishingly good results in cases of general debility, weakness, irregularities peculiar to females, extreme paleness, impoverishment of the blood, stomach and liver troubles, loss of appetite, and for that general worn out feeling that nearly every one is troubled with at some part of the year. Don't forget the name Johnson's Tonic Bitters 50c. and $1 per bottle at Watson's drug store.

In the report of the meeting of the Women's Temperance Union, of St. Thomas, published last week, it was decided to communicate with Mr. Beaton, License Inspector, in reference to the continued open violation of the Scott Act in St. Thomas. A correspondent adds:—The citizens are only awaiting the repeal vote, when their opinion of the fanatical attempt to make people sober by Act of Parliament will be recorded in a manner not at all to the liking of the Women's Unions, etc.—London Free Press.

NEVER TRIED IT."

What! Never tried Johnson's Tonic Bitters! Then do so at once, it's positively the best general tonic on the market. I've often heard of it but thought that it was to be placed on the list of the many trashy preparations that flood our market, but since you recommend it so highly i'll give it a trial. Do so, it's good for any complaint in which a tonic is benefit, and can be taken by man, woman, or child, 50c. and $1 per bottle at H. Watson's drug store, Milton.
