Fred Dewey's sale in Markham last week was a great success. The weather was favorable for a big crowd, and they came for many miles. Although the sale was not a large one of stock, there being only eight cows in the cattle line, the total proceeds amounted to $2942, with a good percentage of cash, in lieu of notes. $132 was paid for a binder 13 years old, which shows that it pays for farmers to give their implements every care, when they will retain their cost price very well.

Barrie is another of the towns to decide to have their municipal elections the fore part of December instead of the end. This is a move in the right direction and we would like to see the town council here take the matter up. At the present time the nominations are held the end of December when every one is busy with the Christmas rush and many men who might otherwise consider municipal honors feel they have not time.
