HOPEVILLE.

The new Presbyterian Church at Explin 1½ miles south of here was opened by Divine Service at 11 a. m, on Sunday, 13th inst, by Rev. Mr. Morrison, of Cedarville. The church is a very creditable building, and is much better than was at first thought to be, and as now the church site pull is over and considerable blame was laid to both parties in the matter, all we need say is that the old church party who stuck for the old site has done well and deserves credit for getting such a fine building up in such a short time.

And then, getting the old pastor, Rev. Mr. Morrison to open it, was a touching, and appreciated, and a well deserved tribute to the pioneer pastor of Proton Long before any church was built he had to travel on foot through swamps and over logs to reach some log shanty to hold service in, with worshippers as sincere as those who meet to-day under more comfortable circumstances.

The new church is on the site of the old one that was burned down only a few feet distant. On the opening occasion it was well filled, although very few of the members that built the first church there 30 years ago were to the fore. Still a number of these families were there and were very active in having everything comfortable for the congregation. There was noticed among the people only two of the old committee that had charge of the building of the 1st church: Mr A. McPhail and Mr. Jos. McArdle, but among the new and efficient officers of the present are to be found members of the families of Russell, Scott, Stirrick, Fettes, McWilliams and others all trying as to who could do most. The services will be held in it regularly now, and a more public opening will be held in the near future when there is time and better roads. The McLeash converts of course were conspicuous by their absence.

A number of our residents were attending court in Owen Sound last week over a trifling dispute that arose here. Postponed until next court.

Some evil disposed person last week lifted the steps and platform from the front door of the hotel, and a man that was staying there all night went to go out and had a fall of four feet, luckily escaping serious accident.

BOOTHVILLE.

We had a heavy fall of snow on Thursday and Sunday, and by all appearance we will have an early winter.

A large number attended the funeral of Mr. Peter Moodie on Tuesday last. Miss Maggie Moodie came home a few days before her father died. Also Miss Pheobe came home on Monday from Owen Sound where she was attending the Collegiate Institute.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Charles McDonald who was so suddenly called away. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved wife and family.

Hoffman is back to Boothville looks as if the world is using him well.

Mr. McQueen had a shingling bee last week, and judging from the number coming from that direction the cold much. They had a cold house this but a quick move on. [illegible] has been laid up [illegible] Jack is not as smart as he thinks he is nor he used to be.

Messrs James and Donald McQueen of Stayner, brothers of Mrs. J. E. McQueen spent a few days at J. McQueen's last week.

We are glad to say that Miss Alice Wilson is well again.

Last Saturday the packing blew out of the engine of the Boothville factory, one could not see Jim run for steam.

At the time of writing Mr. Malcom McCannel has a mare down with inflamation.

IRISH LAKE.

News is so scarce in our quiet little neighborhood, that we necessarily must be somewhat dilatory in corresponding to our favorite little local, the Review,

Miss Kate Martin, of Haley's Corners, paid a short but pleasant visit to Irish Lake friends last week. Miss Martin possesses a bright winning disposition, and is a favorite with all.

Mr. Donald McRae, who has been so seriously indisposed is improving under the care of a skilful physician, Dr. Boyle of Priceville.

Mr. Andrew Kelly has been exerting his strength in that laborious task, well digging, around the Lake this fall.

Although Wednesday night was stormy it did not prevent a merry crowd responding to invitations to a party at Mr. Dick Whittaker's near Flesherton. The chill of the cold November drive, was soon dispelled by the good cheer within. The boys all speak highly of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker.

The familiar form of Mr. Frank Martin is seen no more in our midst, he having gone back to his former occupation at the Sault. Frank is a genial lad, and his large circle of friends regret his departure.

Mr. J. Free of Strathnairn, interviewed the Trustees of this section, re. the purchase of a new chart. We have not yet been apprised as to whether a sale was effected or not, but we sincerely hope so, however.

Mr. A. Filshie of Mt. Forest, accompanied by Mr. John Williams, of Edge Hill, made a brief business call at the Lake recently.

Both pupils and parents regret the coming departure of our teacher, Miss Stafford at Christmas, she having handed in her resignation some time ago, owing to the expiration of her term as teacher, Miss Weir will hold the reins for the ensuing year.

This week, albeit somewhat late we announce the arrival of Mr. Angus McDonald, home to "Pinnacle Hill," after two years absence amid Sudbury mining scenes. You would not infer kind readers from last weeks Scotch Town contributions that the versatile cor. had deviated slightly from his usual latitude in chronicling an article similar to the above. Please now pursue the even tenor of your way, pen up Scotch Town, items. in your most racy vernacular, as you have heretofore done, (to your credit we must say,) and do not invade our Fashoda again.

VIOLET.

YEOVIL.

It is our painful duty this week to record the death of Agnes Wallace, relict of the late Alex. Nicholson who departed this life on Tuesday the 8th inst in the 78th year of her age. The deceased lady was in her usual health until the evening of the 3rd inst., and while visiting a friend was taken ill by a stroke of paralysis, which affected her left side and almost entirely deprived her of her speech. Her son was sent for and she was carefully removed to her home, and medical skill called in, but she never regained her strength and passed peacefully away on Tuesday morning. The members of her family had been summoned to her bedside and all including her brother Robert were present at the time of her death.

Mrs. Nicholson was born in Lochwinnock Parish, Renfrewshire, Scotland. She came to Canada in 1856 and after living some years with the late Rev. McGibson of Owen Sound, was married in the year 1860 to Mr. Alex. Nicholson of this place and settled on the farm on which she died.

Like all pioneer settlers she endured the hardships and privations of bush life, but being a woman of great energy she succeeded in changing the primeval forest into a comfortable home, and gathered around her a good share of this world's goods.

She took an active interest in all public questions and never failed to give close attention to the details of daily farm life.

Her husband died seven years ago. Her family consists of one son and two daughters, Mrs. H. Hiscock, Holstein, Mrs. W. Wallace, Long Island, U. S., and Robert who lives on the homestead. She has eleven grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. A very remarkable feature in the history of Mrs. Nicholson's family is that four generations have lived on this farm during the last forty-two years. Mr. Nicholson's father and mother settled with him here in 1857.

She was the eldest of a family of eight all of whom survive her except her eldest brother. She was a life long member of the Presbyterian church.

Her remains were interred in the family burying ground in Holstein cemetery. Mrs. Nicholson will be long remembered by her friends and neighbors.

Our cheese factory closes this week, Owing to the small supply of milk in the early part of the summer, the output has not been as large as last year.

Mr. Jas. McInnes and his sister Mrs. D. Findlay visited friends about Cedarville this week.

Mr. Hugh McEachern is in the general Hospital Guelph for treatment at present. Hope to hear of his recovery soon.

We were pleased to get the return of the plebiscite vote as reported in the Review last week, but sorry to think that our sister province differ so largly with all the other members of the Confederation family.

We have a gentle taste of winter this week.

Miss Martha Calder is progressing very favorably in Toronto Hospital, Her parents expect her home soon.

Mr. Edmisson Jr. of Rothsay preached here last Sunday.

John Brown, cattle dealer, was around buying hogs at $3.90 per 100 lbs.

Mrs. Jas. Swanston is on the sick list, but hope she will soon recover.

Mr. John Manary is still very ill. He has several troubles together.
