Shall we have a Y. M C. A.?

The following extract from a letter in the Hanover Post is so applicable to conditions in Durham that we make no apology for reproducing it, hoping it may stir up some of our activities to unite in an effort to provide something for the intellectual and social needs of our young men beyond what we have at present. Here is the extract:—

"In our town with its many factories there are so many young men and boys who have no place to spend their evenings out side of their bedroom in a boarding house or on the streets or in the hotels. It is true their is a club room but that cannot take in all the strangers that come to work in our factories or on the railroad, and it is easily understood that these men and boys will never even make an attempt to enter a club room. but give them a place where they can feel that they have a right to go and where a warm welcome will be given them and large numbers of them will be only too glad to take advantage of the opportunity. These people have come from comfortable homes, many for the first time, and is it any wonder that so many go downward, seeing that they are lonely and no place open to them but those mentioned above.

The boys need a parlor, a reading room, a room for games, a hall in which to hold meetings and a swimming pool. This last is essential. They could do without a gymnasium for a time, but owing to prevailing conditions there are very few boarding houses supplied with comfortable bathing facilities, and this would be one of the best ways of supplying a much felt want.

An institution like this could be carried on for about four hundred dollars a year and there would surely be no trouble in raising this amount.

Could not the Women's Christian Temperance Union take up this work along with the former Committee and push it to a successful issue. Give the boys a place where they will meet those whose aim is to live up to the best and so help them from going down. The old saying "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is very applicable in this case."

Strathcona Features

While acknowledging a remittance to the Review lately from Mr. A. C. Beaton, formerly of Bunessan, we made a remark that he might have said something about his surroundings in Strathcona. This he has done, and we have pleasure in presenting "Sandy's" brief word picture. He says "by the tone of your letter you imagine we are all frozen up, such is not the case," and proceeds:

"Now something about our surroundings. Well we live in Northern Alberta, neighbors to the Esquimaux, in the thriving little city of Strathcona, which lies on the south side of the Saskatchewan River and the city of Edmonton lies on the north side of the river. Now these cities are of no small importance, Edmonton being the capital for Alberta. The trade of the two cities extends 1000 miles to the north and as far as the foot-hills of the Rockies, a distance of 250 miles. Two railways, C. P. R. and C. N R., keep us in close contact with the Eastern Provinces. Two more railways are expected very soon to help still more to the opening up of this country.

Now as to fuel, there are thousands of acres of coal. Coal anywhere in this section in seams from six inches to sixty feet in depth, and as for timber there is lots of that along the river and west to the Pacific coast.

The snow is about two feet deep but we have a very low temperature. The snow lies where it falls and does not drift on account of having so little wind. Why we have so little wind is not exactly known, but it is thought that the Mts. have something to do with it.

The country is level in most places with black loam in depth from one inch to four feet. Sub-soil clay form 10 to 12 feet, then sand and gravel with very few stones. There is considerable brush in some parts while in others it is open prairie.

Last winter we had a very open winter, just about three inches of snow for two or three weeks, but we are making up for it this winter." I remain

Yours truly,
A. C. BEATON.

The Chesley—Chatsworth Daily Mail

Sullivan people are very much interested in the question of a daily mail between Chesley and Chatsworth. We were shown a letter from H. H. Miller M. P. to C. J. Mickle in which good prospects of the daily system are held out. If this man Miller undertakes anything at all feasible he accomplishes his object and he has set his heart on that daily mail for the benefit of his Sullivan constituents. The Enterprise would like to see the daily trip begun so that our bundles of papers for subscribers at Peabody, Kinghurst and Mooresburg would not lie in the Post office here from Wednesday night till Friday morning. If H. H. Miller gets the daily mail 'a-goin' we will give him a boost that will elect him by acclamation at the next general elections. And when the contract for the daily trip is let, we want to see Billy Doble, the best stage driver in the diggins, get the job.—Chesley Ent.

Profane Language

A man was fined five dollars and costs in the Toronto police court the other day for using profane language on the street. It does not appear to be known to the people at large that the use of profanity is forbidden by law, that one citizen may cause the arrest of another for this offence, and that any policeman is as liable to dismissal for failing in his duty in this as in any other respect. The law is a good one. and there is need for its more strict enforcement. Boys and young men swear and use the most repulsive language in public places, deriving from the gutter some notion that their abandoned conversation makes men of them, whereas those forced to listen to them experience no sensation but one of utter disgust. There should be more arrests and fines —there should be a crusade against this senseless evil.

George Wright of Halifak has been attempting for several years to engage the Canadian press in a war against bad language. It is to be hoped that he will succeed and it might be well for the Police Commissioners to more strictly enforce the law in Toronto, especially in street cars and and in crowds where the tongue of the vile speaker cannot be escaped by others. The law needs but be enforced, In a recent sermon the Bishop of Carlisle made a remark that is favorably commented on by the British press. "Anyone who swears," said the Bishop, "manifests the beggarliness of his vocabulary." Getting at the same idea in another way the Concord Patriot says: "People swear because they do not know the possibilities of plain English, or have not the skill to manipulate it so that it will yield the amount of fire they want. You can do almost anything with common words. No matter how tame and lifeless they look, standing in stupid rows as if they didn't know enough to come in when it rained, they can be made to dance like imps, to frolic like fairies. to float, angelwise, on light wings, to glow like spirits. They can do things that make the ordinary bits of profanity look like feeble scarecrows stiffened up with a fence stake. The cure of profanity, reformers and educators please make a note, is merely wit enough to handle your words so that swearing will seem like baby talk in comparison." There is yet another view, that of an Englishman newly come to Canada, and shocked by the profanity he hears about him: Any man," he remarked, "who curses in that way is a cad."

—Intense interest is being taken in the coming meeting of the Britjsh Parliament. Premier Campbell Bannerman is comtemplating a battle with the House of Lords with a view to rousing public opinion against them as an effete feature in modern legislation, and ultimately abolishing it.

—Hon. Hyman, minister of Public Works has resigned his seat in London, but not his portfolio, which means no doubt that he will try to win the constituency again. His health is now restored. Opponents say his illness was an excuse and that he was attending southern race meets. Mr Hyman will give this its quietus at the proper time.
