Prevent Consumption.

The following points and suggestions regarding the prevention of Consumption which deserve the attention of everybody, are gathered from a recent article by Dr Knopf of New York which is to be found in the Medical Record of November 18th, 1905.

There are more cases of advanced tuberculosis to be treated than any other disease.

There is no disease where so much can be done to render the patient comfortable and hopeful as pulmonary tuberculosis in the advanced stage.

There is no disease where one case in a family can more readily become the cause of infection of other members, particularly in the stage where the consumptive begins to be confined to the close association of the family members only.

It is extremely important to remember that advanced consumptive patients who are able to go about, perhaps able to work at their ordinary calling in the office or factory, when ignorant or careless, constitute the greatest danger to the health of the community. They must be considered as the most frequent cause of infection, The careless, ignorant or careless, constitute the greatest danger to the health of the community. They must be considered as the most frequent cause of infection. The careless, ignorant or helpless consumptive when confined to bed can do little more than infect his room, but the advanced patient able to follow some calling can, if he is careless, scatter 7,000,000,000 bacilli every day with the greatest ease.

Of all tuberculosis patients he should be the most carefully instructed and should be most deeply impressed with the fact that carelessness in the disposal of the sputum is dangerous to himself as well as to his neighbors.

As yet people generally have not been educated up to the point at which they are willing to carry and use a pocket flask or cardboard purse. Being desirous to conceal their condition, they are extremely reluctant to do anything which would call attention to their infirmity. Some way less likely to cause remark must be found. Probably the best that can be done in the meantime is to suggest that tuberclous men should have two pockets lined with some material which can be easily cleaned and that they should carry in one of these pockets very cheap handkerchiefs or bits of cheesecloth or other cheap material cut like handkerchiefs, which, when used can be put into the other pocket and there kept until the close of the day when they can easily be destroyed or sterilized by boiling after their return home. In this way they can escape observation and at the same time secure their fellow workmen and associates against danger. When so simple a precaution as this, and one so easily within the reach of every right thinking man, is available, not to make use of it, would seem to be little less than criminal neglect.

Some lady visitors going through a penitentiary came to a room in which three women were sewing. "Dear me"! whispered one of the visitors, "what vicious looking creatures! Pray what are they here for?" "Because they have no other home. This is our sitting room, and they are my wife and two daughters," blankly replied the superintendent.

—The Bruce Herald (Conservative) in a recent issue made the following editorial reference to Mr. H. H. Miller: Our Hanover neighbor, Mr. H. H. Miller, M P for South Grey, is the only member who so far has had the courage to stand up in the House and defend the grab. And he confined his argument to the members' indemnity. It is the only defensible point in the situation. And it might be fairly defended had the people been given an opportunity to pronounce on it before the election. There can be no defence to the Senator's grab, and the pensions to wealthy ex-ministers, Mr. Miller made the best of his case, and is undoubtedly sincere in claiming that twenty-five hundred dollars is not too much for members who have practically to give up their business and incur the expense of living at Ottawa. Innocent people in Hanover naturally think that members of parliament have only to pay their board at Ottawa. The rural members soon find out differently. The citizens of Ottawa universally regard politics as a game of grab, and lose no opportunity of making the members divide. And all manner of fakirs from the four corners of the Dominion swoop down on them with subscription lists that they dare not refuse. If a private member gets off with a thousand dollars for the session, he is either exceptionally fortunate or unusually mean.

Blythe's Corners.

Your scribe is not dead Mr. Editor, but we are badly handicapped in our mail service. Could not Mr. Miller, M. P., do something for us. He seems to have wonderful influence in getting any favor granted along this line.

The majority of farmers around the Corners are through seeding and those not through are on the "round up." The exceptionally cool weather prevailing up to date has enabled both man and beast to give their best service at the least possible wear and this coupled with the land being easily tilled on account of so much frost in the ground hastened the seeding through greatly.

We are having quite a variety of preachers in Knox Church for the past month and we are in duty bound to say they are all splendid men, We have yet to hear five more of the alloted half number which have applied for a hearing, 16 in all.

The farmers around here who usually have fed a large number of export cattle are not feeling so jubliant as last season, prices are slow and buyers scarce. There are over 100 head of splendid cattle within a radius of 1½ miles of the Corners.

Swinton Park.

Seeding is a thing of the past with most of the farmers. A few have not finished yet.

The young ladies of the park have organized a base ball club, so they are open to challenge from any of the neighboring clubs, so do not be late.

We think two young gentlemen that attend Salem church will have to get a Bell each so that other people can tell when to get off the road, when they are horse racing.

Miss Maggie McCaffrey is talking of moving to Toronto, so there will be one sore heart left in the park.

Mrs Archie Ferguson, of Eeer St., presented her husband with a young daughter on Saturday, the 12th inst.

Mr L. Watson's driver was laid up on Saturday. but we noticed it was able to make the round trip on Sunday evening.

We are sorry to state that Mr Robt Knox's family are shut in with scarlet fever at present.

Mrs Jno. Hardy's family is laid up with measles at present.

Miss F. Bell has moved her boarding place nearer to the school. She is boarding with Mrs Richardson at present.

A FILTHY PRACTICE.—"Trailing skirts are not the only nuisance that ladies have to put up with. Just look at that "gob full" said a lady on Sunday evening while walking down Main Street. "Imagine the sensation of a foot in a thin soled slipper planting itself right in the middle of that' the lady continued as she pointed to a discarded mouthful of 'bug' juice that would take a man's number ten shoe to cover. The gentleman escort did not continue the topic, as there certainly was plenty of room for the complaint. Let any one take notice of the prevalence of the dirty habit. Then remember that dainty shoes and dresses are compelled to dodge the filthy stuff or wade through it, We venture to say that the vigorous language of the fair pedestrian was not far astray. Several Ontario towns have had signs posted up in conspicuous places along the streets, warning people against the habit, first as a precaution against the spread of consumption, but as much for the cleanliness and tidiness of the town. If the habit compels some people to use the narcotic in a cud shape, it is as little as they can do to drop their discarded and polluted saliva into a ditch and trust to the rains to wash it away.—Ex

INCREASING ITS OUTPUT.—The National Portland Cement Company, limited, of Durham, have increased their daily average output from 1200 to 1250 barrels which they claim beats the record for any eight kiln wet process plant in the world. Since starting the plant on April 7th, 25,565 barrels of cement were manufactured before the end of the month. The new president, Mr R. H. McWilliams, formerly of Owen Sound, is evidently getting a move on the plant.—O. S. Times.
