AHS students win design awards

Acton High School Architectural Design and Drafting students with teacher Norbert Axtmann, made their annual pilgrimage to Hamilton for the Hamilton-Halton Homebuilders' Student Design contest last month and came home with awards.

Judged by members of the construction and building industry, the students had to design a house and complete a full set of architectural working drawings required to obtain a building permit. Sixty-six students submitted entries from across the Hamilton-Halton area in two design categories.

In the Small House category which consisted of a house design of up to 1,400 square feet, the second place, Award of Merit Award went to Megan Evans who received a cheque for $75, a plaque, and a certificate from the homebuilders. Evans was one of only five Grade 10 Acton students who competed against a field of 19 senior students to take the award.

In the Custom House category which consisted of a house design of up to 4,000 square feet, First Place Honours Award went to Brandon Nixon who received a cheque for $150, a plaque, and a certificate from the homebuilders. This caps off a very successful year for Nixon, who previously won the provincial gold medal in Architectural Design and Drafting at the Skills Canada Competition in May.

Also receiving Honourable Mention Certificates and a cheque for $25 from the Homebuilders for their efforts were:

Spencer Veness, Lindsi Nuttall, Elias Frechette, Monique Lalonde, Kyle Ferrier, Spencer Morrison, Jon Roughly, Emily Bent, Cody Rowsell, Baillie deSousa, Ashley MacPherson, Matt Diegel, Blake Handley, Josh Essiembre, James Reynolds, Kevin Holder, Brad Bloemendal, Brandi Jansen, Joshua Ceccotti and Arlan Fontaine
