If you have any of the following symptoms consult us before it is too late. Are you nervous and weak, despondent and gloomy, specks before the eyes, with dark circles under them, weak back, kidneys irritable, palpitation of the heart, bashful, dreams and losses, sediment in urine, pimples on the face, eyes sunken, hollow cheeks, careworn expression, poor memory, lifeless, distrustful, lack energy and strength, tired mornings, restless nights, changeable moods, weak manhood, premature decay, bone pains, hair loose, sore throat, etc.

More About the School Fair

(We were unable last week to give the full prize list and a racy write up from Mr. Chas. McInnis of the first Egremont School Fair, which, from we hear is likely to be hard to beat. The list and the letter appears herewith):

As previously announced the Fai was held at S. S. No. 10, of which school Miss E. W. Irvine is teacher H. C. Duff, Esq., the representative for this district, being unable to get the Government tent forward, had the exhibits placed in the building, locally known as the Butter, Cheese and Chicken factory, and never before Mr Editor, were there so many chickens in it at any time. If we include the little boys and girls who came from every quarter of the township, accompanied by parents and grandparents, the number gets beyond our calculations altogether.

The outstanding feature of the fair was the intense enthusiasm of the children, all eager to have their exhibits placed in the best possible position that they might win prizes and most of them did, some quite a number. The number and variety of chicken coups on exhibition showed taste and workmanship. The unfavorable weather prevented the field sports, much to the chagrin of the boys and girls, who came prepared to win the Marathon and lower Alfred Schrubb's record for a 100 yard dash.

Among the teachers present we noticed Miss Binnie, Miss Yeo, Miss Martin, Miss Kerr aad Mr Burnet, Principal of Holstein school.

THE EXHIBITS

On entering the building to the left were the cakes, bread and preserves plenty and of good quality, next the sheaf grain, those of Mr Wm. Ramage excelling all others. To the right fancy work by the little girls neatly done, collection of insects and collections of weeds and table corn. In the inner building the threshed grain, of which there were many samples, potatoes about thirty exhibits and chickens and chickens' coups more than we counted. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr Duff and Cake for the efforts they made to make a success of the Fair. Among the aged pioneers who mingled with the children were Mr Neil McArthur, Sr., and John McDonald, both hale and hearty at their advanced age. We hope the good work now begun may be continued and we might add increase the number of agricultural exhibits.

Mrs J. A. Swanston has returned from the West, looking well after her long visit among her brothers and sisters.

A number from here exhibited successfully at Mount Forest fair last Thursday. Alex McGillivray, W.J. Philp and J. A. Swanston added to their ribbons.

John and Ed. McRobb are exhibiting at Ayton Fair.

Mr Alex Calder's sheep were worried by dogs Monday night.

Woman's World

Miss Scott Makes Daring Flight In Her Airship.

MISS BLANCHE STUART SCOTT.

Miss Blanche Stuart Scott, the young woman who recently has acquired such distinction as a daring and intrepid aviator, is the same young woman who nearly two years ago drove her automobile from New York city to San Francisco. Miss Scott's companion on this wild and dangerous adventure was Miss Gertrude Phillips. Their arrival in the Golden Gate city alive and unhurt is a fine tribute to American womanhood.

Miss Scott flies one of Baldwin's red devil metal biplanes. This aeroplane, on account of its speed and diminutive size, is considered much more perilous to operate than any other. Its driver must be gifted with unusual nimbleness of mind and body. Miss Scott chafes very much under the flying restraints placed upon her on account of her sex, but she succeeded in showing her ability to fly as high as her men competitors in a recent air contest.

There is serious talk of organizing a woman's aero club here in America, the idea being recently hatched by Baron von Dewitz, and the women interested in aviation are enthusiastic about the movement. It is proposed to model the club after the Aerial League of Great Britain or the Stella of France.

An Elaborate Coat.

The long coat of the season has many uses and milady's wardrobe, if she is at all smart, must contain a number of long wraps for different occasions. The coat pictured is an airy affair for evening, carried out in a

Worth Knowing.
