Ladies and Women.

The Third Party Would become Desperate.

From The Montreal Herald.

We have already expressed the opinion that an assured continuance of Sir John in power for another ten years would create an immediate agitation for annexation of such strength that our national effacement would inevitably occur before that term had expired.

A Shameful Exhibition.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

For the credit of the United States in the eyes of the world, it is most earnestly to be hoped that international questions may hereafter be kept in abeyance during the pendency of presidential elections in this country. * * There is little choice between the two houses or between the two parties in their short-sighted partizan treatment of the gravest questions of foreign policy. * * The whole business of making campaign material out of our international relations is extremely discreditable, and must make our government a reproach and scandal in the eyes of the world.

High License.

(Spectator)

The secretary of the New York State Liquor Dealers' association says: "The passage of the high license bill last winter, instead of strengthening our organization, seems to have knocked the splinters out of it." The best class of liquor sellers desire high license, because that will rid the traffic of its worst features. The saloon-keepers do not want it. Nitter do the professional prohibition agitators, because it would destroy their profession. They desire the liquor trade to be as bad as possible so that they may be able to whip its enormities to reprobation. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians."

Salt in Whiskey's Work.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The fire brigade was called out yesterday afternoon, as usual being given that a cottage on Rideau street was on fire. No water was there, so the blaze had been extinguished by neighbors. The fire was found to have proceeded from some kindling on a chair in a clothes closet, and it was subsequently ascertained that Martin Murphy, the occupant, who had become a worthless character through drink, had sent his wife and children away, had placed all his furniture in the backyard and had refused his neighbors admittance to the house when the smoke was noticed. Other suspicious circumstances also aided in inducing the police to arrest him for arson. He was finally overpowered, but the constable who first attempted to tackle him will bear the scars for some weeks. Bad whiskey and a row with his landlord are supposed to be the cause of his revengeful act. He will be tried on Wednesday.

The Strathroy Murder.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The inquest on Jonathan Robinson's remains was opened in the fireman's hall, Strathroy, this morning and lasted all day. The hall was crowded. County Attorney Chas. Hutchinson appeared for the Crown. Wm. Pike, the young man arrested on suspicion, was discharged before the inquest began, as there was no evidence against him but his own wild statement. Several witnesses were examined, but there was not a particle of evidence to show who committed the murder. At a late hour the jury returned a verdict that deceased was murdered by a person or persons unknown. There is great excitement in Strathroy and Adelaide Township. The deceased was regarded as a quiet, inoffensive old man. The township will offer a large reward for the murderers and will ask the Ontario Government to supplement it.

BASE BALL.

The Oakville Stars, having been very successful in their games with amateurs, are going to tackle a professional team. They will play the Hamiltons at Oakville to-morrow.

Last Saturday at Burlington the local team defeated a nine of Green & Co's wire works, Hamilton. Score 12 to 10.

The Omagh and Lowville arranged to play a match here on Saturday. Only six of the Omaghs put in an appearance so Mr. Powell of Milton, took charge of the second bag for them, and Messrs. Gallie and Patterson 1st and 3rd respectively. When the game commenced only four of the Lowvilles were on the ground and Messrs. J. Moat, M. Brush, Roland Brush, J. Hannant and W. Lindsay, all of Milton, played for them, Mr. Hannant retiring at the end of the fourth innings, when the fifth Lowville man arrived. When the Omaghs went in in the ninth innings they wanted 6 runs to win, and they got just that many, all unearned, by hard hitting after the Nelson men had made several errors. The score:

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 24.—A large box arrived here yesterday from Warsaw. The address was insufficient and the box was opened, when it was found to contain the body of a lady attired in a costly dress, with a profusion of lace and jewels. SUDDEN DEATH AT GEORGETOWN.—Last Monday Rev. I. B. Aylsworth, a superannuated and at one time prominent Methodist minister who lived at Collingwood, was on his way, with his wife, to visit friends at London. They changed cars at Georgetown and at the junction there Mrs. Aylesworth got into the Hamilton train by mistake. Aylesworth ran towards the train to take her off and while doing so fell. He got up and started again, but fell a second time. A stone was placed under his head by railroad men and Rev. Rural Dean Mackenzie, of Milton, who went to Dr. Aylesworth's assistance, put a handkerchief on the stone. Dr. Aylesworth never spoke after he fell. His face became purple, and in a few minutes he died, the cause of his death being supposed to be heart disease. His body was removed to Collingwood on Monday evening. He was in his 76th year.

A HALTON WILL CASE.—Thos. Simpson, a farmer in Nassagaweya township, Halton county, and executor of the will of the late Mary Calvert, of that county, brought suit in the Assize Court at Toronto yesterday against David P. Anderson, a railway conductor, who lives in Toronto: On July 15th, 1885, Anderson borrowed $650 from Mrs. Calvert, giving her two promissory notes for $300 and $350 respectively, to bear interest at 8 per cent. per annum. On July 25th, 1886, Mrs. Calvert died, but during her illness she returned Anderson's notes, the plaintiff asserted, on the condition that he was to pay the amount of one to her banker at Guelph and the other when the money was called for by the executor. Anderson contended that Mrs. Calvert, whose adopted son he was, returned the notes unconditionally, never expecting him to pay them. The jury had not arrived at a conclusion when the court adjourned, and Chief Justice Sir Thomas Galt instructed them to hand their sealed verdict to the sheriff.

Our Toronto correspondent telegraphs this (Thursday) afternoon:—In the case of Simpson vs. Anderson the jury disagreed, after being out several hours. Defendant offered to pay costs providing plaintiff would drop the action. Plaintiff has not yet answered defendant's proposition.—Hamilton Times, Sept. 20th.

A PICNIC AT NORVAL, and what we saw and didn't see at it:—The Church of England Sunday Schools of Norval, Hornby, and Stewarton, held their annual picnic this year at Norval on Tuesday, this week. After a brief service of praise and prayer in the church, conducted by Rural Dean Mackenzie, the scholars with their parents, pastors and friends adjourned to suitable grounds adjoining the village, where the good people of Norval, including the Rev. A. H. Bowden, his churchwardens, and others, had made ample preparation as to tables, benches, and swings for the entertainment. It was estimated that about 500 people, old and young, were present; and this number was the more remarkable that the cloudy sky in the early part of the afternoon rained a little and threatened more. But the clouds relented, the blue sky began to appear, and picnicing went on "merry as a marriage bell." Baseball players in fancy costumes went on with their batting, catching, running and hurrahing. Football players made things lively here, there, and everywhere. Swings swung. Sedate and elderly people quietly sat or strolled about engaged in conversation, while others were engaged in the good work of setting forth refreshments, of which there was galore. Under the superintendence of Mr. J. B. Lindsay, a table capable of accommodating about a hundred guests at a time was soon supplied with most appetizing viands and the ever welcome tea. We understand that the table had its complement of guests four or five times. It was a pleasant sight, so many well-dressed and healthy-looking children, young men, and maidens; and equally pleasant it was to mark in the aspect of the parents the same signs of temporal prosperity. We searched among the crowd for some specimens of the alleged generally starved Canadian farmer and we could not find one. So we came to the conclusion that in this Canada of ours "our lines have fallen to us in pleasant places, and we have a goodly heritage." As the shades of evening began to prevail we betook ourselves homeward with pleasant recollections of the annual picnic, sorry to part and happy to meet again.—COM.

FOX.—At his late residence, near Hornby, on Monday, Sept. 24th, Anthony Fox, M. D., aged 61 years, 1 month and 24 days.

The Late Dr. A. Fox.

Dr. Anthony Fox, of Hornby West, after suffering long from a painful disease, died last Monday, and was buried yesterday (the 26th inst.) in the churchyard of St. Stephen's, Hornby. Dr. Fox was highly esteemed not only for his professional skill as a physician, but also for his kindly, sympathetic and gentlemanly character. The long train of carriages filled with sympathising and mourning friends and neighbours testified to the high estimation in which he was held. Not a few of them had known him from his youth, and many of them had been his patients in former years. All bore testimony to his upright, benevolent, and pacific character, and that while they believed that he had never left an enemy behind him, he had nevertheless strong convictions on certain public questions and had the honesty and courage to avow them and act in accordance with them. The pall-bearers were Drs. Freeman, Robertson and Stuart, of Milton; Dr. Webster, of Norval; Hon. G. C. McKindsey, of Milton, and John McMillan, Esq., of Hornby. When the Dr. became convinced that his days were not to be many in this world, we udorstand that in a satisfactory manner he indicated his preparedness and well-founded hope for happiness in the world into which he was about to enter. We sincerely sympathise with his widow and family, and rejoice to know that they are not left to mourn as those who have no hope."
