Isn't it surprising to see through the country quite a number of fields of grain not taken in or stacked as a protection against the weather. One of the finest fall seasons on record is coming to a close, and there were so many fine days that farmers who were getting along with the smallest amount of help, were able to get the harvest in under ideal conditions.

A west end citizen, called at the office of this paper the other day to lodge a protest against the bad condition of some sidewalks. It appears that on Saturday evening a lady fell on the street as a result of a badly heaved block of cement, and sustained a bruised side and black eye. Naturally hubby was annoyed, and said so in no uncertain words. We are informed that some walks are to be repaired this fall, but the season is getting on.

The local resident who was given a 60 day jail term for bootlegging was unjustly charged in this paper last week as having been dealing in moonshine. The offender admitted trafficing in vendor's goods, but denies that he ever made any of the foamy suds indicated by the name of moonshine. As requested, we therefore make this correction, as the law, it appears, views the offence of dealing in moonshine, far more serious than an illicit dealer in vendor's goods.

The singing competitions at the School Fair this year, were conducted in a different manner from that of other years. The various rooms in the Stouffville school competed against each other, while the rural school sections were all in another class. Principal Cedric Watson's room captured first prize, with Miss Vira Tindall's pupils coming second, and Miss Ross' class third. In the rural competition Gormley school tutored by the teacher Mr. L. L. Nichols was first, and Ringwood school under Mr. Everton Smith second. This school also won the Eaton silver trophy for points. The judges were Mr. Robt. Leslie and Miss Anne Lehman.

The town of Newmarket, with quite a substantial fund raised toward the building of a swimming pool, is still in a quandary as to how to go about the job. As a similar pool is needed here in Stouffville, and has been strongly advocated by many citizens, the movement in the neighboring town will be of local interest. Mayor J. S. Boyd of Newmarket suggests that it might be practicable to dam the Bogarttown creek to make a swimming pool. It could be accomplished at low cost, and is clear spring water according to Dr. Boyd. A similar proposal has been made in Stouffville namely that it would be practicable to create a pool in the park grounds, feeding it from the stream of water running through the park, or by a pipe line from the domestic water supply. By making use of the domestic supply a pure and safe water would be assured, and would not in any way tax the demand for house use, it is believed. The Park Commission have already visited many outside places where pools have been installed, and it is hoped they will be able to formulate a plan that will enable work to be done early next spring, after a scheme to provide a means of financing the undertaking is worked out.

Members and prospective members of the Stouffville Horticultural Society are requested to bear in mind that a regular open meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. Doten at 8 p.m. on Monday evening, Sept. 23rd. Among the many contestants for the Robert Simpson Co's prize for the best essay on the King's Jubilee year is Lloyd G. Stevenson of London who won $100 cash. This is not the first prize he has won along this line as he received $50 cash for an essay on Australia for the province. Lloyd has several gold and silver medals for writings he has done. He has just passed his 17th birthday and is a nephew of Mrs. Alf. Hoover, Church street, Stouffville.

Three young lady clerks who went to Hall's Lake for a camp just recently wondered why everybody seemed to stare at them so as they motored north on a delightful holiday. Even the older men seemed as brazen as the youth, who might have had some excuse in their admiration for beauty. Not until they reached the camp grounds was the cause of their extraordinary attractiveness revealed. Some joker on Main street here had fastened a liberal sized sign on their car reading "Three men Wanted at Once."

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS.

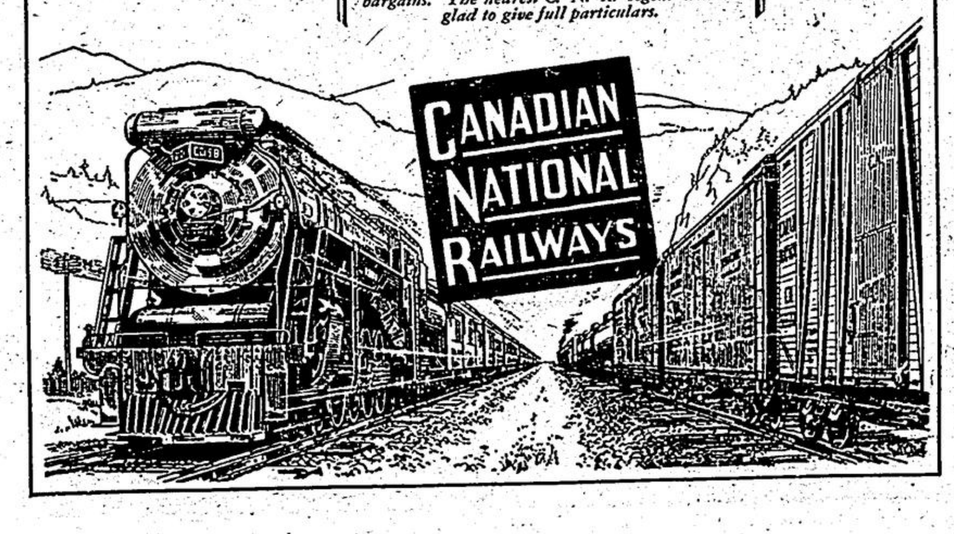
A Great Agency of Public Service.

The C. N. R. is one of the world's greatest transportation systems. Its length of track alone entitles it to that distinction, but its chief claim rests upon the nature and extent of the services it renders. While entering practically every important centre in Canada it also serves widely diversified and distant areas, and in very many instances is the sole agency providing railway facilities.

The C. N. R. is a large direct employer of labour, and indirectly, by virtue of the nature of its freight and other services, also enters importantly and indispensably into the commercial and industrial activities of the Dominion . . . creating new wealth . . . distributing raw and manufactured goods . . . enabling more employment and wages to be provided.

Notwithstanding the sparsely populated condition of much of the territory from which the C. N. R. obtains its freights of grains, minerals, forest products, etc., its charges for haulage are very low . . . Canadian railway freight rates are probably the lowest in the world. On an average the C. N. R. receives less than one cent for hauling a ton of freight one mile.

Of every dollar of revenue received the C. N. R. pays more than one half to its employees as wages, and it purchases every year many millions of dollars worth of Canadian made or produced materials. The C. N. R. also pays in the course of a year over six million dollars in various taxes.

These facts, although thus briefly stated, are of tremendous importance to Canada and Canadians. They are here presented in the hope that greater patronage will follow a wider appreciation of the part this great railway system is performing in the commerce and development of the Dominion . . . and of its vast potentialities for future service. Standing as we are at the beginning of an upward swing in business generally, renewed and enlarged opportunities to use transportation facilities present themselves. The C. N. R. is ready and anxious to serve . . . efficiently and economically. Its departments embrace passenger and freight transportation, express, telegraphs, steamships and hotels.


During the present season the C. N. R. is providing special fares and excursions between points throughout Canada. These are exceptional travel bargains. The nearest C. N. R. Agent will be glad to give full particulars.
