THE CANADIAN CHAMPION

MILTON, MARCH 22. 1888.

Rev. C. R. Morrow says in his letter to the Globe, on the result of the Halton vote on the repeal of the Scott Act, "Perhaps we did wrong in accepting for a time a half-way measure." It remains to be seen whether Mr. Morrow will not, in his capacity of professional agitator, notwithstanding his doubts, try to induce the electors of those counties that will vote on repeal on the 19th April to accept for another term a half-way measure.

Hon. Joseph Martin, Provincial Secretary of Manitoba, who is a native of Milton, paid the town a flying visit on Tuesday. He was returning home from Ottawa, where he and Premier Greenway got very little satisfaction from the Government. Mr. Martin says that, with or without the consent of the Ottawa Government, the Red River Valley Railway will be completed and in running order within a few months, possibly by 1st June. Disallowance is not a party question to the Manitobans. It means ruin if it is continued, and they won't put up with it.

REV. C. R. MORROW, professional prohibitionist, agitator and organizer, says in a letter to the Globe on "The Halton Defeat:" "I suppose that the reason why so many vote against temperance measures is the personal desire to drink as they say in moderation." As "the Halton defeat" was due, as shown by the vote, to a change of sentiment among the farmers, who in the former contests carried and sustained the Scott Act, that Act, if Mr. Morrow's supposition is correct, has cultivated and increased among our agricultural friends a desire for intoxicants. Mr. Morrow is very complimentary to both the farmers and the Act.

THE Spring Assizes for the united counties of Prescott and Russell commenced at L'Orginal on Friday. As there were no prisoners to be tried Mr. Justice Falconbridge received from the sheriff the customary pair of white gloves. As the Scott Act was defeated in Prescott and Russell in November, 1885, by a majority of 1796, our "temperance" friends are not likely to make as much noise over those L'Orignal kid gloves, given when there were no cases to try, as they did over the Halton ones, presented at six assizes when there were prisoners tried for most serious offences, such as perjury and rape. By-the-bye, during the Halton campaign, the Temperance Herald, a minor edition of the Toronto Citizen, published the statistics of committals for drunkenness for 1884 and 1887 of a number of counties, in which it asserted that the Scott Act was in force, and also those of a selected number under license, to show by comparison the benefits of prohibition in the decrease of drunkenness. The best showing of the lot was made by Prescott and Russell, where there was not a single such committal in either year, so notwithstanding that big majority against prohibition, our veracious friend Brother Spence, put them among the Scott Act counties.

The verdict of the people of Halton in repealing the Scott Act was in effect a declaration that they did not believe the rash and too often unfounded statements of the clerical prohibitionist agitators, and that they had no sympathy with the wholesale denunciations by the latter of all those who opposed the Act. It was also an expression of confidence in the Anti-prohibitionist newspapers, including the CHAMPION. This is galling to the over-zealous and discredited parsons, and is all the more so because their condemnation comes from the more intelligent and independent portion of the community, the great change of sentiment against the Act having manifested itself among the farmers, and the only gain by the prohibitionists having been made in Milton through the shebeen interest, which has grown to be a power here under the favor of the police magistrate and our gallant inspector, and through an alliance with a disgruntled faction, who voted contrary to their real sympathies owing to local jealousies. Their reverences are now busy concocting and publishing excuses for their defeat, such as disfranchisment of their voters by Senator McKindsey, a Scott Act-Liberal bolt, an alliance against the Scott Act of Liberal Antis and Conservative pros in the interest of the Government candidate in the political contest of last month, etc., etc. These flimsy excuses are laughed at here, they will carry little or no weight against the Halton verdict in the counties which will vote on repeal next month, and for the benefit of the electors of which they have been invented, and they will bring additional discredit on their inventors, whose wiser cause would have been to have accepted the adverse verdict, dropped their meddling with questions which can be safely left to the voters, who are intelligent enough to settle them unaided, and resumed their legitimate work—that of preaching and teaching the Gospel.

Give Him a Leather Medal.

W. H. Young, Halton's learned police magistrate, had another added to the long list of his quashed Scott Act convictions last Friday at Osgoode Hall by Chief Justice Galt. The following is the Empire's report of the proceedings:

Reg. v. Bennett.—Motion on return of habeas corpus to discharge a prisoner in custody under a conviction under the Canada Temperance Act. W. M. Douglas for the prisoner. Delamere for Attorney-General. Order made discharging the prisoner. This was a conviction by the police magistrate of the county of Halton for an alleged third offence against the Act. It appeared in evidence that the prisoner was the owner of the Bennett House in Georgetown, that he had leased to one McLean a portion of the lower part of the house at a weekly rental of $12, and that liquor had been sold by this lessee personally or by his agents. The prisoner, called by the Crown, had denied having sold any liquor as charged. The learned judge held strongly that it was against conscience for the Crown to convict on the uncontradicted evidence of the witness denying the truth of the charges; it was in effect this: "Admit the charges, and of course we will imprison you; deny them, and we won't believe you. If the evidence given by the man were found false he could be indicted for perjury."

The Anti-Scotts are under deep obligations to Young, and when with the return of the license law his occupation as presiding officer of his notorious "court of truth and righteousness" will be gone, and he retires from the bench to give his undivided attention to his business of undertaker, or "funeral director" as he puts it in his advertisement, they should make him a presentation of some kind, for no one has done as much as he to bury the Scott Act. He may fitly be called the "funeral director" of prohibition in Halton.

Pitcher's Castoria. Children Cry for

Constables Morrison and Hanks, the two Scott Act constables who distinguished themselves at Alliston on the 10th inst., by shooting and dangerously wounding Corrol and Foley, two unarmed men who were running away from them, and who had been committed to jail at Barrie, were released on bail on Monday, as the wounded men were progressing favorably and were considered out of danger. The judge accepted in Morrison's case, two sureties for $1000 each and his own bond for $2000, and Hanks had to find two sureties for $500 each and give his own bond for $1000. The feeling against the constables is till very strong in Simcoe county, and the shooting has turned a great many voters against the Scott Act who formerly supported it. The result will be seen on April 19th when the county will vote on the repeal of the Act.

THE REV. STONEHOUSE.

LONDON, March 16.—The Rev. Stonehouse, of Adelaide village, charged with blackmailing a number of Strathroy liquor dealers, appears to have left the country for good, for when his case was called by Magistrate Noble at Strathroy to-day, Stonehouse failed to answer to his name and the magistrate declared his bail estreated. Counsel for the prosecution put in the following letter in the Bixel case, which was the first one down for trial:

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 51, 1888.

To Mr. Oscar Bixel.

SIR—I have been through the West and have succeeded in getting a case against you and all your drivers for the illegal sale of beer, and I have sufficient evidence to convict you all. I am a detective, and will sell you all the cases for $25. If you choose to buy me send me the money at once to Oscar A. McNelson, Toronto, Ont.

The case was then enlarged for a week, as there appears to be a belief in the minds of some that the accused will come back yet. A private letter from him says that he would come back only he feared personal violence. He is needlessly alarmed, however, because the hotel-keepers of the town feel that he is punishing himself more severely than they would.

Among the blackmailing letters alleged to have been written by Stonehouse is one to Jas. Alexander, of the Commercial hotel, in which prosecution for perjury is threatened for evidence given in a recent charge against Bixel, and another to a Warwick hotel-keeper who is threatened with fourteen years' imprisonment for perjury. Probably Mr. Stonehouse is acting advisedly in remaining out of the law's reach.

Stonehouse, it is said, attempted blackmailing along the line of the Sarnia branch in almost every town and village. He is also credited with being the informer in most of the convictions that have occurred under the Act in West Middlesex. His mode of operation, as observed at Glencoe recently, was to hang around the place and watch all who entered the hotel on certain day. He then forwarded their names to the inspector, and when the summonses were issued the hotel-keeper deemed it better to plead guilty and pay a fine, than to drag such a crowd of witnesses to court.

PANCAKES IN VARIETY.

On cold winter mornings pan cakes of all kinds hold an important place at the breakfast table: the buckwheat cake the most cherished of all. When properly made, this is the most delicious of all the griddle cakes, but it has been against it when made from yeast or risen over night that it was difficult to make light and sweet, and that disagreeable effects frequently followed its eating. It is found that by the use of the Royal Baking Powder to rise the batter these objections have been entirely overcome, and that buckwheat cakes are made a most delicious food, light, sweet, tender and perfectly wholesome, that can be eaten by anyone without the slightest digestive inconvenience. Once tested from the following receipt no other will be used: Two cups of buckwheat, one cup of wheat flour, two teaspoonfuls of salt, all sifted well together. Mix with milk into a thin batter and bake at once on a hot griddle.

The purest and richest syrup is made by dissolving sugar in the proportion of three pounds of sugar to one pint of water. Many persons prefer the flavor of syrup made of Orleans sugar to that made of the white.

Rice griddle cake are very delicious. The rice is cooked until perfectly soft, drained dry, mashed with a spoon until the grains are well broken up. For each cupful of rice take two eggs, one pint of milk, one heaping teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and flour enough to make a thin batter.

For hominy cakes take two cupfuls of cooked hominy, and crush it with a potato-masher until it is a smooth mass. Add one level teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder, and one cupful of flour. Stir together; then add by degrees one quart of milk, and lastly three well beaten eggs. Bake in thin cakes.

Very delicate and delicious cakes are made by allowing two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt to 1 quart of milk, and sufficient corn meal, mixing all into a smooth, thin batter; no eggs or butter are used for these. The cakes bake quickly to a rich deep brown, and are extremely tender and light.

A very delicious, sweet pancake is made by taking one pint of sweet milk, four eggs, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, and flour enough to make a moderately thin batter. Beat the eggs, whites and yolks seperately, until well frothed, stir the butter, sugar, and one cupful of flour, into which the baking-powder has been mixed, into the yelks, then add the milk. If needed, add more flour. Bake in small cakes, butter each one as it comes from the fire, place four in a pile, with very thin layers of any kind of sweet jelly between, and powdered sugar over the top. They should be baked very thin and four served to each person.

The Wimbledon Team of 1888.

OTTAWA, March 16.—It is definitely decided that Colonel MacDonald, of the 66th Battalion, Halifax, will command the Wimbledon team this year, and that Captain Wright, of the 43rd Ottawa Rifles, will be second in command. The team this year will consist of Lieutenant P. E. A. Smith, of St. John, N. B.; Sergeant S. Case and Gunner Campbell, of Halifax, N. S.; Lieutenant H. C. Dover, 78th Battalion, Colchester, N. S.; Private D. Mitchell and Sergeant W. M. Goodwin, 18th Battalion, Hamilton; Lieut. W. Mitchell, 82nd Bruce Battalion; Lieut. H. H. B., Sergeant Marks, 6th Fusiliers, Montreal; Private McAfee, 1st Prince of Wales' Rifles, Montreal; Captain G. A. McMicking, 44th Welland Battalion; Sergeant Miner, 71st Battalion, York, N. B. Lieut. Chamberlain, Staff-Sergeant Ashall and Private Armstrong have each been to Wimbledon twice. Lieut. W. Mitchell has been there three times.

Prohibitionists in Conference.

TORONTO, March 20.—The ninth annual convention of the Dominion Alliance, Ontario branch, began to-day, ex-Mayor Howland presiding. About eighty delegates were present. The report of the Executive Committee expressed satisfaction with the work during the past year, and pointed to the time when temperance men must rise above party ties and vote for principles. The discussion of the report showed that a large majority of those present distrusted both political parties, and were strongly in favor of a bold political action. Many of them point to the formation of a third party. A resolution was passed recommending the co-operation of the Convention with the Council of the Dominion Alliance in securing the National Convention of Prohibitionists at a central place in the coming summer, when a definite line of policy for the future on which all sections of temperance people could unite. Reports of Scott Act enforcement were given by inspectors and others, some of which were highly satisfactory and others discouraging. The political action report did not recommend anything drastic—a policy of watching and praying.

Returning to Common Sense.

London Free Press.

Rev. C. R. Morrow, the Scott Act organizer in Halton, describes in a letter to the Globe, the noxious measure as but "trifling in a half-hearted way with this question. We want prohibition." It may be unfortunate that the Scott Act had done so much to injure the cause of real temperance, which cannot be promoted by the agency of spies and informers, lay or clerical, nor by means of fines and imprisonments, often secured by means of downright perjury. Mr. Morrow goes on to say:—"We must have prohibition with a Government behind it that will enforce it, a Government that will be a terror to evil-doers, but as a friend to them that do well." In fact, Mr. Morrow would call out the militia to enforce his view of matters as against those that differ from him. This whole matter of forcing people to be good according to some patent method of goodness—peculiar to the inventors of it—has been often tried, and has failed so frequently that it is matter for surprise that any one should endeavor to fall back upon it at this time. The defeat of the Scott Act in Halton—brought about as the result of nearly six years experience of the operation of the Act—has made the temperance (so-called) fanatics desperate. But a far greater defeat awaits them in the near future, when county after county will rise up and expel the mischievous intruder. Mr. Morrow says that "all the ministers of the Gospel in the county, with perhaps two exceptions, were against the repeal of the Act." It is clear that the people intend to set aside the fulminations of the pulpit in this matter, and return to the common sense manner of conducting business which has been rudely interfered with by those whose practical acquaintance with the ways, the means, and the needs of ordinary life is confessedly very small.

LOWVILLE.

Mrs. George Colling, of Marlette, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Robinson, of Bruce County and Mr. and Mrs. Foulell, of Chicago, are all visiting friends in this neighborhood.

There is a man in the township of Nelson, not over ten miles from Lowville, who when the vote for the repeal of the Scott Act was taken on the 1st inst., both talked and voted against the repeal. It is now rumored that he intends taking out a license to sell that which he was apparently voting against. Verily, "consistency thou art a jewel," which but few possess.

The Lowville boys have evidently benefitted by their debate with the Nelson Literary Society, as we have overheard some of them making some very "elaborate" and "discritical" remarks since Friday evening.

The Queen's has been doing a rushing business for the past while-back. It is reported that the proprietor intends to try and get a wine and beer license, but as popular opinion seems to be against having a licensed house of any kind here it is not likely he will get it.

The weekly meeting of the Literary Society was held on Wednesday instead of Friday evening of last week. The instrumental music was furnished by J. Nicholson and J. B. Pembroke, songs by the Glee Club and Mr. and Miss Colling and readings were given by E. L. Colling, W. Readhead and Miss Annie Howie. The debate was "Resolved that the mechanic is more independent that the farmer." The affirmative speakers were J. Turnbull and R. Watkin, and the negative, F. Delong and H. Naisbitt, and was won by the negative. Mr. Richardson acted as critic. The debate for Friday evening will be "Resolved that capital punishment should be abolished."

The challenge debate with the Nelson society took place on Friday evening at Nelson, and was won by Lowville. The debate was, "Resolved that intemperance causes more misery than war," Lowville taking the affirmative. The speakers for Lowville were J. F. Richardson and R. Watkin, and L. Springer and A. Anderson for Nelson.

The debate between the pupils of the Lowville and the Limestone schools took place on Friday afternoon. The subject of debate was "Resolved that more knowlege can be gained from reading than travelling." Lowville taking the affirmative. The Lowville debaters were J. Watson, J. Colling and H. Naisbitt, and the debaters for Limestone were H. Turnbull, G. Gastle and J. Sharp. The debate was won by Lowville.

On motion of Mr. Davies, a petition signed by Wm. Ghent and others, was received and read, said petition asking that a union school section be formed, consisting of the following portions of the Townships of Nelson and East Flamboro', that is to say:—All that portion of School Section No. 1, in the Township of Nelson, lying northerly of the Grand Trunk Railway, all that portion thereof lying westerly of the Northern & North-western Railway, and lots 1 and 2 in the Broken Front Concession of the Township of East Flamboro', and lots 1 and 2 in the First Concession of the said Township of East Flamboro', and that arbitrators be appointed under the provisions of Section 36 of "The Public School Act of 1885" in the matter of the said proposed Union School Section.

Mr. Davis moved, that the following accounts be paid, viz: T. Clazie, for ten cords of stone in div. 46, $30; T. Easterbrook, for lumber to pathmasters, $17.72; Joseph Alton, 1½ cords wood, $4.25; Kerns & Co., nails, posts, &c., $5.55; Wm. Beeton, bridge in Springer's Survey, $16; John Tuck, putting in culvert in div. 34, $20; Chisholm & Elliott, for legal advice, $10.—Carried.

The tenders for printing from the several county offices were examined.

On motion by Mr. Pettit, the tender from the office of the Reformer was accepted—it being the lowest.

Council adjourned to meet on Monday, the 2nd day of April, at 10 o'clock a. m.
