Hints for the Household

For February

By BETTY WEBSTER

Readers, Note: If you have any questions concerning Recipes, and other Household Hints you would like to ask Betty Webster—address her in care of The Durham Chronicle.*

VALENTINE PARTIES

Hearts

Hearts is a very appropriate game. Have heart-shaped score cards.

Place dishes of old-fashioned heart motto candy on each table. For supper or refreshments serve:

Creamed Chicken in heart-shaped pastry shells.
Tomato (as pie) salad in heart molds. (Tomatoes were called love apples by the Indians.)
Heart-shaped sandwiches.
Cherry ice or ice cream.
Heart-shaped cakes.

Give for prizes:

To lady: Heart-shaped pin cushion.
To gentlemen: Heart-shaped key ring.

ANOTHER VALENTINE PARTY

Make life size drawing of man or woman. Tack to wall. Blindfold man or woman and give each a paper heart with a pin and see who can pin it nearest the place where the heart belongs. Give simple prize.

Another Stunt

Pass sheet of paper with St. Valentine written on top. Pass pencils. Allow each guest 20 minutes and see who can make the best night letter using letters contained in "Saint Valentine" in order of letters. Such as:

"Send Amy Into New Theatre," etc.

Give prize for best letter. Serve heart-shaped sandwiches, cake and ice cream—also coffee. A large cake containing omens—corn, ring, horseshoe, thimble, etc.

COOKING HINTS

Cabbage

A seasonable vegetable.
A now popular vegetable.
It contains vitamines.
It contains minerals.
It contains starch.
It contains cellulose.

Cabbage Salad

2 cups chopped cabbage.
1 pimiento or green pepper.
Little onion.
¼ pound cheese.

Method: Chop cabbage. Cut up or grate cheese. Chop pepper. Add onion. Season. Stir all together well and mix with salad dressing.

Frizzled Cabbage With Cream Dressing

Small Cabbage (2½ cups).
1 cup grated cocoanut.
Cream Dressing.

Method: Quarter cabbage. Cut out hard stalks, chill in water. Cut in fine shreds. Mix cocoanut with frizzled cabbage. Stir slightly and mix with cream dressing.

Cream Dressing

Mix regular mayonnaise dressing with half again as much cream whipped stiff.

Sausage and Fried Apples

Fry sausage well done and brown. Cut up apples in slices.

Fry in butter until they are a golden brown. Just before taking from fire, sprinkle some granulated sugar over apples. Mix well.

Serve fried apples on hot platter and place sausage around edge. A pretty and tasty meal. Baked potatoes added will make this a complete meal.

THE LATE CARDINAL LOGUE
(Stratford Beacon-Herald)

Cardinal Logue, Roman Catholic Primate of Ireland, is dead.

Cardinal Logue was one of the most remarkable figures in the ecclesiastical world. He owed nothing to physical attractiveness or grace of manner. He was short in stature, of attenuated frame, and harsh of countenance. In manner, he was brusque and unconventional. His rise to eminence and his tremendous influence were due to his intellectual force and his great qualities of character.

As churchman, as statesman, as scholar, as patriot, the cardinal made his mark upon the age. Few Irishmen of his generation wielded more influence in his native land than he. His fellow-countrymen had confidence in his sagacity, his foresight, and his common sense. And he was big enough man to tell his countrymen in plain words of their faults and mistakes, and to warn them against the consequences of policies advocated by popular leaders.

Dr. Logue's latter years were saddened by the internal broils among the people whom he loved so well. He had no sympathy with extremeists of any sort and was wise enough to perceive the advantages of compromise and bold enough to advocate it. If his advice had been heeded and acted upon, most of the troubles which have befallen Ireland during the last quarter of a century would have been avoided. In his death the Irish people, no less than the church, have lost a great servant.

WOULD KEEP PRINCE BUSY
(Amherstburg Echo)

The Prince of Wales soon tired of the simple life on the ranch and departed for other parts. He is a bundle of nerves and simply can't stay put. He seems to crave excitement, and it is said that what he does day after day would kill most men. We advise him to buy a weekly paper. Then all he would have to do would be to poke about here and there for anything to make a news item about, edit the correspondence, attend town council meetings and listen to an hour's dissertion on why the sewer at Block Street was plugged, collect accounts, explain why an important item was left out last week's issue, rejoice with the living, sympathize with the sorrowing, urge upon advertisers the necessity of handing in copy for their advertisements early (which they forget the following week), read proofs, feed the press when the "devil" has social engagements, explain the difference between news matter and advertisements, tell—but why continue? He'll learn it all when he heats the editorial seat.
