Ballinafad woman to join worldwide event

A Ballinafad woman is welcoming everyone to join her Tuesday morning for a group meditation session with the aim to revive and heal the earth.

Donna Hamilton of Holistic Therapy Centre said the session will begin at 7 a.m. at the centre located at 14249 Trafalgar Rd., Ballinafad.

At that time (local time) Tuesday (July 17) people from all over the world are being asked to meditate or pray for an hour "to restore hope that life is not always going to be stressful or difficult," said Hamilton.

The world-wide project is being spearheaded by Shelley Yates, who with her young son Evan, was revived after drowning in a Nova Scotia marsh when her car went off the road in 2002.

Yates said she died and went to the "other side" and while there voices told her to relax and reassured her all would be well if she followed specific instructions. Both Yates and her son were finally rescued and by following the instructions provided from the voice she said her son made a full recovery. (For details go to www.firethegrid.com)

The goal of the group meditation session in Ballinafad is to "put the heart back into life on earth, to start living from the heart again instead of from the heart," said Hamilton.

Everyone is welcome. For more information contact Hamilton at 905-877-8992.
