—Pasteur, the eminent French Scientist is dead.

—Cholera caused 20000 deaths in four days in Pekin recently.

—Wheat prospects have improved during the last few days.

—Missionary McKay, of Formosa, left with his family last week for his mission field.

—China has yielded to the presence of British war ships and has degraded the official responsible for the recent murders.

—Lovers of the Dramatic Art in Toronto have been enjoying a feast in the performances of Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry at the Grand Opera House.

—It is said that a second Chinese loan has been guaranteed by Russia and France, France undertaking this time to find the money. A Russia—Chinese Bank is to be established in Pekin.

—A German newspaper says that the Franco—Russla alliance is a factor of the first importance in European politics, and that a war with Germany may break out any day. Let us hope that the writer is simply the victim of a disordered imagination.

—Spain is about to adopt a no-quarter plan of dealing with the insurgents in Cuba. It is this, to surround the whole island with two lines of warships, sixty in number, to patrol the coast and prevent all ingress and egress. In time this method would seem to be wholly effective. At all events it will have the advantage of not being accompanied by the horrors of war.

—Another collision, similar to that of the Elbe and the Crathie occurred in the English Channel on Thursday last. The steamship Edam from New York bound for Amsterdam while off Start point on Thursday night collided with the Turkestan bound for Cardiff. Fortunately the passengers and crew were saved, but the vessel went down. The weather was foggy, and from the report of the Captain of the Edam both ships did what they could to avoid a collision, but without avail.

—The sudden appearance of five British War Ships off Shanghai, China, last week caused a stir at Pekin. The Chinese officials are greatly excited over the matter, and now that Great Britain shows it means business, the Chinese Government will no doubt comply with the demands of the Powers as to the safety of the lives and property of foreigners. The British vessels have proceeded up the Yang-tse-Kiang to look after the interests of British subjects, inland.

—In the great difficulty found by the Torontonians in deciding upon an efficient waterworks system to meet requirements of the city, the city council has resolved to retain the services of an English expert, Mr. Mansergh, whose duty will be to decide upon the respective merits of the several propositions advanced upon the water works problem The fee charged by Mansergh for his services is fifteen thousand dollars. A modest little sum.

A great convention has been held in Chicago, by delegates from all Irish Societies on the continent, and an organization formed called "The Irish National Alliance of the World." The spirit and purpose of the meeting is well shown in the following quotation from a speech of O'Neil Ryan of St. Louis:—"This gathering, the most momentous of our race, within the present century, means, not constitution, but revolution. (Great cheering.) It means a turning from parliaments and statute books to pikes and swords. (Prolonged applause with shouts of "that's right." and "God Save Ireland."

—The Duke of Marlborough, a direct descendant of the great general and diplomatist, the hero of Blenheim, is now visiting Canada and was interviewed at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, by a correspondent of the Witness. The young Duke is only twentyfour years of age, but takes an active interest in public affairs and at the late session of the British Parliament moved the address in reply to the speech from the Throne. He is affianced to Miss Vanderbilt one of the richest heiresses in the world, but money is said not to have been a determining factor with the occupant of Blenheim Castle. The match is a purely love affair after the the fashion of the old school and perfectly reciprocated on both sides.

—The Western Fair at London, like its rival, the Industrial Exhibition at Toronto, was well attended this year. Neither the shortness of the crops nor the pressure of hard times present or in anticipation could prevent the sight seekers putting in an appearance, and, in consequence, the receipts at the gates of both Fairs were much in excess of any former occasion. The display of products in all the departments were of a very superior character. The exhibit of horses was rather of the draught variety than of the so-called fancy teams, and this has been set down as being a step in the right direction as indicating a tendency to economy and thrift in the management of the farm. The cattle and sheep exhibits were very good. The same is said of roots and a few fruits as grapes, but nothing is said of the apple. The May frost has evidently done its work as effectively in Middlesex as in Grey.

—The march of Lord Archibald Campbell down Glencoe, with his band of pipers, was duly carried out. Some knowing ones anticipated decided objections, and of a practical character, being made by the MacDonalds, of whom some forty or fifty families descended from those who suffered so terribly at the hand of the Campbells in 1692 still live in the Glen. But as it was explained that Lord Archibald was simply making a friendly visit to Sir Donald Smith the present proprietor of Glencoe, and that the visit had nothing in it of a desire to revive the memory of old feuds. The explanation was accepted as satisfactory and Lord Archibald with his pipers and accompanied by his daughter were allowed to proceed on their way unmolested. On reaching the bridge over the Coe, about half a mile from Sir Donald Smith's residence, the pipers tuned up the pipes and played in good style "The Blue Bonnets over the Border." By this time a considerable crowd had gathered, not of the MacDonald's however but of sightseers, several of whom seemed to be disappointed at the peaceable character of the march down the Glen.

—The example of New York has been contagious. The present management of the civic affairs of New York determined that that great city would be made a law-abiding city. There were many arrests, and much irritation among those whose views were interfered with, and among those whose gains were diminished by the enforcement of the law. But the thing was done, and now such a thing as liquor selling, gambling and fighting cannot be done in New York on the Sabbath Day. Niagara Falls has followed the example of New York. Saloons and Bazaars are closed on the Lord's Day. This means a great loss to the proprietors but an incalculable gain to the morals of the people. The moral reformer can find a large field for his work nearer home than New York and Niagara Falls, yes, even in Durham. We would suggest that a Morality Inspector be appointed, that he be given ample powers and that the machinery of the law be enforced without fear or favor. In another column will be found a letter bearing directly upon this very important question.

SOUTH GREY SHOW.

The 1st prize we are informed for the best grade cow was taken by A. W. Hunter and not as the lists had it, F. Reiner. Director Burt also informs us that no prize was awarded in the Holstein class owing to pedigree not being on hand.

Some have been inclined to doubt whether the grapes shown by Mr. S. Arrowsmith were grown here. There can be no doubt in the matter as besides Mr. A's assurance, which is sufficient, other observers saw them growing.

Mr. S. Patterson's collection, we believe, had over 100 varieties in it.

In twenty one years, South Grey Show has experienced only one wet day and to this a large measure of its success is due.

We have to thank Postmaster McKenzie and family for extra mailing privileges last week. We assure them such courtesies are appreciated.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

DEAR SIR,

Thanking you for the space you gave me in last week's REVIEW, I will now continue with describing the second scene I saw. This took place on the 17th of September about 9.20 p. m. in front of the Central Hotel. There I saw a man falling or rather tumbling over from the broad and high side walk into the public street, incapable to raise himself to his feet. The sight was truly pitiful in the extreme. To see a rational being lying helpless, doubled up as it were in the street is a sad sight to such as have even but a grain of the feeling, which was in the good Samaritan Two persons came to the rescue endeavoring to lift the helpless man upand set himdown on the bench in front of the Hotel. While those two persons were setting the man on the seat, the then proprietor came to the scene and during the time that a conversation was going on between him and myself, as to the nature and dreadful effects of the liquor traffic on those who came under its power, the drunken man seemed to have heard that a preacher was in the affair. However it was, whether he heard my voice or heard something said about Ministers I can not say, but this much is a fact, that as soon as preachers were mentioned he seemed to gather together all his remaining physical and mental strength to use it in the most powerful manner with his tongue for expressing such blasphemous language as he possibly could command. Others and I went our way as it was simply dreadful to hear the expressions used, besides there was no chance to do any further good.

Now, Sir, without entering upon the moral or legal side of the liquor business, as we know that it is legally right "to make a living" by selling that which has such sad and dreadful effects on those who cannot control their appetite for strong drink; and as we know that every business man likes to sell as much as he possibly can whatever the article is he offers for sale, we will without adding other cases of drunkenness, endeavor to give an answer to the title of our subject, namely, "Who is responsible."

We know already for what, namely, to keep our public streets free from the scenes of drunkenness and its natural consequences, such as, fighting and blasphemous expressions, and by endeavoring to do so, be a blessing to the unfortunate drunkard, to young children and to a respectable public in general, whose moral feelings are often and sadly outraged.

Now, Sir, as this is a public matter and therefore concerns every citizen who has an interest in the moral as well as material welbeing of the town, and in particular, respectable parents whose children are sadly affected by what they hear and see. I would say again that it is time that we all should do our duty, and devise some way by which it is safe for children to go through the streets without hearing from the lips of the intoxicated and sometimes from sober men those dreadful oaths and curses.

In settling the question as to who is responsible to look after these matters, no doubt many feel ready to put it on the shoulders of perhaps the Mayor, Town Councillors, Constables or proprietors of Hotels. But I, Sir, would join with those who say it is the moral obligation of all the citizens. What the great Nelson said to his sailors or soldiers should be realized by each one of us. Let every man do his duty as this is expected from all who make up a community be he a Briton or not. We should see to it that such behaviour as referred to should not go on with impunity. To make an example of the parties referred to in my first letter and show that such things can not be done with impunity is a matter which is lying in the balance in the Mayor's office just now.

Our last point is regarding the remedy. How can we improve the moral state of our Town? I hope our friends are thinking about the matter as we will be pleased to hear from them as to what may prove a cure. I have stated that it is the duty of every citizen and this I think all reasonable persons will admit it is. It would be unreasonable to expect the Mayor to devote so many hours a day to the moral improvements of the town in walking from one end to the other and see who are drunk or disorderly, or swearing.

Nor could we very well expect this to be done by the Town Council. The remuneration, I have no doubt, for attending to the municipal affairs is small enough. Our respected Constable, if I understand, only gets paid when his services as constable are called for in cases of drunkenness or bad behavior; and we would hardly expect that those engaged in the liquor traffic would feel it their duty to bring persons into a place of safety when it would be a necessity either to carry the person to the place or take a buggy or lumber waggon to drive, as we sometimes see these modes used to take people home or to some other place of safety. Hence Sir, we are driven to the fact that it is reasonable that as long as we cannot pay a constable for daily or nightly service we should all help improve public morality. Taking for granted that the public agrees with me, the last and most important matter is, how to cure? We know what. We know who. Now, how to do it. I et us see.

There are at present many good societies for different objects Could we not add another and call it Purity Society, open to all persons who have the welbeing of society at heart. Surely head a those who are parents there will be many others who would join and try to remove the evils referred to as well as others which we will not mention just now. Such a society could be established without cost and so do excellent and effective work. Let me suggest one or two ways in which the work may be done. There are in our Town many business men and other persons who have the telephone in their store, office, or house. Now, if any person especially members of a purity Society would ask the use of the 'phone and send a short message to the Mayor as to what he sees and hears as far as drunkenness and swearing are concerned, and the Mayor dispatches a message to the Constable, no doubt such would soon bring him to the scene and end or prevent such unsightly scenes as I have referred to on September 11th and 17th. By taking the intoxicated person to a place of safety he would be protected from receiving abuse and prevented from doing harm to others either by tongue or hand, and not only in the case of the unfortunate, but in the case of persons who will not control their tongues in using the most dreadful expressions though they are perfectly sober.

The other thing which I should like to mention as to the moral welbeing of the children and young boys and girls is, that such a society could petition our Town Council, to set a suitable evening hour to have such children from the street. Many children and young boys and girls are seen in the streets when they should be, if not at rest, at least in doors. We all know that the greatest amount of evil may be seen or heard in the latter part of the evening, when the drunkard has to seek his way home, and yet even at such late hours boys and girls of tender years are found in the streets. Now if this matter were brought, by a respectable committee, before our Town Council and as we have a Public School bell, and a Constable, whose name little boys and girls fear, we may do something which may lead to good results, I am

A YOUNG GIRL'S TRIALS.

HER PARENTS HAD ALMOST GIVEN UP HOPE OF HER RECOVERY.

Pale and Emaciated, Subject to Severe Headache, She Was Thought to be Going Into a Decline—Now the Picture of Health and Beauty.

From the Richibucto, N. B., Review.

There are very few people, especially among the agriculturists of Kent County N. B., who do not know Mr. H. H. Warman, the popular agent for agricultural machinery, of Molus River. A Review representative was in conversation with Mr. Warman recently, when the subject of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was incidently touched upon. Mr. Warman said he was a staunch believer in their curative properties, and to justify his opinion he related the cure of his sister Miss Jessie Warman, aged 15, who he said had been "almost wrested from the grave by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." Miss Warman had been suffering far nearly a year with troubles incident to girlhood. She suffered from severe and almost constant headaches dizziness, heart palpitation, and was pale and bloodless, and eventually became so weak and emaciated that her parents thought that she was in consumption, and had all but given up hope of her recovery. Her father, Mr. Richard Warman, who is a well-to-do farmer, spared no expense to procure relief for the poor sufferer. The best available medical advice was employed, but no relief came and although the parents were almost in despair, they still strove to find the means of restoring their loved one to health. Mr. Warman, like everybody else who reads the newspapers, had read of the many marvelous cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but like some others, looked upon these stories as "mere patent medicine advertisements." However, as everything else had failed he determined that Pink Pills should be given a trial, with a result no less marvelous than that of many other cases related through the press. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have completely cured the young lady, so that in a few months, from a helpless and supposedly dying girl she has become a picture of healthy activity. The Warman family is so well known in this part of the country that no one would think of disputing any statement made by any of its members. Mr. H. H. Warman, on account of his business as a salesman for agricultural machinery, is personally acquainted with nearly everybody in the county, and we feel assured that any enquiries made of him concerning the statements made above will be readily answered.

The gratifying results following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in the case of Miss Warman, prove that they are unequalled as a blood builder and nerve tonic. In the case of young girls who are pale or sallow, listless, troubled with a fluttering or palpitation of the heart, weak and easily tired, no time should be lost in taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which will speedily enrich the blood and bring a rosy glow of health to the cheeks. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company at either address.

A HAPPY WEDDING.—The Brantford Courier of date Sept. 18th, has the following notice of the marriage of the son of our townsman, Mr. Jno. Firth:—

"A happy event took place this afternoon in Eagle Place, when the marriage was solemnized of Miss Addie E. Reid, only daughter of Mr. F. Reid, to Mr. J. R. Firth, both of this city. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's father, 41 Port Street, by the Rev. P. Hutchison, pastor of the Park Baptist Church."

"The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe, trimmed with lace and ribbons. She was supported by Miss Lillian Houlding as bridesmaid, who wore blue nun's veiling. Mr. Clark Misner acted as best man."

"After the ceremony was concluded, a tasty dejeuner was served. The young couple leave on the 5.40 train for points west on a honeymoon, returning they will take up their residence at 30 Port street. The good wishes of a host of friends, in which the Courier joins, will accompany them."

"Both the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city. Mr. Firth is proprietor of the Brantford Brush Factory, and is also a prominent member of the Park Baptist church and a singer in the choir. Miss Reid is also a member of the choir and organist for many years in Mr. Tapscott's bible class."

"A large number of handsome presents including one from the members of the choir, and also from Mr. Tapscott's bible class go to show the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Firth are held."

The invited guests were numerous and came from New Westminster, Winnipeg, Buffalo, Toronto, and many other places. Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Firth, and Mr. Wm. Firth, all of Durham, were among the number. The REVIEW adds its congratulations.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—South American Rheumatism Cure, for Rheumatism and Neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable mysterious.
