THE REVIEW
Durham, Oct'r. 11th, 1894.

CLUBBING.

We have been asked what about clubbing with the REVIEW? We are now prepared to answer. By special arrangements and the most liberal terms of the respective publishers we are enabled to make offers to cash subscribers which, even in these days of cheap reading, are astonishing. They are as follows:—

OFFER No. 1.—We will furnish the "REVIEW" from now to end of 1895 and the "WEEKLY GLOBE" for one year for $1.25.

OFFER No. 2.—We will furnish the "REVIEW" and the "CANADA FARMERS' SUN" both, from now till end of 1895 for $1.25.

OFFER No. 3.—The "REVIEW" alone to Dec. 31st, 1895 for $1.00.

The "GLOBE" is admitted by all to be the most enterprising paper in the Dominion. Full market reports, latest world news, sporting events, splendid miscellany, intensely Canadian, Liberal in politics, (in a double sense) and a fine home department.

The "SUN" from its first issue has been most vigorously conducted and with great success. Represents one of the most progressive movements of the day—a movement which has affected business and political life. If you want the "SUN" now is your chance.

The REVIEW itself is a live local paper. Has a fine list of correspondents. Gives a voice on all public questions. Is improving and will be still further improved. Letters will appear in the future as in the past from our able Toronto correspondent, the versatile journalist S. L. M. Luke and other writers in various fields. YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT THE REVIEW.

—Intimate friends of Mr. Gladstone say that health and vigour are so much restored, that he may again enter the House of Commons.

—We observe that Dr. Wm. Peterson, Principal of the Dundee College, has been appointed Principal of the University of McGill College Montreal. Dr. Peterson comes to Canada with the reputation of a distinguished scholar and a capable administrator.

Mr. D. L. Moody, the well known evangelist, is expected to hold continuous services for ten days or two weeks in Toronto, beginning on the 4th of November next. The services will be held in the Massey Hall, if it can be procured at a reasonable cost. At a large meeting of clergymen and laymen held on the 4th inst. an executive committee was appointed for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements.

We have great pleasure in congratulating our esteemed contemporary, the Owen Sound "Advertizer," on its Trade edition of the 5th inst. the letter press is just what it ought to be, a well got up historical, biographical and industrial report of the coming city of the North. The photos of the leading citizens of Owen Sound, of its public buildings and of its principal industrial establishments are very fine. Indeed the whole get-up of the paper is most creditable to the talent and enterprize of our cotemp. We heartily wish the "Advertizer" every success.

—The Empire has great difficulty finding a leader for the opposition in the House of Assembly, and well it may, for it will travel far before it finds a worthy successor to Mr. Meredith. In mentioning the names of Mr. Foster, Mr. Howland, Mr Whitney it appears outside the House, and finds Mr. Edward Clark, Senator Ferguson, and Mr. William Laidlaw as eligible for the leadership of the opposition. Curiously the organ passes over the name of Clancey, for of all the members of the opposition he would seem to stand in power and influence next to the leader himself.

—The civil authorities of the town of Nimes capital of the Department of the Gard, France, have prohibited bull-fighting to the great indignation of the citizens. This relic of barbarism was the means of drawing great crowds into the city and the citizens are wroth at the prospect of being deprived of this source of revenue, just as Demetrius and the rest of the makers of idols were furious at the apostles when the citizens of Ephesus and the surrounding country embraced Christianity and thus destroyed a source of gain to them. It is to be hoped in the interests of our civilization that the authorities of Nimes will adhere to their resolution.

—The "drink question" continues to agitate the public mind at home and abroad. After the plebiscite of last January we are within a visible distance of a strong effort being made to attempt a settlement of the question in Ontario. In England the "local option" method has been tried with doubtful results. In Norway and Sweden the Gothenburg system, by which the State assumes entire control of the liquor traffic, has been tried with great success. Following the example of Norway, the Dean of Chester has been for years advocating the introduction of a modified form of the system in force in Norway into Great Britain and Ireland. And now it appears that Mr. Gladstone, who has all along been a strong supporter of Sir Wilfred Lawson's Local option reforms, rather favours the Gothenburg system. In a letter to the Dean of Chester he is reported to have said, that for many years he had been strongly of the opinion that the principle of selling for the public profit only offered a fair chance of escape from the miserable, and almost contemptible predicament which is a disgrace to our country. Mr. Gladstone does not drop local-option overboard, but presents its insufficiency as a remedy for existing evils, for he adds —"I am friendly to local option but it can be no more than a partial and occasional remedy." Some, with a jaundiced vision, see in this deliverance of the great Statesman, a slap at his old friends. But plainly it is nothing more than the deliberate opinion of a man who can rise superior to party prejudices and look with a single eye at a great and pressing question.

KNOX COLLEGE JUBILEE.

Knox College has this year reached the semi-centenary of its foundation. The commemorative services of this important event were held last week in Knox Church, Toronto. The services began on Tuesday evening and were concluded on Wednesday evening. A large number of the alumni of the college were present as a matter of course. There was also present, a large contingent from Queen's University Kingston, representatives of all the other Divinity schools in Toronto, the Lieutenant Governor and the Mayor of Toronto, the Hon. Edward Blake, chancellor, Mr. Murlock, Vice-chancellor and Mr. Loudon, President of the University of Toronto, etc. etc.

The Jubilee services were opened on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Dr. Patton, Principal of Princeton University, Philadelphia, a distinguished student of Knox college, who preached the opening sermon on Christianity as a supernatural religion.

On Wednesday morning the proceedings were resumed by the Rev. Dr. Maclaren who dealt with the special work done by Knox College followed by the Rev. Dr. Reid who delivered a historical review of the rise and progress of the College. In the first year of its existence, there were seven students in attendance—Angus McColl, Jno. McKinnon, Robt. Wallace, Patrick Gray, John Scott, James Nisbet and Duncan McRuar—and the total number of graduates till now numbered 562. Rev. Dr. Grant. of Kingston, after congratulating Knox College on its success, discoursed in his usual racy style on the relations of sister throlgical colleges to each other, enforcing the opinion, that while no tree church can abandon any treasure of the past, all colleges professing to study the Bible scientifically, and the Churches as well, must accept conclusions arrived at in accordance with canons of universal validity, or perish morally in the presence of the scientifically educated world.

The degree of D. D. was conferred in the afternoon upon the Revs. Messrs. Thornton, Milligan, Somerville, (Owen Sound), Hamilton, Torrance and Bruce. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. Hon. Edward Blake, Mulock, and Loudon of Toronto University, on the mutual advantages obtained by the affiliation of Knox College with the University, by the Lientenant Governor on the duty of the State to promote education, by the Rev. Mr. Burwash of the Methodist church on the unity of work among Schools of Divinity, by Rev. Mr. Sheraton of the Episcopal Church, on Spiritual Sympathy in theological training, and by the Rev. Mr. Newman of the Baptist church, on common ground in theological training.

Previous to 1844 the only Presbyterian college in Canada was that of Queen's, Kingston, which had been founded a short time before in connection with the church of Scotland. But in 1843 the Disruption took place in the church of Scotland, when a great body of the people and a large majority of the clergy, for conscience sake, left the Established church and formed what has since been know as the Free Church, and though the circumstances of the Presbyterian church in Canada were very different from those of the parent churches at home, the principles in both were similar, and in consequence a large majority of the Canadian church, ministers and people, being in deep sympathy with the Free church, formed a separate communion in Canada. This division led to the founding of Knox College for the training of young men for her ministry, the professors and property of Queen's College remaining in connection with the Church of Scotland. The disruption of the Church of Scotland took place in May 1843 and in November of the following year Knox College was opened with seven students in attendance. The first place of meeting was a room in the residence of the Rev. Henry Esson, but in 1854 the classes were removed to the building now known as Knox College. In 1861 the reunion of the Free and United Presbyterian Ohurches in Canada was effected forming the Presbyterian Church of Canada and later on the larger union of that church with the Presbyterian church in connection with the Church of Scotland, took place, with great advantage upon the whole to both ministers and people.

HOPEVILLE.

Mr. J. D. Morrison left on Oct, 1st, for Knox College Toronto.

Elder J. H. Lake, of the Latter Day Saints Church has been in this neighborhood and is holding succeseful meetings in the church.

D. C. McArdle has an attack of Inflammation of the lungs, but is getting better.

Adam Scarlett and wife have moved into the old homestead on the farm and gave the young people a wedding party on the 5th inst. As far as we hear the people had a good time.

Some of our people took in the Durham and Flesherton shows.

A Patron Convention was held last week in Flesherton, Grey, as constituted for the House of Commons. There were delegates from all the Associations. The meeting we believe was called, owing to some dissatisfaction as to the candidate chosen. The delegates we understand endorsed the former choice.

Some time ago we referred to a disagreement that arose between two respectable families south of Hopeville. The difference grew until a bad fight between the young men of both families has resulted. It is very regruttable and disgraceful.

EGERMONT'S WORLD'S FAIR.

The people of Egremont are loyal to their Fair. This was proved Wednesday of last week, when, under the disadvantage of a disheartening forenoon, there was still present many hundreds of her inhabitants to make entries, examine entries, and keep up the record of their show. The elements, about 11 or 12 o'clock seeming to get ashamed of themselves, cleared up and gave, exhibitors and sightseers a splendid afternoon and evening. There were 700 entries, even under the bad conditions, some exhibits came too late, and many no doubt did not come at all. However, the crowd came and though oldtimers say there have been larger crowds, it was evident that with a favorable morning, all records would have been surpassed.

While there is so much to give credit for, while President, Secretary, directors and people are all showing commendable energy and interest in the Fair, the question still arises "What are you going to do about it?" Something better better surely is necessary in the way of accommodation for one of the best township shows in this or any other county.

A new Hall is certainly needed in the progressive village of Holstein. If possible, in connection with the grounds, there should be erected sheds of some kind to give shelter to stock on a possible inclement or hot day. We even see a grand stand looming up in the future with a dining Hall attached conducted by Mine Host Klemp. Bobby Henry or some other enterprising man though we must give the churches praise for their efforts in this direction at present. Seriously a township Hall is needed, and though we have heard mutterings in the dim and distant past that Y—had some claims, owing to its central position, we do think Holstein owing to its railway, road, and other advantages, should quietly and as soon as possible be put in possesion of such a building. If directors and tp. officers pull together something good may be looked for, and we hope the proceeds of concert and day admissions amounting to over $80, will warrant the management in making the show of 1895 creditable in every particular.

As usual the show of Horses, cattle etc. was good. The cattle not being excelled, if equalled by county exhibitions. In horses the Caldwell Bros. took a big share of the prizes in the Roadster class, and in Avershires of course they lead. President Swanston in Sheep and grade cattle is hard to beat. On the 4th page will be found the list of prize winners and judges in full.

In the temperance Hall were some excellent exhibits, the butter alone in the opinion of experts not being up to the usual excellence. Donaghy the Photographer had a fine display in one corner, while the fruit and pies were so tempting that councillor Bye had frequently to remind "hands off"

The hall proved entirely inadequate for the entertainment. Such a packing, squeezing, "bound to get there" crowd surely was never before seen in Holstein. A panic of any kind would surely have resulted seriously,, however the good humored crowd, sat or stood, or perched in patience and discomfort while a meritorious programme was given. A variety company (or were there two) from Mt. Forest gave an excellent display of two humorous pieces, in which considerable dramatic power was displayed especially by Welton as the Black Statue and F. Ellis as Paddy Miles' boy. The singing by Miss Swanston was highly applauded. Miss S. has a voice of great compass and well under control. Mr. W. Ramage, an old favorite in Holstein was also well received. Miss Dickson kindly and efficiently acting organist.

We were pleased to meet with Mr. G. Freeman, and to find him in charge of the grist mill. His fame as a miller will keep up the reputation of Holstein mill.

R. Henry, Jr. did a fine business on the corner. Wonder if the sharper, who, in the dusk of the evening, bolted 25c's. worth of cigars when the crowd was thining, intends to send in that quarter or is he chuckling still. It was a small piece of business.

The Secretary has our thanks for courtesy in giving all needed information.

The Allan Park brass band furnished excellent music and received much praise.

ARTEMESIA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY'S SHOW.

The President, Secy., Directors and friends of the above show rejoice in a good day for the opening of their annual Exhibition. The weather was cool, but this did not detain exhibitors and the number and excellence of the exhibits proves that this year is to be a record breaker.

The display of roots is immense. Fruit perhaps has been excelled, but the ladies' work shows an ever increasing excellence and variety. The boots and shoes by the two well known exhibitors, Conkey and McLean gave the judges some work. The butter, pastry, cheese &c., would do credit to more pretentious places.

The Secy. has our thanks for courtesies extended to our representative.

It is pointed out as a peculiar feature in the addresses presented to Hon. Mr. Laurier in British Columbia and the Northwest that they invariably take for granted that he has power to answer their petitions. The people are progressive out west, and they apparently believe from present indications that the time will soon come when the liberal leader will be in a position to consider the public needs as First Minister of the Crown.

A very disastrous fire occurred on Monday morning at Mr. S. T. Orchard's 2nd con. Egremont, by which he lost his barn with all its contents, including binder, mower, hay fork, seed drill, sets of harness, and many other small articles usually found in stables and barns. He had gone to feed the horses early as he intended going to Durham for a load of barrels. He found the stallion, which was kept loose in a stall, in the feed passage, up to its knees in hay. He got frightened and jumped over Mr. Orchard thereby breaking a lantern and scattered the oil. Immediately the hay was in flames.

Mr. Orchard, who almost miraculously escaped personal injury managed to save the horses, but a bull got badly burned before being extricated. The implements might have been saved if the house demanded all attention, but had not a shower that morning damaged everything, the efforts of the neighbors would have been unavailing. The loss is about $1200. Insured for $[illegible]. Mr. Orchard has the sympathy of the community in his loss, while at the same time, what might have been, that horse disabled him, calls for congratulations.
