The Grey Review.

Durham, Thursday, Feb. 6, 1896.

—Sir Chas. Tupper has been elected in Cape Breton by about the old majority, notwithstanding all the prestige of his name. The figure we hear is 800.

—The Budget has been laid before the House of Commons. It does not differ in any very important particulars from its predecessors, being simply a record of increased expenditures and accumulated deficits—the deficit now being over four million dollars. Still, although the Finance minister could not promise any decrease of the public debt, he took courage to say that the outlook for trade was improving, and that consequently an increase of revenue might be expected. How he came to this conclusion one fails to see. There was one item in the speech which deserves to be made mention of. In the matter of agricultural exports, including butter and cheese there has been a decided increase, from $37,000,000 in 1890 to $50,000,000 in 1895, and this, be it observed, without the aid of a protective tariff but in spite of the burdens it imposes upon the farmers. There has also been the small increase of $663,000 in the export of agricultural implements. But curiously, and here is an apt illustration of the gross injustice of a protective tariff, while the farmers are burdened with oppressive exactions on all hands in carring on their business, the manufacturers of agricultural implements are not only protected by having customs duties to prevent foreign competition, but a large rebate is given the manufacturer on every machine he exports, and in this way, these manufacturers can sell their machines in Argentina and Australia at a cheaper rate than they do to the Canadian farmer at home and at his expense into the bargain. Could anything be more monstrous in the way of tariff manipualtion than this? Still, the long suffering Canadian farmer has borne with this and many other ills at the hands of his legislators for many a long day.

THE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE.

At the Conservative Convention held at Durham on Monday last our fellow-townsman Dr. Jamieson was chosen as the Candidate of the Conservative Party of the South Riding of Grey at the ensuing general election for the House of Commons. We have to congratulate Dr. Jamieson on the honor thus conferred upon him, although at same time, we cannot congratulate him on forsaking the quiet shades of the healing art for the stormy sea of a political contest and against overpowering odds. Dr. Landerkin, the Liberal Candidate has represented the Riding in Parliament for nearly a quarter of a century. He enjoys the entire confidence of the Liberal Party, and is held in the highest esteem by many of those who are opposed to him in politics. He has been throughout his long political career a most consistent and painstaking and useful public servant, and has missed no opportunity in doing his utmost to stem the tide of corruption and extravagance ruling at Ottawa, to place the industries and resources of the country on a healthier basis, and so lighten the burdens of the great body of consumers, while at the same time, he has never neglected the particular and personal interests of his constituents. On the other hand Dr. Jamieson, although entering into the campaign with a clean slate, cannot avoid identifying himself with the party in power. He will appear on the stump as the friend of Montague as the sympathizer of Tupper, the apologist of Foster, the supporter of Caron and Haggart, as the friend of the monopolists and as the condoner of all the "political atrocities" which have blackened the parliamentary record of the conservative Party during the last fifteen years. He will scarcely attempt this impossible task and will probably strike out on a new and Independent line, combining in his policy all the good points in the old-time parties, for as Ian Maclaren has said, "there is no political party that can honestly lay claim to a monopoly of all the virtues." But then there is the Patron Candidate to be reckoned with and he claims to have all the points on his side of the fence. Though a straight Conservative, in the past, his eyes have been opened and he has now cut himself adrift from the party of corruption and monopoly, and has identified himself in principle at least with the Liberal Party. He has a powerful contingent behind him and has averred over and over again that he will see the last vote polled In these circumstances we may fairly come to the conclusion that the issue is not doubtful and that the electors of South Grey will remain true to their old love and will again place Dr. Landerkin at the head of the poll by a larger majority than he has had on any previous occasion.

THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

Last Monday the Conservative yeomanry of the riding and a goodly number from both the the other political camps gave the town a more stirring appearance than usual.

Montague was to be there, the Minister of Agriculture, the most effective platform orator amongst the Tories! but as fate would have it, those who expected to meet him were again disappointed, the hon. gentleman being ill.

However two other shining lights were on hand, one old townsman, Mr. H. Spence, who has a comfortable presence, a fine voice, words galore, and a record.

Was it this gentlemen who for a time worked up to be sessional clerk in the Ontario Legislature? Who decided that Oliver Mowat's crib was not lucrative enough for his surpassing abilities? Who declared that in future he would work for Hermon Spence?

He is doing so with great versatility. The opponent of the conservative in N. Bruce, he whooped it up for the conservative McGillivray in N. Ontario and a few weeks ago we believe held forth for the Patron in West Wellington. To-day he is the supporter of the conservative candidate in our own riding, to-morrow he may be on an anti temperance crusade or denouncing the group of incapables at Ottawa. Who knows! Anyway the laborer is worthy of his hire, and no doubt he gets it.

The other gentlemen Mr. Campbell is also a voluble speaker, can say a lot in a little time. His speech is well prepared and has no doubt done duty on many occasions, many old and exploded charges were resurrected, but for anything on the current topics of the day, his audience had to look elsewhere.

When a great party of South Grey has to depend on two professional [illegible] to blow the horn at a nom [illegible] convention, there can be no [illegible] signs of the times and [illegible] to doubt.

We have in another place paid the candidate our compliments. Suffice it here to say that Dr. Jamieson was the unanimous choice to lead the party as a forlorn hope, and we have no doubt he will be as successful as he was last time. He did not enter on a discussion of public affairs during the afternoon contenting himself by saying that he intended to make a square fight to a finish, by honorable methods, and was certain of the result.

Had an enemy been threatening our coasts, a great part of the two speeches would have been appropriate. We are all loyal, we all rejoice in being Britons, we all believe we have a glorious country, we all believe our country has boundless resources and possibilities but we don't all believe a Conservative Convention is just the place to tell it in, with a sidelong effort to load their opponents with an opposite view.

No, no, the old flag will not do as a partizan cry, the old man Tupper will not charm, and the old policy stands discredited before the country.

We are told McKenzie added 60 millions to the debt, we are not told that the addition was made to fulfil obligations entered into by his story predecessors.

We are told how firm has been the belief in the N. P. and in the same breath are informed a posse of Conservative politicians actually went to Washington for a reciprocity arrangement.

We will return to some of their arguments in future issues.

Some of the representative men seen were as follows; Messrs Wm. Meyer and Weinert Bros, from Neustadt: Ayton sent Messrs Ringel, Snell, Miller Bros., L. Werner. Markdale, McFarland, Brown, Turner. Flesherton: Sproule, Richardson, Belamy Priceville: McArthur, Rielly, James. Holstein: Petrie. It was certainly a representative gathering.

Many Patrons, formerly conservatives were in town, but, beyond a common public interest, were not identified with the convention.

Mr. Robt. Birmingham, the Conservative organizer and manager of the purse was on the ground.

Markdale, Flesherton, Priceville indeed all the villages sent large contingents Hanover Conservatives were out in force and the sleigh that brought them all was nearly crowded.

THE RESOURCES OF ONTARIO AND THEIR RECENT INCREASE.

Of the twelve million acres cleared in 1893, two-thirds were given to field crops, one-sixth to pasture and the remaining one-sixth to fallow land, building sites &c.

The following table shows the relative value of the principal field-crops, grown in Ontario in 1893.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS 1893.

Field Crops.	Value of Crop in 1893.	Average Value for 12 years 1882-1893.
Fall Wheat	$10,509,604	$12,625,553
Spring "	2,486,521	7,308,873
Barley	3,932,241	9,589,370
Oats	19,450,064	20,797,539
Peas	7,651,236	8,494,830
Potatoes	5,098,929	8,004,637
All other Crops	14,835,005	11,841,402
Hay & Clover	37,921,575	32,895,152
Total (about)	101,886,175	114,506,846

By comparing the figures for 1893, with the averages for the previous twelve years, we find that the greatest falling off occurs in the case of Spring Wheat; but Fall Wheat, barley, rye, peas, potatoes, (mangel wurzels) and (carrots), also show a decline, and this decrease, along with the increased acreage given to fodder corn, hay and clover, is suggestive of the importance of the influence the dairy movement is exercising on farm practice.

There is now 22.1 percent of the cleared land of the province in pasture.

COMPARISON WITH U. S. CROPS.

In comparing the average yield per acre of the cereals of Ontario with those of the principal grain growing States of the Union for 1893, we see that this Province can show a very creditable account.

State.	Fall Wheat.	Barley.	Oats.
Ontario	19.2	21.0	30.0
New York	14.5	20.2	24.0
Pennsylvania	14.0		26.8
Michigan	13.2		26.0
California	13.3	22.5
Wisconsin		24.0	27.6

Leaving the department of field crops, we pass on to the Live Stock industry, the extent of which is shown by the following table, showing the number in:

Year.	Horses.	Cattle.	Sheep.	Swine.
1881	590,298	1,762,167	1,359,173	700,922
1891	761,261	1,895,774	993,745	1,112,247

Here we notice an increase in Horses, Cattle and Swine, but a decline in the numbers of Sheep: which, however, was evidently only temporary for the report for 1894 gives 2,014,805 sheep as compared with 1,935,958 in 1893.

The value of the sheep in 1892 was $8,569,557 and the value of the wool clip for the same year was $5,643,706 which increased in 1894 to $6,235,056.

The wonderful success achieved by Ontario for sheep at the World's Fair, shows conclusively that not only have we quantity but quality besides.

The increase of late years, in the case of horses has been for working horses, the other classes showing a gradual decline.

Oxen have declined in numbers, while Milch cows and other classes of horned cattle have increased; the value of the horned cattle in 1892 being $45,548,475.

There were exported from the Dominion in 1893:

13,219	Horses, valued at	$1,461,157
167,224	Cattle, " "	7,745,683
366,500	Sheep, " "	1,247,800

while there were comparatively speaking none imported.

An immense amount of money is invested in fowls in Ontario, yet there seems to be a lack of knowledgedge regarding general management.

The total value of poultry sold in 1893 was $800,000 while there were in stock over $2,000,000 worth.

HISTORY OF GLENELG TOWNSHIP.

By Priceville Correspondent.

It was my intention for some time to make a commencement at giving, or attempting to give, a short history of the Township of Glenelg from its early days.

I shall endeavor to go back as far as my memory serves me and gather as much information from my seniorities as possible beyond that period. I intend to deal chiefly at this my first undertaking, with the names of the chief officers of the township as far as I can.

Commencing at the year 1850 although I believe that the first settlers in Glenelg landed therein as far back as 1845. Among the first of these was the late Arch. Hunter, of Durham, who located in that town just 50 years ago. It is a matter of imagination, more than anything else to the young men of to-day to realize that those pioneers who volunteered to leave their native land had to do so under very inconvenient circumstances and face hardships in the new country entirely unknown now.

Among the first reeves in Glenelg as we are informed was the late A. B. McNab, who was reeve in the year 1850 and the late John Swinburne Township clerk.

The affairs of the township were not done in such a business like manner as they are done to-day. In the early times the voting was done at one polling place and that was in Durham. The voter had to walk or get there as he pleased for there was no conveyance of any kind unless he would take "Buck" and the "Jumper," but by this way a lot of "gee hawing" had to be done, however as they were all jolly good fellows in those days and to assist their jollification they were provided, as the case might be, with something stronger than Adam's ale, for potatoes were only a shilling a bushel and whiskey the same.

Mr. James McGirr defeated Mr. McNab in 1852 and was reeve till 1856 when he was defeated by Mr. Chaffey, then of Glen readen. The clerkship was awarded to Mr. James Brown, who served so faithfully for over 20 years. In the year 1857 the late John Black was elected reeve, brother to Neil Black, of Pomona, and cousin to our worthy Tp. clerk, J. S. Black In this year, 1858, the council consisted of five Highland Scotchmen viz: John Black, reeve; Neil McCannel, John Butters, Arch. Black and some other good highlander whose name is forgotten to us. All are deceased. Mr. Butters died in August of 1858 he served also as township collector in 1857. He was a man that was highly esteemed by all who formed his acquaintance. Mr. John Black, died about the year 1860. He was a man that was well educated and well versed in the rules and laws of our county. Mr. Arch. Black died in the year 1880 and served many years in municipal honors in Glenelg, being among the first councilmen elected he, like many of his countrymen, was good natured and did not believe in being too severe in making the poor man come up to the mark. Mr. Black was the best writer in Glenelg in his day. Mr. Neil McCannel died in the fall of 1884. He, like Mr. Black, was also a man who served Glenelg from its infancy, being council or and dep. reeve for years, also assessor. He was a man that often put himself to great inconvenience for the sake of assisting the poor man out of his distresses.

Mr. James Edge was elected Reeve in 1859 and served in that capacity for 14 years. Mr. Edge was elected year after year by acclamination and was warden of the county of Grey in the year 1878, being his last year as reeve. He served as collector as far back as 1851 when he had to travel under uncomfortable circumstances caused by obstacles that to-day are unseen. We heard Mr. Edge relating that he travelled often without anybody offering him a morsel of food for a whole day. Coming across a sturdy Englishman, who was just after pitching his tent among a cluster of trees, and who, by the way, was just doing justice to a large piece of beef steke and a loaf of bread Mr. Edge thought now that surely he had an opportunity of satisfying his appetite which by this time was as sharp as a two edged sword, but to his chagrin Mr. "Selfish" never asked if he was in the habit of eating anything, consequently he had to do without it, although, as he said, he was almost ready to jump at the food, but seeing the "old gentleman" doing so well alone, he concluded to leave him alone also getting to his own home in time for supper, fasting for a day and a night. What a contrast in Glenelg now a-days! It would be safe to say that a man would not be allowed to travel longer than meal time without being asked "Had you any dinner or supper?" as the case might be. Mr Edge is Treasurer of Glenelg for 26 years. Receiving the office in 1875, an office which he has devoted his time to with much care and accuracy during his official capacity.

The late Archibald Hunter served as Treasurer for about 20 years also, being possessed abundantly with private funds Mr. Hunter always took pride in keeping the township in good standing till such time as the township Collector completed his returns. He served till 1875 when Mr. Edge received the appointment. Mr. Hunter served in many other respects in Glenelg in the earlier period. He died in the year 1880 at a good old age. Thus ended the life of one of the old pioneers of Glenelg. Mr. John McCormick served as township Collector for about 20 years He was a man that took great interest in giving a faithful account of his steward ship and attention to the duties appertaining to the responsible office entrusted to him. He died about the year 1870.

The late Wm. Morrison served for many years in the capacity of Deputy Reeve, Councillor and assessor, being also among the first settlers on the 2nd Con, east Garafraxa Road. Being possessed with foresight he soon made himself and family in comfortable circumstances, He died in the summer of 1895. In the year 1865 the first Dep. Reeve was elected in the person of Mr. John A. Lamprey who served until defeated by the late J. H. Hunter in 1872. Mr. Lamprey removed to the city of Guelph in the spring of 1874 where he has served for a number of years as chairman in the city and is now occupying the Mayor's chair.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

A VICTORIA COUNTY (ONT.), PEDLAR BEFORE THE COURTS.

Detected in Selling a Pink Colored Pill, Which He Represented to Be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—The Court Grants a Perpetual Injunction Restraining Him From Offering an Imitation of This Great Medicine—Some Facts the Public Will Do Well to Bear in Mind.

In the High Court of Justic yesterday morning, before Mr. Justice Meredith, the case of Fulford v. McGahey was heard. It consisted of a motion for an injunction to restrain Fred McGahey from selling a pill which he claimed to be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Mr. Douglas E. Armor appeared for the plaintiffs and stated that the defendant had been peddling these goods about Victoria Co., claiming them to be Dr. Williams' genuine Pink Pills. It was impossible, however, on the face of it, that they could be genuine, as he sold them greatly below what they cost at wholesale price. The defendant had given consent. Mr. Armour said, that the motion should be changed to one for judgment against him. No defence was offered, and his Lordship gave an order for judgement restraining Mr. McGahey from continuing to vent the article as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

The above paragraph, taken from the legal columns of the Toronto Globe of the 15th ult., contains a warning which every person in Canada in need of a medicine will do well to heed, and, shows the care and pains the Dr. Williams Medicine Company takes to protect the public from imposition, and to preserve the reputation of their famous Pink Pills.

It is only a medicine that possesses more than usual merit that is worth imitation. Ordinary medicines are not subject to that kind of treatment, as there is not sufficient demand for such medicine to make it worth while.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have achieved a reputation for sterling merit unparalleled in the history of medical science. In every part of the Dominion the remarkable cures wrought by the use of this great medicine have given it a name and a fame which has made the sale of Pink Pills simply wonderful.

It is because this great merit, and the consequent enormous demand for the medicine, that it is being imitated by unscrupulous persons in various parts of the country. The imitation is cheap usually worthless, and is only pushed because the imitator can make much more money by its sale than he can by the sale of the genuine Pink Pills. Hence the pains he takes to sell the imitation.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company annually spends thousands of dollars endeavoring to impress upon the public that the genuine Pink Pills can only be purchased in one form—namely in packages enclosed in a wrapper (or label), which bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." No one can buy them in any other form, not even if they offered many times their weight in gold for them. And yet in the face of these continuous warnings there are people confiding enough to
