THE LIBERAL LEADER.

HON. WILFRER LAURIER'S HISTORY AND ACHIEVEMENTS.

Born For Public Life—A Record Unsullied—An Orator who Appeals to the Heart—The Idol of his Followers.

Tons of campaign literature have been carted away from the House of Commons during the past two months and as the farmer scatters his seed over the soil, so has the literature been scattered to the four corners of the Dominion. In mining camps and farm firesides on the sunny shore of the Pacific, in British Columbia, as well as along the spray-moistened coast of the Atlantic, in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, will be found to-day large quantities of campaign literature.

Will it be read? Will it have any real effect in helping the voters to decide how they will mark their ballots? We have examined most of the literature of both parties, and we doubt the effect.

I tried to tell the Liberals—the parliamentary leaders—that they had the idol, whose life from the cradle, if well written, would be read with avidity—with deep and thrilling interest, by the whole people. An illustrated life of Wilfred Laurier would convince Protestant Canadians that neither his French blood, or the faith of his fathers should deny him their confidence, and the place he merits in the councils of his country.

Man creeps into childhood, bounds into youth, sobers into manhond, and softens into age.

Disraeli was a Jew, but Englishmen honored him because he was a States man.

The following brief sketch taken from the "United Canadian" of Quebec's most gifted son. will give the readers of the "Review' an idea of Hon Wilfred Laurier's public and private life. Let us add that, in our opinion, no man who has conspicuously appeared in public life since confederation, has been so persistently and ingeniously misrepresented—often by his own people and often by their enemies—as has been the subject of this sketch:

The leader of Her Majesty's loyal opposition in the Federal parliament may without a misgiving commit the task of penning the story of his life to any hands. The most candid Boswell would, I think, fail to discover in it what was not creditable to the subject and even to humanity itself. This biographer would find a life of singular purity and high purpose both as a private citizen and as a public man. Search as he might he would fail to discover an act that could by any standard that might be applied to it be deemed unworthy. Mendacious malignity would find him clothed in an armour that no fairly sped shaft could pierce. This may sound like the language of a hyperbole, but I write these lines in my calmest and most judicial mood and after considerable opportunity of studying the man and his history.

PRESS COMMENTS ON THE ELECTION.

Confed., Mt. Forest:—"Most hotly contested election in years. Glad to see S. Grey return her old and tried representative Dr. Landerkin and N. Wellington, Mr. McMullen.

News Record, Fergus:—The result is gratifying to every patriotic Canadian.

Sun, Orangeville:—We'll get there next time.

Mercury, Guelph:—The Conservative leaders do not poke fun at Torres Vedras now. Their Waterloo has come.

Telescope, Walkerton:—Canada has pulled itself together and in an unmistakeable tone declared for a change.

Expositor, Brantford:—Tupper is in dishabille to-day. He lost his Dickey yesterday.

Globe:—Clarke Wallace is a real patriot. He caused his opponents to contribute $200 each to the Dominion treasury.

Standard, Markdale:—The Tupper dynasty has fallen, and very many Conservatives are not sorry.

Free Press, Shelburne:—The election was rather disastrous for the Conservative party.

Star, Toronto:—The thing is done and thorougly. . . The result is not a victory of one party over another, but the triumph of the people over bosses political and spiritual. . . The pronoun "I" has been obliterated, "we" restored to favor.

Chronicle, Durham:—So Canada is to have a French Premier! How the gods will rejoice.

Banner, Chatsworth:—Conservatives write North Grey like this—N. G.

Star, O. S:—We say. Welcome Laurier * * * A trillion thanks to independent Conservatives, the SALT of the Maple Leaf, sound patriots that they are * * * Tupperism is dead, God be praised.

Advance. Ayton:—The electors of Canada were a long time studying their lesson, but they knew it well yesterday.

Templar, Hamilton:—The Alliance Humbug was also finally exploded in this campaign. Not a single Alliance man came to say a word for the prohibition candidates (and again) now down with the Commons Bar.

Mirror, Meaford: We are surprised and humiliated at the result (again) East Grey done (!) nobly for Dr. Sproule.

Herald, Walkerton:—Every rose has its thorn. Amid rejoicings over local victory all is not well with Sir Chas. Tupper's government.

World, Toronto:—The Conservatives are better out of office than being a party to the coercion of a free province in the matter of education.

Reporter, Palmerston:—McMullen has a cinch on North Wellington * * * * Is there anything else the Grits would like?

Rep., Mt. Forest:—"Licked again," is the report the Conservatives have to give of the local contest

Post, Hanover:—A greater compliment could scarcely be paid a man Dr. Landerkin received at the hands of the people of Hanover. Just think of it, 200 of a majority in his old home. It is the lot of few men to wear so well.

REPRESENTATION OF S. GREY SINCE CONFEDERATION.

Dr. Landerkin, having for the sixth time been elected representative for this county, it is interesting to look back and see the record of the contests in which our now veteran representative has been engaged. Only once did he fall. Such a long career as a public servant is entitled to public recognition, as there are few or none in the parliament elect with such a record.

In 1867, Geo. Jackson, Con., elected by 13 majority. Opponent R. Dalglish.

In 1872, Dr. Landerkin, Liberal, elected by 173 majority. Opponent Geo. Jackson.

In 1874, Dr. Landerkin, Liberal, elected by 385 majority. Opponent Stephen Preble.

In 1878, Geo. Jackson, Con., elected by 81 Majority. Opponent Dr. Landerkin.

In 1882 Dr. Landerkin, Liberal, elected by 76 majority. Opponent Geo. Jackson.

In 1887, Dr Landerkin elected by 97 majority. Opponent Dr. Jamieson.

1891, Dr. Landerkin elected by 46 majority. Opponent, John Blyth. [The majority this year was really 54, as Dr. Landerkin gained 8 on the recount, but the stuffing of the ballot boxes left him only 3 majority, which figure is sometimes given.]

In 1896, Dr. Landerkin elected by a majoriy of 66 over Jamieson, Con. and 625 over Wm. Allan, Patron.

HONOR TO DR. LANDERKIN.—A grand demonstration was held in Hanover last Wednesday in honor of Dr. Landerkin, the old war horse of South Grey. When the returns were coming in on Tuesday night, a report gained currency, that the doctor had been defeated. That such news should cause the Liberals to feel a little blue would not be surprising, but this feeling of regret was not confined to the Liberals by any means. Expressions of regret were to be heard on all sides, both from Conservatives and Patrons, and when a little later the first report was found to be untrue, and the Dr. had again been successful there was a noticable feeling of relief. Next day word was received from Hanover that the people from the Durham side of the riding were coming over to Hanover to celebrate the victory, and at once the idea was suggested here, that we should go over and take a hand in it. One o'clock was the hour fixed for the procession to start, and everybody was on time. Leading the procession was the 32nd Battalion band. The Truax factory was well represented, as was also the whole town. Arriving at Hanover, the place was found to be literally alive with people and everybody seemed to be in right good humor. As the doctor drove the streets, the people waved their hats, flung them into the air, and cheered themselves hoarse. In addition to the Walkerton band, the Hanover, Allan Park, Neustadt and Durham bands were also on deck, and for the space of an hour or more, one would think Hanover was holding a grand band tournament. Finally the crowd, which must have numbered a couple of thousand at least, gathered in front of the doctor's handsome residence, and here for the remainder of the afternoon, speeches, congratulatory of Laurier's grand victory were the order of the day. Dr. Taylor was appointed chairman, when speeches some brief some of greater length were made by the following gentleman in the order named: R. E. Truax, M. P. P.; Mr. H. P. O'Connor; Mr. A. W. Robb; Mr. R. B. Clement; Mr. D. Knechtel; Mr. M. Jaklin; Mr. G. McKechnie; Dr. Mearns; Mr. H. H. Miller; Dr. Taylor and Dr. Landerkin himself. It was well on to six o'clock before the crowd showed any signs of breaking up. It was a great event, and must have been very gratifying to the old warrior after his hard fought but successful battle.—Telescope.

PASSED AWAY.—Miss Lucy Lindsey, whose death has daily been expected for the past few weeks, passed peacefully away on last Saturday evening. The funeral occurred at the M. E. Church on Monday afternoon and was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends and neighbors. Dr. Tredgold, by previous request of the departed, preached the funeral sermon, delivering an excellent discouse. Lucy Lindsey was born at Grey County, Ont., in the year 1875 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindsey, coming to Luther with her parents in 1882 she lived until the time of her death. She joined the Methodist church at Luther in Feb. 1897 during the pastorate of Rev. J. C. Beach. Her health was never good. She had been subjected to frequent attacks of sickness. She was taken sick the last time late in the winter and after a protracted illness of about twelve weeks, which she bore with remarkable patience and resignation, she passed to the rest beyond, Saturday, May 3rd at 11 p. m. Many times during her illness she expressed herself as ready to depart and be with the Lord. There was no murmur or complaint, only a quiet waiting for the messenger. Her only regret seemed to be that she must leave her loved ones and friends whom she had won by her kind disposition, cheerful manner and Christian character. A mother, three brothers, three sisters and many friends survive to mourn her loss.

[The above sketch of a lady at one time well known in Bentinck, and still having many friends there, is from the Luther Observer, Michigan.]

LINES on the Death of Lucy Lindsey.

Another of our friends has gone
Where all must go at last.
Her sufferings are forever o'er,
And all her cares are past;
Death marked her for his own
Nor let her long with us remain,
He took her pure and useful life—
The life without a stain.

Her Brothers' joy her sisters' pride,
Her mothers' stay was she;
And to her friends she was all that
True friends o'er should be.
And sacred friendship was with her
No hollow sounding name,
For if her friends were true to her,
She was to them the same.

Her brothers, sisters, mother, friends,
Their common loss deplore,
But hope to meet their cherished one
"On Canaan's happy shore."
I little thought when last I saw
Her move 'mid kindred forms
That o'er her grave so very soon
Would sway the breeze at morn.

And soon the fleeting years
Will bring that time unto us all,
When we shall also lifeless lie
Beneath the sable pall;
But if we have such blessed hopes
As she had, whom we mourn,
We then can with untroubled minds
Approach death's mystic bourne.

VIAVI.

Victorious Over Prejudice.

No Morphia or Other Harmful Drugs.

The proprietors of this remedy have been subjected to much trouble and expense at the hands of the MedicalCouncil.

Their lecturers who are chosen for their womanly qualities and refinement, have been dragged into the police courts upon the charge that they are engaged in the practice of medicine, contrary to the Medical Act. All these proceedings have properly failed, for it has been openly stated by the chief informer of the Council that the proceedings were taken to drive the proprietors out of business.

Failing in this line, another method of attack was chosen and a wanton information was laid at the instance of the chief informer that the remedy contained morphia. Five of the leading analytical chemists in the Dominion of Canada, one of them employed at the instance of Police Magistrate Denison as an independent expert, testify that morphia is not found in the remedy.

The charge is false, and has been proved to be false.

VIAVI has asserted its power against prejudice and professional jealousy. Its proprietors wage no war against medical men. VIAVI has a work of its own to perform outside the work of the physician It is a remedy which is prescribed by physicians, who have studied and understand its qualities.

Its Tuesday afternoon lectures have been attended by thousands of the leading women in Toronto, who testify that delicacy and good sense mark the instruction given by the lecturers.

VIAVI is an absolutely pure vegetable food, and assists nature perform her duties by feeding the weakened tissues, removing inflammation and purifying the blood. Women need not suffer on, when they are positively assured that all forms of growths, displacements congestions, inflammation and nerve disorders are being cured every day. VIAVI cures all these disorders, and often has to do it after some physicians has made a wreck of the patient. VIAVI is doing more for the health of the women of Ontario than all other means combined. This statement is proved by testimonials in black and white.
