Mr. Ed Pratt, our local well driller, with over 14 years experience, has been drilling a well at the Manse and is now 108 feet down and still going, to make sure of a supply that will be never failing. He is now at the shale rock.

Mr. John Snell of Durham, occupied the pulpit in Knox Church Sunday last, in the absence of Pastor Burnett who is holidaying. Instead ot taking a text, Mr Snell gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on the life of that great man, General Booth. That he was one of the world's greatest, none can dispute and goes a long way in teaching us that

"Lives of great men oft remind us,
We can make our lives sublime,
And in passing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

Miss Maud Thompson is having her vacation for a couple of months at her home and to make it real pleasure, has purchased a fine new Overland Car.

Born, on Sunday, Aug. 26th, to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Halliday, a son.

Mr. John McDougall, painter of Durham, has been engaged to paint our school and is now busy at it.

We had the pleasure for the first time of hearing Mr. Maloney at Orchard Anniversary on Sunday last. Tall and somewhat slender with rather small features and clean shaven, and is now in his 27th year. He is straightforward in his impressions and convincing in his reasoning, and he held the crowded house speli bound while he attacked in his address, the age worn props of Catholicism, namely the Confession, the Sacrament, &c. The former he denounced as being one of the most hypocritical performances ever indulged in—old men up to 90 years of age confessing and the next minute re-committing the same sinful tactics.

The latter, he alleged, was blasphemous. It is just a week over a year since Mr. Maloney gave his first speech in the city of Hamilton and during that time he has addressed over 200,000 people and told of numerous converts of prominent people in several towns. He has spoken about 460 hours during that period of time. He mentioned his mother as still retaining the Catholic faith, exhorted his hearers to greater fidelity to the House of God in their attendance and devotions, and requested earnestly for their prayers for the success of his reformation and safety.

He also denounced in scathing terms the dance halls, and made a strong plea, especially to the young ladies, to abstain from indulging in dancing. Mr. Maloney is to speak in the Methodist church, Holstein on Tuesday night to men only. He purposes entering Knox College, Toronto in the fall to study for the Presbyterian ministry.

He had received many urgent requests to go to the States to lecture, but being a native born subject of Canada, he prefers giving Canadians the benefits of his disclosures. He could see dark days ahead for the United States. The Klu Klux Klan, an organization numbering over 12,000,000 and the Roman Catholics, are very hostile enemies and are sure to clash sooner or later.

DROMORE

On Monday August 27th, a very interesting magic lantern show was given in Amos Church in the interest of the Bible Society.

Rev. W. J. Burnett is visiting his brother in Niagara district.

Miss Esther McLean of Priceville, spent over the week end with Miss Kate McCannell.

All the young men who left from here for the West arrived there safely, and have secured work already.

The Dromore Branch of Women's Institute will meet in Russell Hall, on Wednesday afternoon Sept. 5th, at 2.30 p. m.

A very interesting Travel Talk will be given by Miss Eva Renton on her trip to the Coast. This will be a rare treat and we would like to see a goodly number present.

It was decided, instead of having the regular Roll Call, to ask each lady to bring collection, the amount to be twice the size of her shoe.

A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies of the community as we are planning to hold a bazaar in the late fall, and everyone is needed to make it a success. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Eggs now to be Graded

The farmers will no longer be able to sell eggs on the market to the public unless their eggs are graded, according to the grades set out in the Egg Grading Act, a recent piece of legislation put through by the Federal House. The Act which came into force on the 27th July, 1923, provides in section 5 as follows : "Every case or container of eggs that is exposed, displayed, or offered for sale by any person selling or dealing in eggs direct to consumers in a public place or manner, shall be marked, labelled, tagged or accompanied in conspicuous letters with the name of the class and grade of eggs contained therein.

The new Act is intended to protect the public from the selling of small eggs, bad eggs, and eggs that in other ways do not come up to the standard of a good egg. One of the weaknesses of the Act, is the fact that dirty eggs were graded as seconds. This will induce the farmers to wash their eggs and no eggs will spoil faster than a washed egg. Before being washed there is a certain amount of albumen on the shell of the egg which helps to keep the pores closed up. When this is washed off the water gets inside and in a week mould has begun to form on the inside of the shell. The egg will be spoiled inside of eight days and cold storage cannot save it. It is therfore very important that the farmers do not try to rectify the fault of the eggs, being dirty by washing, as this will result in the spoiling of the egg altogether.

The new Act also means that the retailer who buys the eggs from he farmer must have the eggs candled and graded before he can sell them to the consumer. The eggs will be priced according to their grade, which depends on weight and condiion of the egg.

Secion 9 of the Act makes it an offence to sell eggs that are unfit for human food. This at any rate is a step in the right direction. In the past it has been too easy to slip it over on the unsuspecting customer.

HEALTH HINTS—SALIVA

The uses of the saliva are several, but its chief use is to moisten your food and thus make it possible to swallow it.

In dogs this is the only use of saliva. There is no digestive property in his saliva, but he is given a flood of it, to help float in his stomach the food he snatches and bolts.

In man however, digestion of the food begins in the mouth. One particular food, starch, is quite transformed by the saliva. In the short space of one minute, starch is converted into sugar by the action of the salivary secretion.

Solid starch, as in biscuits or the various cereals, is not acted upon appreciably because the delay in the mouth is not long enough to permit the full effect. However if the mass is thoroughly chewed, thus permitting a full admixture of saliva, the salivary action will be continued after the food reaches the stomach.

You should take pains at each and every meal to chew your food thoroughly. Unfortunately breakfast is a hastily eaten meal. The commuter, the office man, the stenographer, the manicurist, the broker, the doctor, the maid, the launderer, the porter the school child—it makes no difference what the vocation—breakfast is eaten too fast. This is unfortunate, to say the least, for it is decidedly detrimental to the health. Above all other meals, the nature of the breakfast is such that time for thorough mastication is most essential. Otherwise the digestion of the food is interfered with at the very first place it should be started.

Anything stimulating to the emotions and appetites will increase the flow of saliva. Therefore good company, good food and an occasional change in both will do much to promote digestion.
